New Castle high-school students are the genuine article, but even the boys admit that school "isn't so

EW CASTLE, Indiana, is a vigorous little city of 20,000 people, situated in the fertile Blue River Valley some fifty miles east and a little north of Indianapolis. Much of its vigor has gone into its big industrial plants and the rich agricultural country surrounding it. But it has also, in the past five years, invigorated its long-neglected school system. That makes New Castle a city worth studying.

The struggle New Castle began five years ago isn't over yet, but the town is on its way. And the moral of the story is a model for thousands of other American communities. For it proves that the fight for better schools can be won without outside help, if the problem is faced squarely.

Five years ago New Castle was described by some civic officials as having "the best school system in the state on the least money." Caustic observers were forced to agree with the latter part of this statement. The schools were badly understaffed; often a single teacher struggled with as many as 50 children. Teachers were underpaid, but afraid to protest. The superintendent refused to let them take their grievances to the board.

The seven school buildings in the system, not only too small (they still are), but they had up-to-date equipment. The high school, for example, had antiquated science laboratories, a makeshift library and no cafeteria; it had to rent gymnasium down the street. Furthermore, books were obsolete, and educational methods frequently ten or more years behind the times.

Worst of all, the school tax rate seemed mire $1.18 on an assessed valuation of $13,647,030. The board and superintendent used this to impress upon the community with their thriftiness. There was no prospect of an increase.

That was in 1941. Today, in 1946, the picture has changed. New Castle has faced its problem, and is well on its way to solving it. It has reached a point where the National Education Association recommends its school system as outstanding.

THAT GIVE A COMPLETE PICTURE OF NEW CASTLE HIGH

When citizens of this Indiana town decided to put their schools in order, they learned the power of concerted community action. Here is a plan which any town can follow. An article in Collier's educational series communities of comparable and so revolutionary a change in exciting story—a story of indignation, of gathering force, of final concerted action of the motive power for this came from desperate teachers. It came from organized labor of large Chrysler plant and other New Castle industries. And some from an ever-growing and in- gressively active PTA, which showed its power when a group of indignant parents dramatically invaded one of the elementary schools and an- nounced that they were there to stay their children should have good schools. Above all, it was concerted com- munity action, cutting across party lines that swung the margin of vic- tory. New Castle's three-man school board has always been elected by the community, with two members tradi- tionally belonging to the party then in power, the other to the minority party. Yet Karl C. Vogel, Republican, was first elected to the board by his own party in 1941, but was re- turned to office in 1944 by a Demo- cratic council.

The election of Vogel, a Chrysler employee, was the first step toward the new order.

Mr. Vogel was the concerned father of three boys. In 1941, when he took office, he explained, "I feel that our schools are definitely be- low standard, and I am determined to do something about it."

What he did was to stand firm as the representative of the crusading citizens. Blocked on crucial issues like the need for an increased school tax, he frequently walked out of meet- ings as a protest against the mainte- nance of the status quo.

For two years this thin, nervous man was the stormy petrel of the school administration.

His stubborn stand drove the enter- ing wedge, and the jolt was completed in 1943, with the election of Harold L. Meadows to the board. The reform movement now had a majority, and the timeworn planks of stubborn standpattism split apart.

"Doc" Meadows is a semibald man with sharp black eyes. He owns the Meadows Pharmacy. From the out- set he declared, "We've been pinch- ing pennies and letting our kids' education get along the best it could. From here on it's going to be differ- ent. In my kind of school system, the kids come first, the teachers next, and to hell with the rest of them."

Battle of the Tax Rate Begins

The explosion followed within a few months. In December, 1943, the superintendent was succeeded by Joe R. Craw, just in his second year as principal of the senior high school. At the same time the fight for an in- creased tax rate began in earnest. It had dropped to $1.15. For the school year of 1944-45, it jumped to $1.22 on an assessed valuation of $15,186,200, the following year to $1.46 on $15,206,490. Now a proposed five- year 75-cent levy to raise funds for a further building program stands a better-than-even chance of winning in the coming elections.

In 1944, the school board had been rounded out with the election of Rus- sell L. Fleming. Much has been ac- complished since then. But Meadows, Fleming and the other self-confessed amateurs admit that they couldn't have done much if they had not found the right man "to run the show." They are sure that they did find him in Joe Craw.

