CHAMPIONSHIP EDITION OF THE YEARBOOK
OF NEWCASTLE, INDIANA HIGH SCHOOL

ROSENNIAL

FOREWORD

High school days have passed before us in such a bewildering parade of events that we shall find it difficult to remember them in detail. We wish, however, to be able to remember in succeeding years the most thrilling, the most beautiful, and the most important times of our four years spent in school here.

So within the pages of this small book we have tucked away precious bits of our life here: pictures and stories of the gaiety, the gallantry, and the learning which has been ours.

We have strived to make this a book which will interest all of our friends; a book which they can hug to their hearts in poignant remembrance.

MARY DAVIS, Editor-in-chief

MARTHA JANE MILLIKAN, Business Manager

MISS LILLIAN E. CHAMBERS, Faculty Adviser

When the senior class had voted to publish an annual and the staff was organized, work was begun.

To express the originality of their thoughts and the progress of their school, the staff has endeavored to present a very different type of book. So they have combined some new, daring ideas with the unchanging ideals of former years, and this is the result. They hope that the readers will appreciate the Rosennial at least half as much as the staff enjoyed publishing it.

Staff of 1936

Second row: Marvin Huffman, Sarah K. Saint, Bruce Toppin, Mary Adelaide Denton.
Third row: Martha Lyle Brown, Max Van Hoose, Virginia Kepner, Roy Ruddell.

OUR SCHOOL

This, our yearbook, is divided, like our school, into two parts. The individual sections tell the story about our school life. In the first we present the administration, the faculty, the seniors, the underclassmen, and the organizations, of which we are so proud.

Within the second section we enclose the sports of the school. We wish to inscribe within the book the names, faces, and deeds of our gallant Trojans, whose courage and high ideals are like a shining light in a sometimes grim world.

SCHOOL BOARD

CLAUDE STANLEY, President

A man of wide interests and keen preception, Mr. Stanley has given generously of his time and talents to directing affairs of the school.

HARRY BURRIS, Secretary

In his second year of service. Mr. Burris has fulfilled the promise of his first—that of being an able and efficient member of the board.

RAY DAVIS, Treasurer

Oldest on the board in point of service, Mr. Davis continues to serve with sympathy and understanding.

Rosennial

MR. E. J. LLEWELYN, Superintendent

It is indeed an unusual thing to find at the head of a school system a man with as rare and good talents as Mr. Llewelyn. He possesses not only the ability to execute affairs directly and with success, but also the knack of making and keeping friends.

He is interested in every phase of school life, and, with his boundless enthusiasm, he aids all activities.

With all his achievements is combined a humility of person which gives him a rare touch—that of true greatness.

The 1936

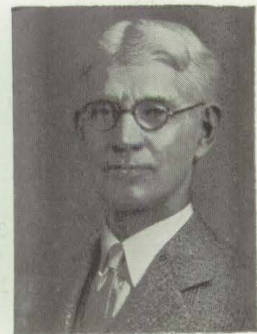

MR. VALENTINE

Principal

Dealing, as he does, directly with the students, Mr. Valentine must be possessed of a vast amount of patience and wisdom. These qualities are his, and they make him a man both respected and admired by all who know him.

THE DEANS

Upon these four teachers falls the great responsibility of influencing student behavior. These Deans deal with their complex relations with youth in a fine and understanding manner.

SENIORS

This, our fourth and final year, has been the climax of all our activities. Numbering one hundred and sixty-nine, our class has been a distinguished group.

When the class was organized, James Pickering was elected president; Junior Van Zant, vice-president; Helen Hudson, secretary, and Charles Graves, treasurer. Our class colors are purple and orchid, and our class flower is the Premier Rose. The class motto is, "Take Life as you find it, but don't leave it so."

Thus ends the happiest and yet the most difficult time of our lives. We leave with a sense of work well done, and a grateful thought for the opportunities of the modern world and modern education.

CLASS HISTORY

On a warm September day in the fall of nineteen hundred and thirty-two, two hundred and sixty-eight bewildered Freshman of the proverbially green variety prepared to enter the welcoming doors of our Senior High School. All were a little fearful of the ordeals that were to come. Tales of the things done to "Freshies" had spread far and wide among us. Although we did not believe all of these tales, we were still a little dubious of what awaited us. Some of the bolder students attempted to cover their temerity with an air of braggodocio, while others with less fortitude plainly showed by the expressions on their faces that they were Freshmen.

After entering the portals of our far-famed high school, we located our session rooms, where next came that puzzle even more intricate than a jigsaw puzzle, namely; the arranging of our programs. By the end of the week, after the wild rush of the first few days was over, some of our greenness had faded and we began to feel more at ease. However, the liberties and privileges which we had and which were so different from those of junior high school still seemed strange to us.

The following year, only two hundred and twenty-nine of our band of students who had embarked so fearfully on our high school voyage the year before had survived our seasickness. Now with that wisdom born of experience, we marched along with confidence and looked down upon the incoming class of "Freshies." With the strangeness of the first year gone, we earnestly began to make a name for ourselves among our fellow students.

Many of us felt that in athletics such as basketball, football, track, and baseball lay the chance for us to show our abilities. Others of us not so well suited for such activities took part in the development of the Hi-Y, Orchestra, Glee Club, Science Society, etc. The record of our Sophomore year, taken as a whole, was something to be proud of. We felt that we were a full-fledged part of high school life.

The carefree days of the following summer quickly came and went. Now there were only two hundred and ten of us who enrolled as upperclassmen — Juniors. Our regular school routine was somewhat changed by a system of student hall patrol which was instituted by the National Honor Society.

CLASS HISTORY

The most important activity of our Junior year was the annual Junior Prom which we gave in honor of the Seniors. What fun we all had! Who can forget the thrill of anticipation as we made preparations for this event, or the roars of laughter that went up over the crazy stunts we Juniors staged?

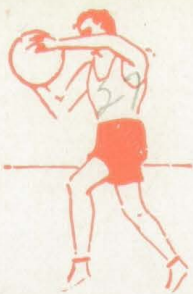

These happy days of our Junior year drew to a close all too swiftly. Soon it was commencement time for the class above us. How far away such an event seemed in our lives!