Craw is sturdily built, prematurely gray. His gait, his smile, his mind and his ear are all pitched to a fast tempo. (We covered the city of New Castle and all the surrounding country in half an hour.) His list of extracurricu- lar activities is staggering, and he is in constant demand as a speaker.

Yet his real love is school adminis- tration. He deprecates the praise now accorded him on every side. "There is a big job to be done," he an- nounced when he took over the super- intendency. "Any man who knows

IN THE 1947 ROSENNIAL ★ ★

For 1947 was our big year, Mr. Haydn, a big year for every person connected with New Castle High School. For the wonderful people who helped to make it so, the FACULTY, see PAGE 8. Then the SENIORS, on PAGE 26, were a swell group of kids anyone will agree. This was a year they will long remember and cherish in their scrapbooks.

The UNDERCLASSMEN, the majority of the student body, make a fine showing on PAGE 42. From junior to freshman each will tell you it's been a record year for all their events, including the delightful prom.

ACTIVITIES around this old school were really buzzing this year as you can see from the pictures on PAGE 52. There were the dances, convocations, junior Rotarians, Altrusa girls, the all-important yearbook, and last but not least the school paper.

As you know, Mr. Haydn, all schools have their clubs and social gatherings; and New Castle High School is certainly not an exception. From clubs ranked nationally to those started here they all play an important part in our school life with their various plans and functions. For pictures of these CLUBS and their activities, please notice PAGE 66.

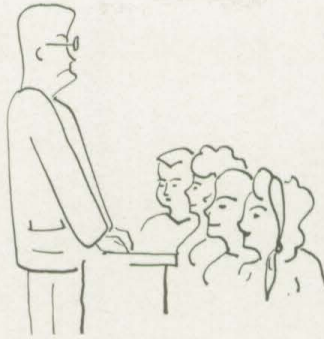

Oh, yes, Mr. Haydn, if you think that ATHLETICS don't play a large part in any Indiana high school, you just don't know Indiana. We have a well-rounded sports program including that ever-popular basketball, football, golf, and oh, we could go on forever; but for some swell action shots SEE PAGE 78.

Now just sit back and relax for you are about to get an all-round view of New Castle High School by simply turning the page and——

CLASSES AND FACULTY

You mentioned how nice the teachers were and you are correct. Of course, there are TIMES when we students doubt that statement but then . . . Our school curriculum has grown somewhat during the past three or four years—yes, even this year.

With our eleven departments and with each department thinking up some new course, we soon won't be able to choose which courses we want most. For instance, we have industrial arts, home economics, and commercial arts for those interested in vocational training. For the basics we have English, social studies, and mathematics. Then for those interested in other languages we have French, Latin, and Spanish. For those interested in becoming chemists, physicists, and biologists we have the sciences. Then there are music, art, and physical education which should never be omitted from any well-balanced curriculum.

Some of the newer classes are Electronics 41, a boys' cooking class, and a driving instruction class. In our driving instruction course we have a car in which the students can get practical experience as well as instruction. So you see, Mr. Haydn, we have plenty going on to keep us busy during school.

MR. JOE R. CRAW, Superintendent
A.B., M.A. Butler University

Graduates of this year are faced with many problems and many opportunities. Solving these problems and meeting these opportunities will constitute a life's work.

A citizen's life can be a brilliant success or a miserable failure. The choice is within the grasp of each graduate of 1947. Armed with the determination to share in the responsibility of making this a better world and secure in the belief that a high standard of character, tolerance, and sympathy for others are necessary for each individual, each of this year's graduates cannot fail to achieve the goal of successful citizenship.

Education is but one of a series of learning experiences which comes to an individual. Others will be even more challenging. All these experiences can contribute much to every individual if faced with courage, faith, and enthusiasm.

To each member of the 1947 graduating class, I wish the finest that life has to offer.

E. S. CASTOR
Principal

Congratulations to you of the graduating class of 1947. Many of you have found a challenge for additional preparation. Others of you have had sufficient social and work experience contacts which you feel qualify you to cease your school sojourn. All of you have surely found and solved, some of you have also found and left unsolved, problems of major importance in social, physical, mental, and moral relationship. Our biggest task is to be genuine, ever-understanding of human weaknesses and strengths. The great single need for mankind is service. Let us perpetually work together in the realms of better citizenship so that we can continue to see the realities of our Democracy and reach goals to which our own manhood and womanhood aspire.

SENIORS

Hello, Mr. Haydn. Weren't you the fellow who wrote the article for COLLIERS' entitled "The Kids Come First"? You were? Well, we would like to tell you about a few things you failed to mention in your article.