Another summer passed rapidly, and at last we, too, stood on the threshold of our Senior year. How hard it was to realize that soon our happy high school days would be over! We knew we were looked up to by the other students as having reached an enviable position, yet we did not feel that such was true. With the arrival of the first Senior meeting, we were organized as a class and suddenly realized the nearness of the termination of our high school days. This is the largest class in the history of this high school. An exceptionally efficient group of class officers were chosen: James Pickering, president; Junior Van Zant, vice-president; Helen Hudson, secretary, and Charles Graves, treasurer. The class colors were purple and orchid; the class motto, "Take Life as you find it, but don't leave it so"; the class flower, the Premier Rose.

The class play was given under the capable direction of Miss Pinnick, and as were all the plays which she directed, it was a huge success. Miss Chambers and her efficient staff edited another of the excellent Rosennials for which our high school is so well-noted.

This is a brief record of our high school days. Though we realize that this history is not perfect, we believe it is one to be proud of. May you underclassmen, too, who will soon graduate, leave a record as good or better.

The 1936

FRESHMAN CLASS HISTORY

There were 228 seeds in this package, tumbling out of old Junior High into a new world called Senior High.

Our books and teachers furnished our nourishment and after having been pushed around and trampled on by these upper-classmen, we finally got our start. We were tender and green like all young shoots, but are now on our way to the stage of Sophomores. We still have two stages to go until we reach our aim, to be a full-opened flower, or Senior.

"Success from the start" was the label on our package, and we hope it will continue, not only for the Freshman year, but also for all the years to follow.

JHANE GLANCY.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

Listen, my children, and you shall hear
Of our worthy class in its second year.
First we were Freshmen, shy and obscure,
Playing and working, but not very sure.
Now we are Sophomores, self-styled "know-it-alls,"
Accepting our good luck, and taking our falls.
Learning our lessons and doing our best,
Some were found wanting, but most passed the test.
The lowly Sophomore the Senior will be;
Wait! upper classmen, the proof you will see.
Then, high school behind us, we'll challenge our fate
The Sophomore class, Seniors "38."

MARIAN BOWYLER.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

In recollecting past events, one that is prominent in reverie is that day we entered high school. We recall the numerous teasings we tolerated while endeavoring to secure a foothold in the vast and, at the same time, appalling final stretch of our school life.

Passing on to our Sophomore year, we realize we have gained not only a foothold, but also some distinction.

We are now at the close of our Junior year, and hope that we have not belittled but rather enhanced our scholastic and social reputation.

But, the best is yet to come. We are anticipating real attainment in our Senior Year.

MARY CLIFT.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The object of the National Honor Society, as the constitution reads, is "to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character." The members therefore are chosen on the basis of scholarship, character, leadership, and service.

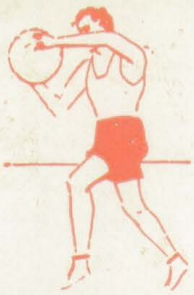

In a desire to be of service, the Newcastle chapter, both this year and last, has managed the system of Hall Patrols. It has also rendered other services which were not so obvious.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council was established as a student representative body of Newcastle High School in 1925.

Under the helpful guidance of the faculty adviser, Mr. William E. Jones, the Council has introduced many commendable projects.

A few of the duties of the Student Council are: to act as a medium between the students and the faculty, to promote projects that will lead toward improvement of the school, and to arouse a wholesome high school spirit.

The 1936

SCIENCE SOCIETY

One of the most interesting and educational clubs in the school is the Science Society, whose purpose is to create, stimulate, and maintain interest in science.

The society, organized in 1926 by the students of the Science Department, is indeed fortunate in having as sponsors Mr. Hodson and Mr. Bronson.

The club meets on alternate Tuesdays, presenting an instructive program of experiments and a speaker.

LEATHER LUNGS

An organization which has long played an active part in our high school program has been the Leather Lungs.

The formation of this organization in 1926 created much interest among the students, and has continued to do so up to the present time.

Its established purpose is to boost the Trojans, and it has done this very successful under the leadership of Mr. Leslie and Mr. Fessler.

Rosennial

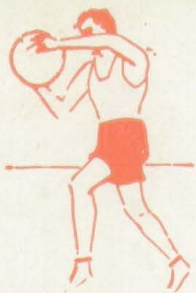

BOOSTER CLUB

This organization is composed of one hundred and forty girls, who make it their duty to boost and inspire the basketball team.

The green and white cards, the green megaphones, along with the white shirts, form a very colorful section.

The Booster Club has prospered through the untiring efforts of the sponsors, Miss Gertrude Vivian and Miss Martha Miller, to whom the credit for this club should be given.

Betty Felt and Jim Richey lead the group in their regular routine.

The 1936

HI-Y CLUB

The Newcastle Senior Hi-Y Club was organized in 1928. Any boy who is of good moral character, and a member of one of the three upper classes is eligible to join the club.

The local club is very diversified in its activities. The members ushered for the Civic Series, sold candy, hot-dogs, and pop at football games, worked in the concession at the sectional tournament, and sponsored a football dance.

The sponsors are Mr. Warren Smith and Mr. William E. Jones.

TRI-HI CLUB

The Tri-Hi Club was organized in the school year of 1933-1934 by a group of aspiring girls and from a somewhat insignificant start has grown into a thriving organization. The purpose of this club is to develop each member physically, mentally, and spiritually. The membership is limited and members must be at least Sophomore A's. Initiation is held the first semester of each year.

Miss Gertrude Vivian and Miss Martha Miller are the highschool sponsors and Miss Marjorie Lamb is sponsor from the Y. M. C. A.

Rosennial

FIRST SEMESTER PHOENIX STAFF

Having completed their preparatory course, eighteen students reported to Journalism 32 class to begin their task of publishing the school newspaper.

Mary Davis was appointed editor-in-chief, and Ruth Barnard was appointed business manager. The rest of the staff aided them in publishing fourteen examples of student journalism. Notable among these issues were the six-page papers, and the special Christmas issue, printed in green ink.

SECOND SEMESTER PHOENIX STAFF

The Second Semester Staff of the 1936 Phoenix feels that they owe what success they have attained this semester to the splendid cooperation of both student body and faculty.

The subscription list of this semester is around 400 and the circulation, which exceeds that of previous years, numbers 700. This Phoenix Staff with Rebecca Woods and Billie Morris at the "helm" in the editorial staff and with Marie Sharp as business manager, has done its best to sustain the traditions and ideals that have been set up for them in the past.

The 1936

ORCHESTRA

The New Castle High School Orchestra directed by Miss May Dorsey, furnishes music for the Senior Class Play, Class Day and Commencement.