First of all we want you to meet our senior class. This is the class that sponsors and publishes the yearbook, The Rosennial. Also we, like senior classes of other high schools, produce a class play.

We are usually busy doing something—either exchanging class name cards or small billfold size pictures, exchanging comments on what we'll wear to senior vespers, making plans for Class Day, Honor Day, and Commencement—all these things concern the "big" senior.

Being a senior affects each one of us differently. To those who will be going to college it is the last chance to get the fundamentals well in mind on which they will base their college education. To those who don't plan to attend college it is the last year of formal education. Some leave with a smile, some with a tear. With a spirit like ours and a motto like "The elevator to success is not running—take the stairs," how can we go wrong?

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

But Mr. Haydn—

You forgot us seniors! Here's what you forgot to mention in your story. We first began to realize that we were becoming important when we entertained the seniors at the 1946 Junior Prom—The Mardi Gras. The Senior Vespers was the first big event of our final year in N. H. S. Another senior class event was the honoring of us seniors at the 1947 Junior Prom. Other main events were Class Day when our innermost secrets were revealed, and Baccalaureate—our most religious service. Finally the day arrived when we received diplomas signifying the end of twelve years of school life.

And Mr. Haydn—

You forgot our class colors which are teal blue and silver. Other things you missed were our motto: "The elevator to success is not running—take the stairs"; and our class flower, the American Beauty rose.

Back in '43 when we were mere freshmen, we didn't realize that our last year would be highlighted by the fact that our high school was rated as the model school in the United States.

UNDERCLASSMEN

And by the way, Mr. Haydn, New Castle High does put the kids first but you forgot to mention who all the kids were. We have already introduced the seniors; now we want you to meet the underclassmen—juniors, sophomores, and freshmen—who are the whole reason for our school. They are the reason that we need well-paid teachers, well-balanced curriculum, a good variety of convocations, all lines of sports, and well-rounded school activities.

Every school day with its particular problems and fun is planned with these students in mind. These are the kids who keep things moving at the building on Walnut Street. They are the ones who organize the clubs and attend the meetings, study hard to get a good education, cheer the teams on when going gets rough, and gripe about the little things.

These are the underclassmen of New Castle Senior High, the people for whom the administration has been working out a more adequate school system. Follow us through the next few pages so we can introduce them to you. Look them over and you will understand why we are proud of our underclassmen.

JUNIOR HISTORY

Here are the juniors of New Castle Senior High School. What do they do? Well, they have two of the four yell leaders, and they are represented in every field of sports. Others enter speech contests, and essay contests, and the senator to the Fourth Annual Student Congress at Purdue was a member of the junior class.

This is the only group of underclassmen that is organized. During the second semester they meet and elect class officers. This year's officers are Bill Thompson, president; Bob Breckenridge, vice-president; Marilyn Payne, secretary; and Gene Hastings, treasurer. Once the election is over things start rolling. They pick out the class jewelry and everybody orders theirs before school closes in June. By September of the next school year, when these kids are ex-juniors, they have their jewelry to wear during their senior year. Committees are appointed and they start planning and working and first thing you know—it's time for Junior Prom.

Yes, this is the junior class, their pictures and names. Look them over.

SOPHOMORE HISTORY

Once acquainted with these sophomores you wouldn't fail to include them when writing about New Castle High School. Why not? What does this class do that's so outstanding?

In answer to those two questions we want to say that this class has many outstanding members in sports, music, speech, home economics, business, and shop (industrial arts). It's true that the class does very little toward school life as to sponsoring school projects, but have you ever tried looking through a telescope whose second lens is missing? Likewise, without the sophomore year our high school career would be distorted. So, you see, they are very important and you mustn't fail to meet them. They are very proud to be attending N. H. S. where the kids come first.

FRESHMAN HISTORY

The last group of underclassmen is the freshman class. The kids in this class really get plenty of kicking around. "Greenie" is a typical name given to all freshmen here at New Castle High School as it is in all schools. We have many pranks which we pull on the freshmen; and no matter what they do, they are victims of some sort of joke.

During the freshman year of high school the students learn to get along with other students. Yes, we know that they have been going to school with other kids since they were six and seven, but just the same they have to learn how to get along in high school during their freshman year.