The orchestra is made up of thirty-three members who are the following: Charles Acker, Robert Booth, Wayne Bouslog, Ned Byran, DeLoss Donham, Claude Furnish, Franklin Hay, Jack Hayes, LeQue Jacobs, Charles Kennedy, Richard Michael, Jim Ourand, James Peed, Jimmie Salatin, Dareld Springer, Russell Survant, Victor Underwood, Sarah E. Cluggish, Dorothy Copeland, Martha Lewis, Betty Peed, Ruby Ridgeway, Ethel Watt, Robert Conn, Chester Curry, Warren Lewis, Paul Rummel, Carl Smolik, Wendel Starbuck, Eugene Weesner, Dorothy Allen, Mildred Cook.

GLEE CLUB

Just listen to that warbling! It's only the Glee Club, and they certainly seem a happy bunch. They especially enjoyed the Spring Musical Festival in Muncie. Miss Dorsey, their leader, has developed these girls into a splendid singing ensemble.

CLASS PLAY

Patsy Strings Along, a comedy-drama in three acts by Len D. Hollister. This clever and modern play was released for production in 1935.

Patsy Health, a talented actress, makes a visit to Lakeland Academy and finds her Alma Mater declining in popularity and enrollment. She becomes the head of the Boys' School for a period of thirty days and reorganizes the institution completely. After hiring Ted Burns, an All-American football star, and specializing in unique publicity campaigns, the school becomes famous, wins every game, and a financial crisis is averted. The faculty and students follow Patsy as she "strings along" in her important comedy, while the audience enjoys two hours of gripping interest and hearty laughs over the rapid march of events.

CAST OF CHARACTERS—Homer Martin, (Head of Lakeland Academy) Jimmy Salatin; Patsy Heath, (Late of Vaudeville) Virginia Kepner; Mrs. Maria Groat (The Matron) Dorothy Copeland; Sue Taylor (Niece of the Matron) Lois F. Land; Ted Burns (Of Yale, All-American) Dan McNeill; Jerry Malone (Trainer of Lakeland Teams) Joe Wallace; Charles Proctor (The Town Shylock) Carl Bennett; Agatha Poe (Of the Campus Candy Shoppe) Ruth Barnard; Burton Adams (President of Acme Breweries) Waltice Erp; Jennie Porter (Local News Photographer) Doris E. Young.

STAGE MANAGERS—Shirley Conway, Inez Selke, Rebecca Woods, Harold Wells, Forrest Bell and Robert Booth.

OUR SPORTS

OUR ATHLETES

. . . how proud we are of them!

They embody all the fineness, the courage, the initiative, and the glory of youth. Newcastle's football team this year won the North Central Conference Championship; the basketball team won the respect and admiration of all Indiana.

But the thing we are so proud of is not the impressive record . . . but the boys!

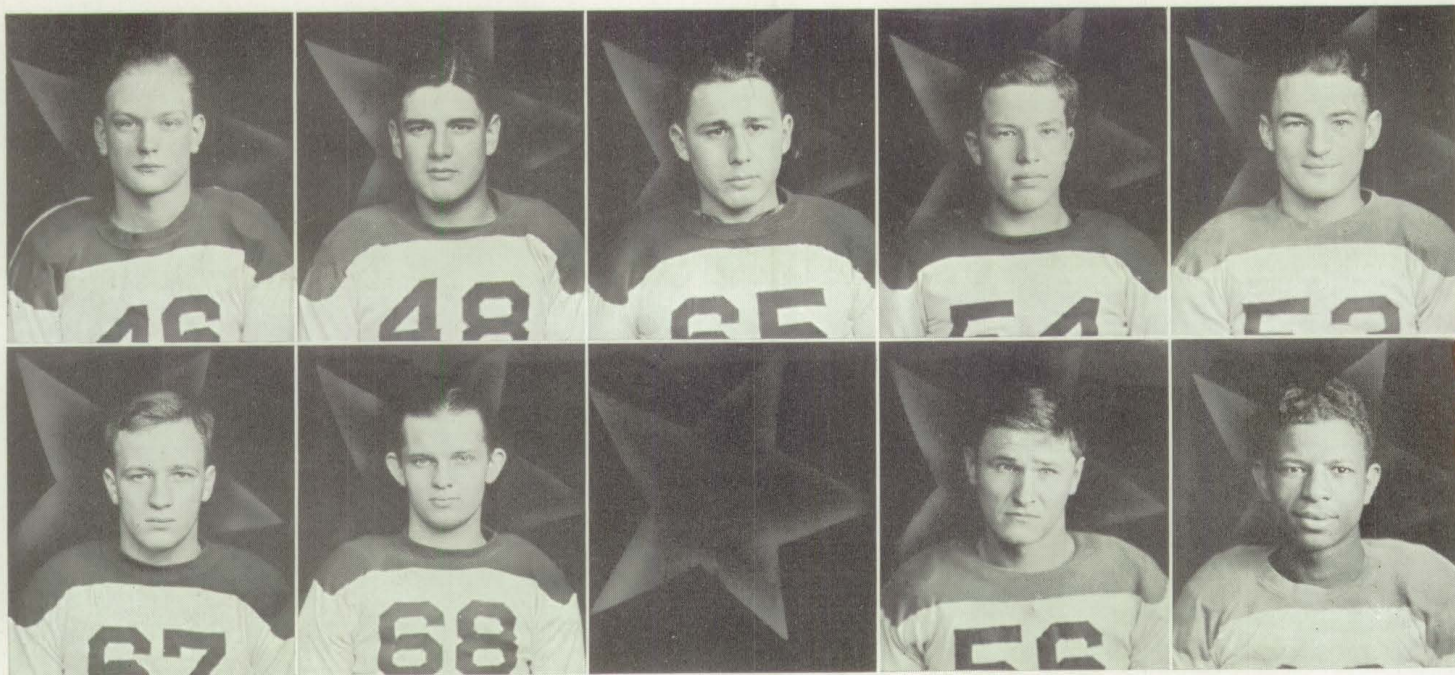

BOOK TWO

The 1936

To "Griz" Baker Newcastle High School extends its heartiest congratulations. Mr. Baker has brought to Newcastle its first major North Central Conference Championship in his second year as head coach. That in itself speaks for the football prowess of "Griz."

Roy Ruddell: A newcomer to our school was elected captain of our team. Roy was one of the most aggressive guards in the state.

Cecil Lockhart: Our left end, "Pete," was a hard tackler and a good blocker. He should be one of the best next year.