They have a different schedule to follow from that which they followed in grade school or junior high. Highlights are placed on new items. Plans are made for an entire four-year program. Convocations are scheduled for their entertainment and education, and new emphasis is placed on vocational training, sports, and extra curricular activities.

Here are the freshmen, all 291 of them.

If you invested 31% of your total income at a rate of 3% how much interest will you collect within . . . Oh! those dear junior math tests.

That must be a good story that Ritter is telling!

Open the door, Rich—oops! it's Bill this time!

They've got the pep and the steam—what a team!

Thank you, Mr. Crow. Now, let's see. Turn on the ignition, push in on the clutch, shift to first . . .

ACTIVITIES

Mr. Haydn, we mentioned that the kids always manage to keep plenty busy. And in the following section of our yearbook we will show you how it's done.

After school those that don't have jobs go down to the drugstore or the canteen to eat and talk over the day's mishaps. And what about those kids who do work after school? Well, there are always after working hours, you know!

During the school year the school puts on several dances each of which is sponsored by some school club. Some of these annual ones are Harvest Hop, Snow Ball, Holiday Dance, Heart's Hop, Class Day Dance, and we can never fail to mention Junior Prom and Commencement dances!

As for school shows we can chalk up for 1946-1947 four band and orchestra concerts, Footlights of '46, Crescendo Varieties, and several others. During the school day we had many interesting convocations.

These are a few of the things we do to keep busy, so leaf through the next section and you may find out more.

PHOENIX STAFF

If you really want to get the low-down on the weekly gossip and news of our high school, just pick up a PHOENIX. In this paper you'll find the latest in sports, fashions, and general news.

This year the PHOENIX staff sent representatives to the Press Convention at Franklin College. The paper is also a member of the Indiana High School Press Association and The National Scholastic Press. Here is the PHOENIX staff of the first semester—

1st row—Imogene Spivey, Betty Kennedy, Patricia Irvine, Juanita Cory, Burnette.

Second semester—

4th row—Richard Swindell, Scott Lindley, Kenneth Jones, Mr. Ervin, Davis, Willard Kennedy, John Whalen.

3rd row—Gene Sheffer, Frank Lawson, Jean Howren, Bob Johnson, Jamie Cunningham.

2nd row—Rosalind McKinsey, Rosemary Judson, Mary Rinard, Mary T. Bucos, Bonnie Wright, Janet Teetor, Gene Davis.

ALTRUSA GIRLS

Business clubs appreciate us, too, Mr. Haydn. The Altrusa Club, a local professional women's club, elected a group of six girls to represent the high school at the meetings. These girls were chosen on the basis of personality, leadership, and the vocation which they plan to follow after finishing their college education.

One girl is chosen to attend each month. They attend one meeting at which they are introduced to the members and asked to tell why they have chosen the vocation that they have. The Altrusa girls for this year are Mary Rinard, November; Dolores Davis, January; Sally Sauter, February; Mary Tambusco, March; Vera Lee Turpin, April; Thelma Wilson, May.

JUNIOR ROTARIANS

The Junior Rotarians are members of the senior class elected by members of The National Honor Society to attend the regular weekly luncheons of the local Rotary Club. The basis for their selection is leadership, personality, general worthiness, and accomplishments for the benefit of the school. The senior class president, and male members of the Honor Society are automatically members, while the remainder are voted on.

The class president attends the first month. At the end of the month he introduces the next Junior Rotarian to the members of the club. They continue in this fashion through the year. The members and the months they attended are Tom Cashdollar, October; Bob Small, November; Jim Sherman, December; Mac Parker, January; David Day, February; Roger Covert, March; Richard Miles, April; Jack Van Hoose, May.

ROSENNIAL STAFF

Here we are, Mr. Haydn, the gang that slaved night and day—and incidentally enjoyed it, too—the gals and boys responsible for this, the ROSENNIAL of 1947. We had fun, we admit that, but we learned a great deal about putting out an annual. It's our sincere wish that you enjoy reading this, the finished product, as much as we did making it; because, naturally, we're rather proud of our efforts. You really get pepped up over something when it occupies your seventh period every day for a year as the ROSENNIAL has.

Every member of the staff—both business and editorial—had his hand in on this, our "brain child." Here we are, taking our afternoon siesta on the stairs—introducing—

A usual 7th period hall scene outside of room 309—Bob Keesling explains his latest play, as Rog Covert, Miss Ritter, Dick Miles, and Cookie Gernstein stand around and look rather—shall we say—uninterested.

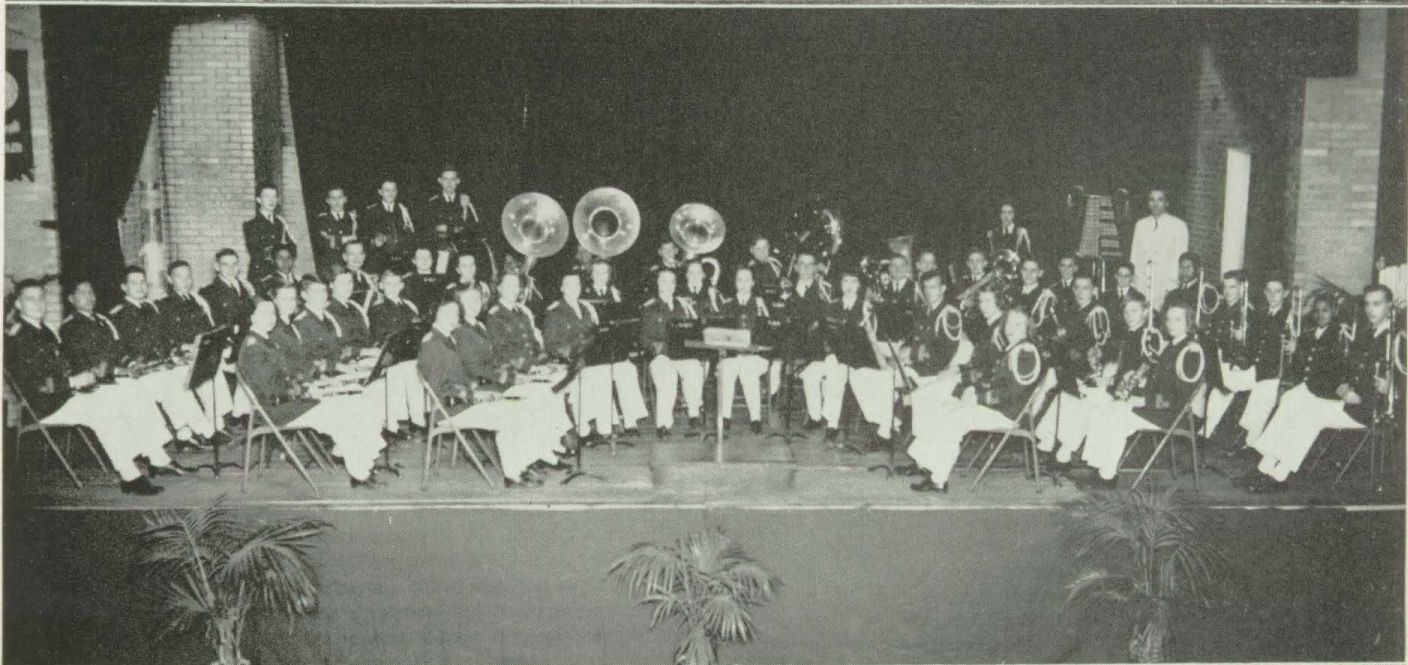

Something seems to be terribly wrong—the sun is still streaming into the Rosennial office—and by the smiles of Rosemary Judkins, Mary Rinard, and Frieda Dickerson—they're completing the last panel of the day. They must be speed demons.

It's hard to believe that these three grinning fools could help steer the Rosennial to completion—but they did—and here they are—as usual trudging their weary way to the Rosennial office—the co-editors and the business manager—Mart, Dick, and Joan.

ORCHESTRA

Mr. Chenoweth, in addition to directing the band, is the director of the concert orchestra. Their most successful series of programs this year has been the concert series. The programs for these vary. The first featured a piano soloist; the second, a piano team; the third, a baritone soloist; the fourth, a woodwind quintet. In spite of the fact that this is its first year, the concert series has been successful. Our orchestra is always called upon to help with dramatics department programs. Being willing to help, the orchestra has aided in keeping many an audience interested while the scenes are being changed. We know, Mr. Haydn, that you would express your approval of the concert orchestra.

Violins: Marjorie Lewis, Herbert Lewis, Gail Modlin, Jackie Greig, Cynthia Shirk, Rosalyn Fields, Martha Rinard, Jo Anne Courtney, Robert Harris, Beverly Thorne, Lois Stoops.

Violas: Charles Rouse, Freida Wilt.