Thomas Douthart: Our fighting tackle, a junior with a promising future.

Paul Burns: Our rough and ready guard. A senior who surely made trouble for the opponents' backfield.

Max Van Hoose: Our husky center made it tough for the opposing line. Much credit should go to Max for his wonderful work; he is a senior.

Richard Laster: "Rube" was at his best when he was angry. His best game was played at Muncie. A senior.

Ivan Cable: Made the varsity his first year out. A senior noted for his hard blocking and tackling.

Warren Thomas: Our quarterback, "Swede," was a good running back. He was known especially for his ability of catching passes. Griz will miss him next year.

Marvin Huffman: "Duke" played half, a fine passer and blocker. We will miss him.

Rosennial

Everett Potter: Our spirited fullback who couldn't be stopped. He will be the backbone of "Griz" 1936 team.

Albert Becker: Our fleet-footed back. When he got away, they didn't often catch him. He is a junior.

George Clark: Second-string center, a demon at pulling out of the line and intercepting passes.

Bill Ourand: Substitute guard who fought hard. Will be missed next year.

Francis Good: Our substitute end with that do-or-die spirit which carried him through. He should go great guns next year.

Max Cramer: A substitute tackle. Max worked hard and he should be exceptionally good in 1936.

Malcolm Cramer: A substitute tackle who worked hard all of the time. He will be missed next year.

Harvey Means: A substitute end. "Hob" tried hard and never gave up. A senior.

Kenneth Heckman: A substitute back. He worked hard this year and next year he should be good. Only a sophomore.

Sammy Owens: A halfback. He did not see much action this year, but he has great possibilities. He is a sophomore.

The 1936

FOOTBALL

Under the guiding hand of coach Stephen M. Baker and his assistant, Donel Smith, a strong football team was developed which brought to Newcastle the first major North Central Conference Championship. Out of the eight games played the Trojans won six, piling up one hundred fifteen points against sixty-three by their opponents.

The game with Muncie was by far the most exciting game of the season being the first Trojan victory over the Bearcats in five years and assuring Newcastle the championship. The opening game of the season with Anderson was also very exciting although the Trojans were not assured of victory until the closing minutes of play when they unleashed a passing attack which the Indians could not stop.

Two weeks before school started coach Baker made a call for candidates and daily practices were held at the athletic field which helped to develop the team.

Coach Baker should have a fine team next year built around such experienced men as Becker, Lockhart, Heckman, Douthart, and Potter.

SCHEDULE

Two weeks of intensive drill at the athletic field formed the background for the 1935 football season. Seventy-two boys answered Mr. Baker's first call and out of these he started to develop his football team.

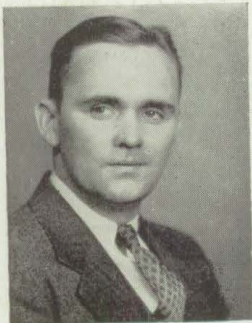

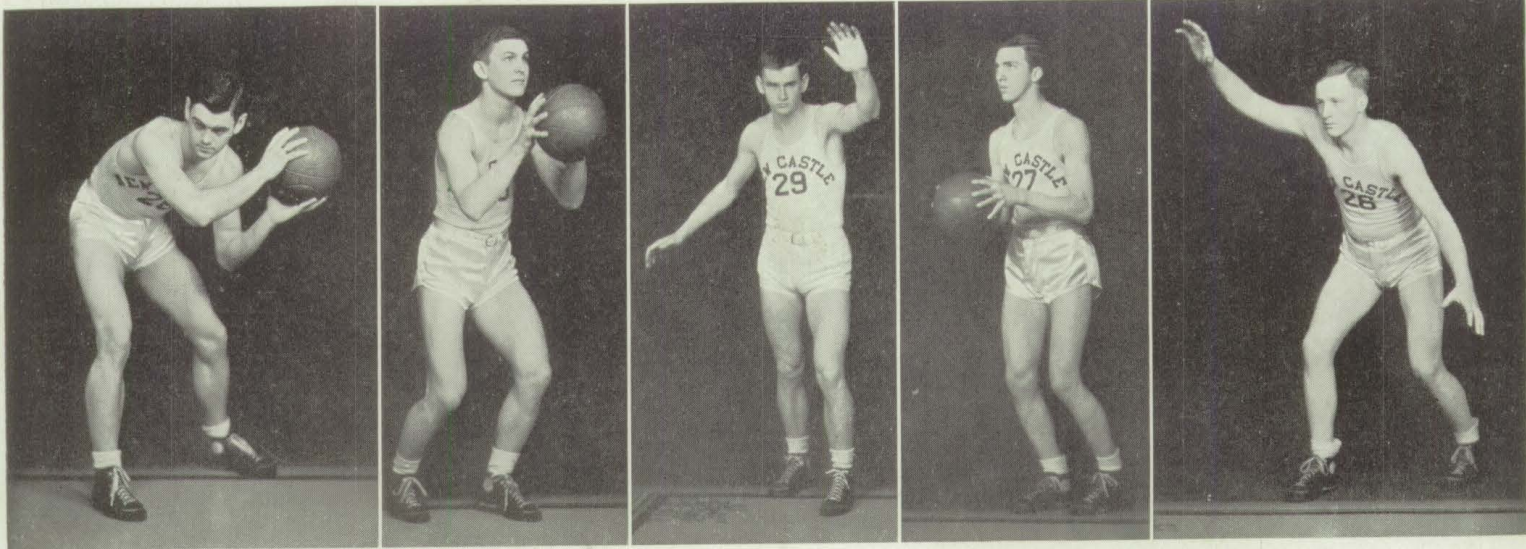

A 19 to 7 victory over Anderson, one of our strongest rivals, was our initial campaign. This game was not won until the final quarter when Newcastle scored a touchdown on an intercepted pass. Plainfield was the next victim by a 31 to 0 score, and this game provided little difficulty for the Trojans. A journey to Richmond for the first out of town game provided a hard game, but the Trojans won, 6 to 2. The highly-rated Rushville team was the next victim of the Trudgin Trojans by a 21 to 7 score, for the fourth straight victory. As hosts to the Noblesville team, the Trojans tasted the first defeat. The score was 20 to 6. Determined to get revenge, the Trojans played what proved to be the easiest game on the schedule, and won over the Connersville Spartans by a score of 20 to 6. Next the Trojans were guests of their old rivals, the Muncie Bearcats. This was the hardest game for the Trojans. They emerged from the hard-fought game with a 6 to 0 score in their favor. This game was the climax of the season. It also won the Trojans the North Central Conference title. Kokomo was the Trojans next guest and they defeated Newcastle by a score of 21 to 7.