Basses: Jean Meadows, Pat Allen, Sally Cliff, Marilyn Crow.

Piano: Jackie Paul.

Flutes: Betty McClain, Paul Stearns.

Oboe: Jim Collom.

Clarinets: Dorothy Higgs, Donna Jacobs, Betty Lindley, Dee Ann Jessup.

Saxophone: Delores Reynolds.

Bassoon: Mary Van Boven.

Bass Clarinet: Albert Cashdollar.

Trumpets: Lewis Poindexter, Harold Longworth, Bob De Wese.

Horns: Bob Van Bebber, George Small.

Trombones: Porter Poindexter, J. C. Addison, Charles Rinehart.

Tuba: Dale Rouse.

Percussion: Jim Ashton, Ed Marshall, Gene Harding, Joan Mitchell.

Our choir, under the direction of Mr. Small and accompanied by Janet Teetor, has taken part in many programs this year. They have sung at several of our convocations. Our concert series has been deeply enriched by their fine singing. In December the choir presented the music for the senior vesper service. At Christmas time they made records which were played over a public address system in the downtown area. They went to Muncie and appeared on a radio program there. So you see, Mr. Haydn, our choir is just as busy as any other department. No wonder we're proud of them!

BAND

Mr. Haydn, we're very proud of our high school band, which you didn't get to see. They gave entertainments at the halves of our football games. Their various formations and excellent playing, in addition to their flashy Trojan green and white uniforms, make a very pretty picture outlined against the gridiron. But that isn't all. They play at the basketball games and help to keep up school spirit, even though the team might be behind. Many of our half-time programs would enjoy very little success without the aid of the band, for during the year many of these programs require music. The band is again called upon to help and it stands always ready, always willing to help. Yes, we believe we are justified in being proud of our band.

FOOTLIGHTS

With the lights dimmed, torchy-voiced Betty Sampley sings "Coax Me A Little Bit." Looking at those gorgeous gals—we'd like to know who'd have to be coaxed!

"Onward, onward, swords against the foe"—so sings the Vagabond King, Jack Van Hoose, and his loyal followers as they plan to overthrow Burgundy.

It's raining cats and dogs as Peg Ramsey, Joan Devening, Phyllis Dalton, Pat Armstrong, Patty Morris, and Bev Cox huddle under umbrellas to listen to Pat Ellis' singing of "A Garden In The Rain."

One of our very important activities has been dramatics. This year we put on the first all-dramatic review entitled "The Footlights of '46." Every member of the two dramatics classes had some part in the show—which meant that 75 people worked and played together. We feel, Mr. Haydn, that the friends we made, the ability to work together that was gained during rehearsals, and the actual performance were a vital part of our high school training.

Many types of music were used in the seven acts. At the opening of the curtains "Candy," with her dancing eyes, started the audience off on an evening of entertainment. Everyone on stage sounded super and looked good enough to eat. Do you know, Mr. Haydn, some folks got to worrying about whether they'd closed the windows during the "Rain" number? It was that realistic . . . in fact they even sold umbrellas on the stage . . . and such lush rain coats haven't been seen for many a day. "By the Sea" brought forth loud laughter and long low whistles. Those lovely, lovely gals in the bathing beauty contest . . . those gay nineties creatures . . . and the life guards . . . wheee! !! "Carmen" was quite exotic—the audience enjoyed the costuming and solos. Some of the so-called "factory workers" mingled with the audience. The "Varieties" contained many popular songs—such as "Shanty Town," "Every Day is Ladies Day"—and more pretty girls—especially in "If You Were The Only Girl."

Everyone was dressed in white for the "Colors" number in which colored spot lights were used. Some of the solos were "Blue Skies," "Deep Purple," "Tangerine," and "Black Magic." At the raising of the curtain disclosing a chapel interior with several kneeling figures—the audience fell silent. "Ave Maria" with its severe simplicity lent a note of reverence to the performance.

With the ancestral Chinese portraits gazing down on the smooth tap dancing—"Chinatown" was really a top-notch act. The audience was put in the proper mood by the rick-shaw procession down the center aisle. For the finale we presented "The Vagabond King"—with most of the cast surging forth from the rear of the gym. All the banners and torches were really effective as the "scum of Paris" joined their friends on the stage.