1935 was the first year that the Newcastle High School had night football. It proved to be very successful and more interesting to the fans.

This also was the best year that the Trojans have enjoyed in the last five years. It is the first time that Newcastle has won a North Central Conference title in the ten years that it has been a member. Much credit should go to Coach Baker for his fine work.

The 1936

It is to the splendid ability of Coach Wilbur Allen that Newcastle High School owes its success in basketball the past year. The playing on the basketball floor has displayed the tactics of efficient coaching, but more than that, it has displayed teams with a high morale in sportsmanship.

Marvin Huffman: "Duke" is captain of the ball club this year; its leading scorer; one of the most outstanding players in the state and selected on many mythical teams. His will be a great loss to "Strings" next year.

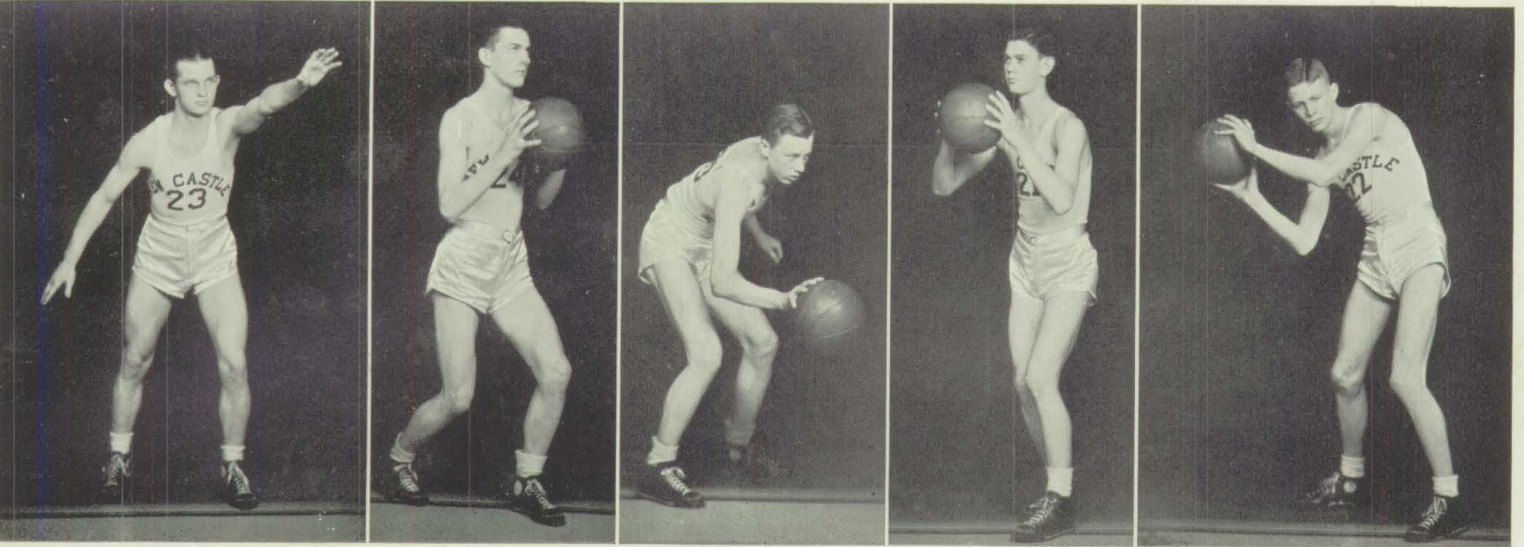

Warren Thomas: One of our forwards who was third high scorer of the team. "Swede" was a "ball-hawk" and one of the best defensive men in the state. He will be missed next year.

Gilbert Huffman: "Gib," brother of Marvin, the second highest scorer on the team. Next year he will be the main cog in Coach Allen's machine.

Philip Dakins: Our floor guard. "Til" was slow in developing this year but should be among the best next year. He is a junior.

Max Van Hoose: The team's backguard, Max, was a good defensive man and took rebounds well. He is a senior.

Rosennial

Donel Smith, our new assistant football and basketball coach, came to us from Buffalo, Indiana. He is a graduate of Martinsville High School and Danville Normal College. He played on one of Martinsville's State Championship squads. Mr. Smith has already proved to be a very capable assistant to Mr. Baker and Mr. Allen. His work in this, his first year, has been very outstanding and we predict a great future for "Smitty."

Robert Wildman: The sixth man of the squad. Bob worked hard this year and should be one of the first five next year.

Ivan Cable: "Cabe," although a substitute, was a very valuable man. He will be missed very much.

James Downey: He didn't see much action this year but made a good showing. Only a sophomore, he will make a good center for Allen.

Kenneth Heckman: A newcomer to the varsity has plenty of scrap to spare. He will make someone work hard for a place on the team next year.

Cecil Lockhart: Although he did not see much action this year, he was always in there working hard.

The 1936

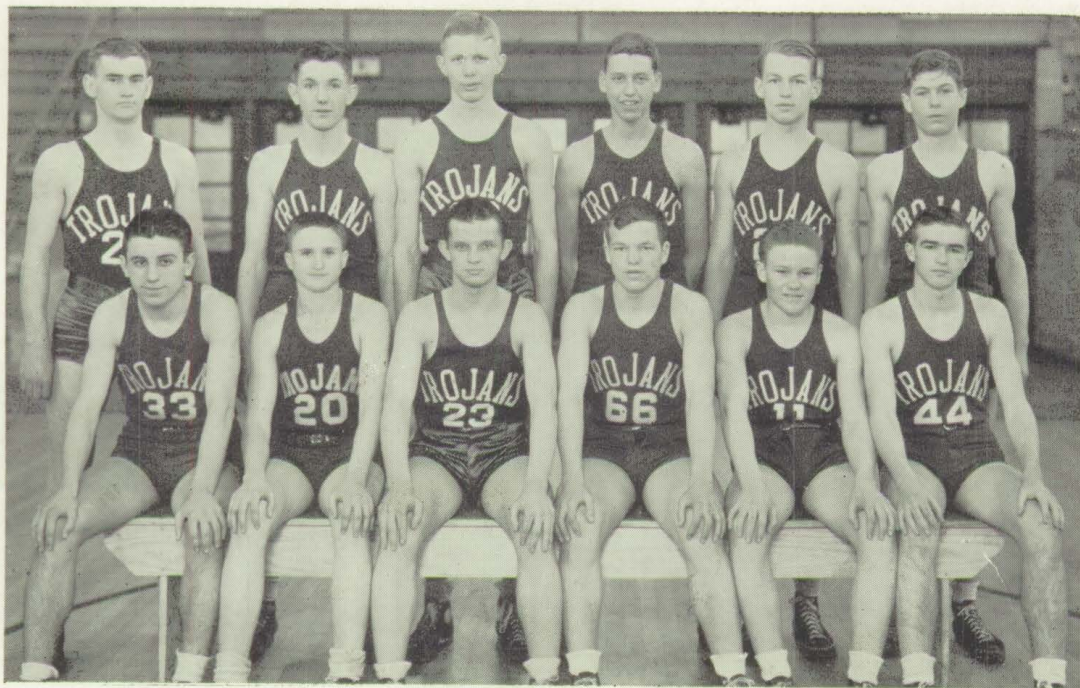

BASKETBALL

Under the leadership of Coach Allen and his assistant, Mr. Smith, the Newcastle Trojans enjoyed one of the most successful seasons in the entire history of the school. With only two regulars from the 1934-35 combination, Coach Allen built a strong team which opened its season with successive victories over Greenfield, Central (Ft. Wayne), Connersville, Muncie, Anderson, Tech. (Indianapolis) Richmond, Hartford City, Martinsville, and Logansport, before falling victim to Muncie in the finals of the New Year's Day tourney. The Trojans continued through the remainder of their season with wins over Jeff. (Lafayette), Rushville, Noblesville, Marion, Muncie, and Connersville.

After a successful season, the Trojans entered into the final elimination tourney to decide on a state champion. They won their own sectional with topheavy victories over Kennard, Cadiz, and Lewisville. The following week they journeyed to Muncie for the regional. After disposing of Winchester in the afternoon game, the Trojans entered the finals and after a hard-fought game won from a plucky Greensfork team 33 to 20. Again returning to Muncie on March 21, the Trojans met Warsaw in the afternoon game and emerged victorious only after the hardest kind of a battle. That evening the Trojans fell, victims of Central (Ft. Wayne's) Fighting Tigers 24 to 18, thus ending their 1935-36 campaign with twenty-two wins and seven losses.

Losing only four men, M. Huffman, Thomas, Van Hoose, and Cable by graduation, Coaches Allen and Smith should have a strong contender for state honors next year built around G. Huffman, Dakins, Wildman, Downey and Lockhart.

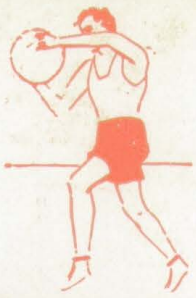

THE SECOND TEAM

The Trojan Colts, under the capable leadership of Coach Donel Smith, enjoyed a very successful season with twelve wins and five losses to their credit. The entire squad was composed of underclassmen who will be valuable to the varsity next year. The team was composed of the following boys: Ernest Tidrow, Bill Taylor, Robert Modlin, Robert Fletcher, Maurice Johnson, Max Harrell, Donald Mastin, Alva Murray, and Sammy Owens. The Colt schedule included the following games.

Greenfield	18	Colts	38	Hartford City	17	Colts	21
Fort Wayne	25	Colts	26	Rushville	26	Colts	31
Connersville	31	Colts	24	Noblesville	16	Colts	38
Muncie	21	Colts	31	Marion	27	Colts	19
Anderson	23	Colts	17	Muncie	23	Colts	28
Tech.	18	Colts	19	Anderson	26	Colts	30
Richmond	22	Colts	24	Connersville	30	Colts	29
		Marion	23			Colts	21

In the second team tournament at Anderson on January 4, the Colts defeated Richmond 44-29 in their first game and then defeated Anderson in an over-time final 26-25.

The 1936

Fred Goar, our track coach, proved his ability in that field of sport last year. After a lapse of a few years in track, Fred placed an inexperienced but very strong team on the cinder paths. He has a few lettermen around which to build this year's squad and we wish him great success.

TRACK

Under the leadership of Coach Fred Goar and his assistant, Edgar Wise, the strongest track team in the history of the school was developed.

At the beginning of the season the largest number of boys reported for practice in the history of the school. Dale Sweigart and Albert Becker were elected co-captains.

The Henry County Relay was the first important meet to be held. Newcastle won the meet, both relays and the baseball throw. In this meet, John Mukes set a new record in the high jump by clearing the bar at 5 ft. 8 inches. A new record was also set by Becker in the baseball throw with a throw of three hundred and eleven feet. In all other events the team made a very respectable showing.

At the district meet all of the team was eliminated except Allen Nichols who qualified for the state meet when he put the shot forty-two feet.

With only three seniors on the squad Dale Sweigart, Allen Nichols, and John Mukes, Coach Goar should have a very strong team next year built around Elwood Harmon, Wallace Turner, Roy Ruddell, Edwin Atkinson, Cecil Lockhart, Richard Kessler, Kenneth Wilkinson, Oren Meeks, Kenneth Corum, Clyde Koger, Harry McCormack, Thomas Douthart, Cecil Lovelace, Eugene McSherry, Eugene Stearnes, Fred Sears, Raymond Morgan, Arnold Cowan, Meredith Boatright, Eldon Harding, and Charles Jones.

BASEBALL

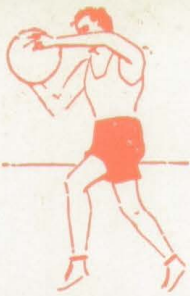

Baseball has been resumed in Newcastle High School after a long period of years. Under the leadership of Coach Wilbur Allen, the team enjoyed a very successful season, including victories over Muncie and Anderson.

Coach Allen issued a general call for baseball talent immediately following the close of the basketball season, and a total of one hundred boys reported for practice. After two successive cuts, Coach Allen announced his official roster of those who remained together during the entire season. They were as follows: Wiles and Maze, pitchers; Sweigart, Potter, and Hornaday, catchers; M. Huffman and Wallen, first base; Bland and Vannatta, second base; Smith and Dakins, short stops; G. Van Hoose, third base; and outfielders, Thomas, M. Van Hoose, Carmichael, Wallen, G. Huffman, and Means. Bill Bamard was chosen as team manager.