Rehearsals were always filled with laughter and general cutting up. Then there was the time the chairs fell down under the bleachers—that time the rick-shaw ran into a post—the panic on opening night when the sea back-drop flew to the ceiling—the party at Klotsch's after the last performance, with everyone imitating everyone else's act. All that food—the scavenger hunt—rough-housing in the barn—playing tackle in the barn-yard. . . . We count the rehearsals, the actual performance, and the after as high-lights of our memory book.

DANCES

Confetti . . . serpentine . . . a little baby New Year (2 in fact) . . . Father Time . . . huge champagne glasses with large vari-colored bubbles (on the wall—of course) . . . hundreds of little pink elephants along with mistletoe composed the gay and festive atmosphere of the Holiday Dance . . . everyone turned out—dressed in his best.

We must have won the game that this mixer followed 'cause look at the big, happy crowd . . . it must be a fast number because just a few are dancing.

The Harvest Hop . . . everyone has on his best "bib and tucker" . . . the music was mellow . . . everyone had a simply wonderful time . . . we'll always remember the first gala dance of the year . . . some of the freshmen had their first chance to go to a big dance.

What do all N. H. S. students look forward to? You guessed it, Mr. Haydn, it's the dances! ! After every home basketball game some club sponsors a mixer to which everyone is invited, including those from the visiting school. Usually a school band or orchestra plays and everyone has a super time. It's the place to see all the gang—get to dance with the cute little brunette you've seen in the halls—or talk to that super letterman who made the winning basket.

Some club dances are annual affairs. The SunShine Snow Ball is always a winter wonderland with enough Christmas trees around to remind you of a forest. This year Santa Claus crowned Peggy Ramsey as Snow Queen. Another event we look forward to is the Phoenix staff dance after the sectional tourney. This year they called it the Tourney Trample.

In the fall we're all a-flutter about the annual Harvest Hop, the dance put on by the Hi-Y. Virginia Wright was crowned queen this year, and she and her date, Bud Klotsch, led the grand march. During the Christmas vacation the Hi-Y and Fi Del hold their Holiday Dance, a very festive occasion. This time the baby New Year was even present.

Every girl has her chance in February. Some schools have a Sadie Hawkins day—but the Fi Del has the Hearts Hop. Every girl asks her dream man to go dancing, and everyone has his best foot forward. This year Betty Lindley and John Whalen were crowned Queen and King of Hearts and they led the grand march. Teeny Swain's music was really something to dream about. . . . And that gym—with streamers making an aisle to walk through—hearts and cupids all over—tables around the floor—it certainly didn't look like our little old gym.

The juniors had their day, too. Yes, Mr. Haydn, they entertained the seniors at the Junior Prom, one of the most lavish affairs given during the school year. Prom always has superb entertainment, wonderful costumes—and an air of gaiety always seems to be around when the juniors say farewell, getting ready to fill the saddles of the mighty seniors.

And then—there's the long, long-awaited occasion, filled with tears and laughter—something to be long remembered—The Commencement Dance, our Commencement, the last time we get to dance in our gym while we're still in high school.

Oh, yes, Mr. Haydn, we consider all of our dances a very, very vital part of our school activities. We'll remember them long after we lay away our childish dreams, and take our rightful place in these times of a changing world.

CANTEEN

The music is soft or fast—according to who put the nickel in. The "bar" at the canteen is always busily supplying students with soft drinks, candy, and pop-corn—the checker boards are in constant use—as are the ping-pong tables in the basement—the dance floor is crowded with the high school gang. You can find all this and more, too—at the "Trojan Trading Post"—the local canteen located at the Y. M. C. A.

Yes, Mr. Haydn, this is our hang-out—the place to congregate after school—the spot to meet the gang—listen to music from the juke box—study a little and have a good time in general.

Early in 1943 the townspeople began to realize that their kids needed a place to knock around in—a place where they needn't worry about breaking bric-a-brac, scratching up the floor, or ruining the rug by dancing or spilling cokes on it. With a little remodeling a portion of the main floor of the "Y" proved to be the perfect spot. The students have proved that, with the assistance of Mr. C. A. Wittenbraker and Mr. Maurice Parsons, the canteen is a great success.

It's the regular hang-out of the high school crowd—after ball games—club meetings—a place to meet before and after the show. You can catch up on your latest math assignment—or just listen to the latest gossip. Some towns have yet to get their canteen. We're certainly very proud and happy to have ours—and do we use it? Well—the chairs and tables are usually crowded with people—and there are even kids sitting on the radiators and leaning on the juke box.