During the season the team journeyed to Muncie where they participated in the Big Ten Tourney in which they were defeated by Jefferson of Lafayette in their second game of the day. Richmond defeated Jefferson for the championship.

At the conclusion of the season John Wiles was elected captain by the members of the team.

Newcastle is expecting a great season in 1936 since most of Coach Allen's material returns for duty.

The 1936

THE PRESIDENT SPEAKS

Friends and Fellow Classmates:

The largest graduating class in the history of our high school is now closing its school year. It has been one that was filled with many activities and one that we shall all remember. We look forward to the oncoming years with a feeling of confidence and the determination that we will do our utmost to succeed.

But looking back over the twelve school years that we have completed, we find that there have been many sacrifices in order that we might become seniors. The taxpayers have given their financial support. Our teachers have given their untiring efforts in guiding us forward into better things. And, last but not least, our parents have given their time and money, in order that we could have an education. We are, indeed, deeply indebted to those who have made our education possible.

Education may be thought of as a soul-enriching process that begins with the cradle and ends only at the grave. We must therefore strive to further our public education if we are to have a nation that will produce a strong civilization. Statistics show that the communities which support their schools most liberally are the ones that are most intelligent and progressive. Thus we see that the school is a public institution which is fostered by the community, for the community, not for the pupil. Education then has as its duty the business of fostering the altruistic impulses that are natural in youth. Education thus opens an avenue for the exercise of these impulses and ideals. It is such opportunities that make us students indebted to you for your efforts toward our education.

Of course, one of the chief aims of education is scholarship, but this is not the most important. If our nation is to be great, we must have good citizens. Citizenship is not something to come in the years ahead, but something to be learned by living it in school. This purpose is sometimes capably served by school organizations, and they do much to round out our school curriculum. One such organization in our school is the National Honor Society, the purpose of which is to foster not only scholarship but also leadership, character, and service.

The great enemies of the Republic are ignorance, vice, selfishness, bigotry, disloyalty, and disregard for law; its chief friends are intelligence, efficiency, morality, and patriotic devotion. As an agency to eradicate the former and guarantee the latter, the American high school occupies a most conspicuous place among our free institutions; that place is secure as long as it clings to its ideals of industry, service, efficiency, morality, patriotism, and law.

Class of '36, we have a very bright future, and may we continue to follow our motto and "Take Life as we find it, but not leave it so."

JAMES PICKERING

CLASS WILL

We, the class of nineteen hundred and thirty-six, being about to leave this sphere, in full possession of a sound mind, memory, and understanding, do make and publish this, our last will and testament, hereby revoking and making void all other former wills by us at any time heretofore made.

As to such estates it has pleased the Fates and our merits to give us, we do dispose of the same as follows viz:

Jack Heck, Elwood Harmon, Charles Lyman will to Paul Baker one grocery apron. The boys have hopes that someday Baker will finish school and carry on for dear old A. & P.

Mary Jo Crawford does hereby will and bequeath her "below the Ohio River" accent to Mable Danley. Mary Jo says, "Ah hope that Mable cahries on with LeQueen the sem spirit that Ah hev."

Lucile Long, Eulah Mae Hornaday, and Shirley Conway will and bequeath to Betty May Felt one can of spinach. The girls say that it will be hard to take but they add, "Look at us."

Dick Laster wills to Bud Ingram one book, entitled "Tall Stories and How to Tell Them Effectively." Dick hopes this book will be an aid to Bud in securing the much-needed improvement.

Wilma Bentley, Rebecca Woods, Alphonsine La Mar will to Marjorie Wilkinson, Helen Mahoney, and Marcella Wiley the ability to make themselves appealing to Richmond boys.

Charles Huffman, Joe Wallace, Harold Wells, will and bequeath to Miss Florence Noyer, Mr. Horace Burr, Jr., for safe-keeping during the remaining years of his self-sacrifice to the finer arts.

Eileen Sheldon, Francis Scarlett, Virginia Sutton do hereby will and bequeath to Mr. John Baughman one mirror so that "Johnny" may get closer to his razor.

James Pickering, Roy Ruddell, Claude Van Zant, Jr. will to Bill Barnard a new hat and one pamphlet on "What the Well-Dressed Man Will Wear Next Season." The boys sincerely hope that Bill will make use of the pamphlet.

Ruth Barnard, Bettie Jane Brangan, Mildred Gillock, Billie Morris do will and bequeath their scintillating giggles to John Kessel in hope that John will keep the spirit of optimism running high.

Lois Ellen Land, Dorothy Copeland, Floral Imel, Lois Frampton, Violet Caldwell, Edith Burns, Mary Pickett hereby will and bequeath to Miss Dorsey one tuning fork, so she will not have so much discord among her oncoming grand opera singers as she has had with those of the past.

Roscoe Matney, Oren Meeks, William Jeffries, Harley Means will to Mr. T. M. Van Hook one box of bunion pads. It seems that Mr. Van Hook's son believes in walking as an exercise, especially for his father. The son thinks that night is the best time to walk.

In witness whereof, we the class of nineteen hundred and thirty-six, the testators, here to this will, set our hands and seal, on this, the twenty-ninth day of May, Anno Domini, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six.

CLASS PROPHECY

Roy Ruddell, Virginia Kepner, Jr. Van Zant, Ruth Barnard, James Pickering, Martha Millikan, Bruce Toppin, and Sarah Saint, who were college classmates, are now in the jungles of Africa teaching the elephants how to say their prayers. Max Van Hoose, Ivan Cable, Marvin Huffman, and Warren Thomas are in the zoo in Cincinnati, teaching the monkeys how to play basketball. Rev. Richard Laster and his wife, Loraine Kimbrough Laster, are now touring the West, holding Evangelistic Meetings. The singers traveling with them are: John Mukes, Wallace Turner, and George Willis. Kenneth Wilkinson and Eleanore Garner, Nina Jane Davis and Harry Burke, James Wade and Mildred Hedrick, and Roscoe Matney and Betty Poynter, are now married and have joined a nudist colony in Alaska.

The old maids: Bettie Brangan, Mary Pickett, Mildred Gillock, Maxine Hahn, Helen Humphrey, Arbutice Todd, Evelyn Thomas, and Monica Springer are now having a meeting every week trying to decide how young girls should choose their husbands. The most prominent clowns in the Dan McNeill Circus are: Waltice Erp, Carl Bennett, Jimmy Salatin, and Joe Wallace. The famous tight-rope walkers who have appeared in many of the recent shows in Millville, Ashland, Mt. Summit, and Cadiz are: Alphon-sine La Mar, Lois Land, Dorothy Copeland, Vivien Jones, and Doris Young.

The marathon dancers, Wilson Lockhart, Virginia Sutton, Frances Ball, Robert Brenneman, Lucile Long, Harry Cashdollar, Deloris Williamson, and Charles Graves, were thrown out of town last night for hypnotizing their audience with the quickness of their very graceful movements. The pockets of George Van Matre, Charles Vannatta, Harold Wells, Shirley Allan Watson, Carl Smith, and George Yetter, the bashful Newcastle bachelors, were somewhat drained last week due to the fact that they went to see the 500 pound chorus girls who were: Lois Mullenix, Marianna Crim, Marie Sharp, and Mildred Pfleger. Leola Orchard, Grace Lord, Mildred Goudy, and Mary C. Reichart, the four nurses of the Punkin Town County Hospital, are now kept very busy taking care of four independent patients who became quite ill from eating cabbage which had been boiled in a brass kettle. The patients are: Edward Glover, Gordon Kirk, Harry McCormack, and Oren Meeks. The prescribed cure is four ounces of St. Jacobs oil every hour. Charles Brooks, Louis Pierson, Don Muzzy, and Norman Eilar, the great chemists of today, have perfected the invention of making gold out of silver and are keeping their beautiful wives, Eulah Mae Hornaday, Vivian Shock, Barbara Baker, and Audrey Givins, in all the luxuries of this modern age.

The following boys have fulfilled their greatest ambition and are now the best street cleaners in Indiana: Alvin Lake, J. Richard Smith, Carl Browning, Horace Himes, Bill Ourand, Norman Townsend, and Tyrus Huffman. After receiving their Master's Degree, Wanda Friddle, Mary Davis, Frances Scarlett, Martha Lyle Brown, Eileen Sheldon, and Wilma Bentley have at last found their life work in milking cows. Herman Gross, the daring stunt flier, held his annual air show in Lewsville and his star parachute jumpers were: Beatrice Wehrly, Nancy Ellen Corum, Mable Bovender, Charlotte Henry, Mable Jeanne Bolen, and Forrest Bell. Bette Sue DeWitt, Martha Lennox, Martha Jane Paulsen, Ruth Ely, Violet Caldwell, Dorothy Rees, Betty Oldham, and Mary Wantz have a singing school in Persia where they teach cats to purr in "D" flat.

Harry Shaffer, Chester Maze, Bill McCormick, Robert A. Gray, Eldon Arford, Herman Wright, Paul Burns, Richard Luke, and Jack Heck, the pirates marooned in the South Sea Islands, are taming the native girls who are: June Shultz, Joy L. Swindell, Mable Rawlings, Janice Rothrock, Jane Ross, Helen Hudson, Virginia Ford, Lois Framp-ton, and Henrietta Adams. The play "Love Me Forever," whose authoress is Miriam Wayman, was presented at the Metropolitan Opera House, and was quite a success with the leading characters being: Floral Imel, Malcolm Cramer, Harvey Means, and Frances Burroughs. Robert Booth, who owns the Booty Beer Tavern on Fifth Avenue in New York City, attained as his bouncers today Elwood Harmon, Charles Lyman, Charles Huffman, and William Burk.

Elsie Van Gordon, Angalene Van Gordon, Vernell Smith, Dorothy Palmblade Torrence, Louise Upham, and Helen Reynolds, displaying their Scotch ancestry, are now using pokeberry juice for lipstick. Carl Frazee, Ralph Crandall, Paul Cory, Harley Means, Harold Walters, and William Jefferies are promoting a frog-jumping contest in the swamps of Miami, Florida. Alice Mathes, Beulah Jacoby, Mary M. Wisheart, Evelyn Miller, Billie Morris, Virginia Williams, and Mae Land, having learned the barbers' trade, are now touring the country trimming mules' manes and shearing sheep. Jessie Torrence, Dorothy Trout, Stella Tate, Pauline Pollard, Mildred Misener, and Edith Burns are earning a livelihood by digging fishing worms for Mr. Pitcher, Mr. Leslie, and Mr. Fessler.

Mary Jo Crawford, Inez Selke, June Krausbauer, Rebecca Wood, Barbara La-Boyteaux, and Shirley Conway.

FAREWELL

(Class Poem)

The glad school days are over that we've spent
With our friends and classmates dear,
And when on life's journey we are sent
We'll live up to our standards true.
We are setting forth to conquer
Life's lesson we have just begun;
So when we've put down our anchor
We can shout, A Victory Won!
To the joyful days we've spent here
'Mid scenes of joy and of tears,
We hope your days we've filled with cheer.
Where we have spent four happy years.
Farewell, farewell, dear N. H. S.
Farewell, 'tis now we say good-bye,
And sing to her a song of praise
For Our Dear Old Senior High.

ELEANORE GARNER.

The 1936

HIGH LIGHTS

Class Day, 1935—Tonight was Prom, the gayest dance of the year. The Queen and her attendants ruled, and the Seniors were the honor guests.

September 9—Back to school. The last stretch for the Seniors.

September 13—Trojans defeat the Anderson Indians in Newcastle's first night football game. What a sight!

October 2—Rough initiation for Tri-Hi pledgies. The poor dears. Can they take it?

October 12—Walter Ruby's birthday dance, held at the Country Club. Everyone has a jolly good time.

October 15—Tri-Hi pledgies are now members. Guess that they could take it.

October 17—Teachers' Institute at Indianapolis. Seven of the journalists attend convention at Franklin.

October 25—The Muncie Bearcats suffer defeat at the hands of Newcastle's Trojans in a night game at Muncie.

Rosennial

SENIOR CLASS SONG

Our high school days are over,
And we must say farewell.
The joys and troubles we have known,
With tongues 'tis hard to tell.
Teachers, friends, and schoolmates, dear,
With a tear or two,
We must now press onward,
And so we say "Adieu."

Chorus

Marching forward, eagerly,
Onward into life,
With our torch of knowledge
Ever shining bright.
We the Class of Thirty-six
Make this pledge to you,
Dear old Alma Mater,
"We will e'er be true."
N. H. S., We leave you,
Our way of life to start.
We will ever keep the fire
You kindled in our hearts,
Fire of courage, hope, and truth,
Of service, love, and right.
May we on to others pass
This flame of warmth and light.