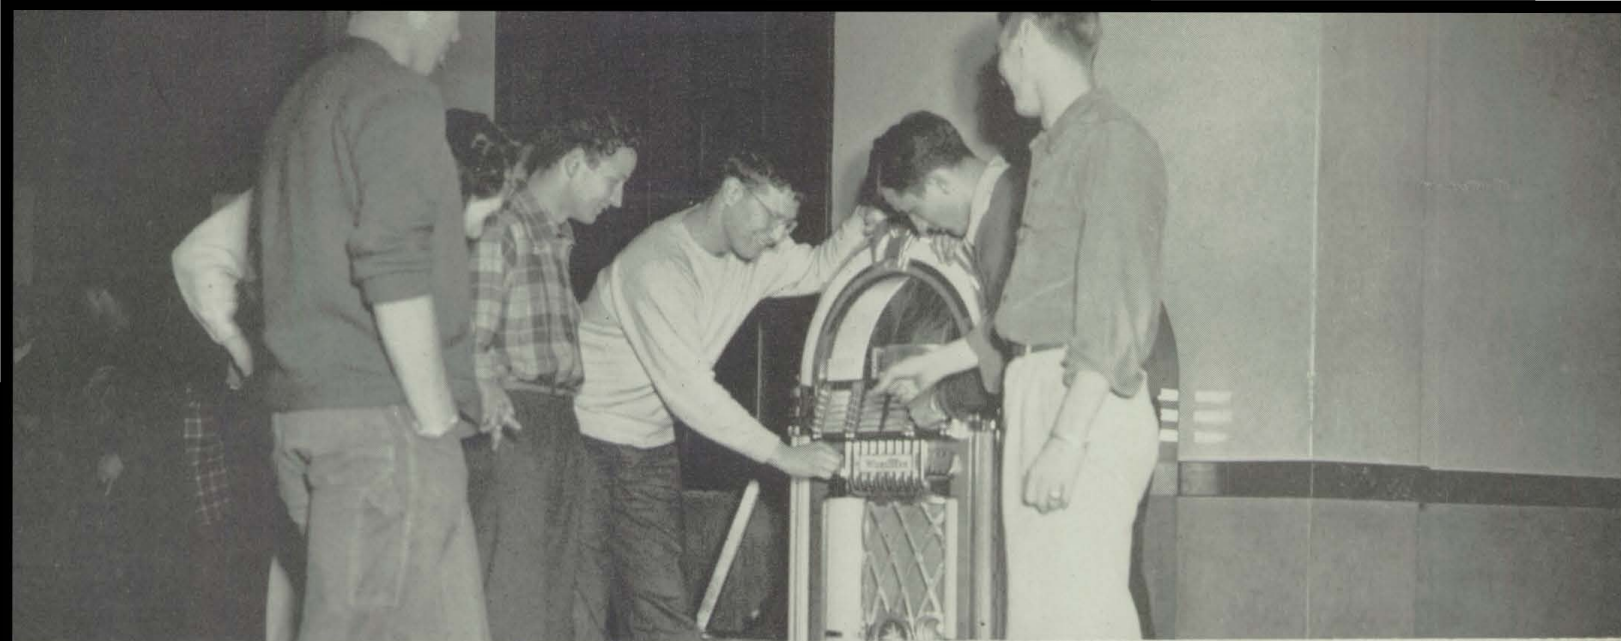

Come back again, Mr. Haydn, and see how our gang thrives at the canteen. You can always find someone there. It's the one place you're bound to meet all of your old friends, and get to know some of the other kids much better.

Cookie puts a nickel in the juke box while onlookers gaze in amazement.

Devening in one of her "silly" moments!

Peg and Jamie, Mart and Mac, Cookie and Margie, and others "trip the light fantastic."

CLUBS

"Attention all club members: There will be an important meeting in room . . ." Remember hearing something like that the third period? The P. A. system keeps all club members well informed as to what goes on and when.

We have approximately fifteen clubs here at New Castle High School. Plenty of variety, too. For example? Well, the scientists have the Science Society; the musicians have the Crescendo Club; the politicians have the Students Council; French students have French Club; and the Latin students have Latin Club. "Still others?" you ask, Mr. Haydn? Yes. There's the National Honor Society for the "brains"; the Machinists' Club for the machinists; Girls' Athletic Association for the athletic-minded girls; the F. H. A. for the future homemakers of America; the F. F. A. for the future farmers of America; and the Tri-Ratio, Tri Beta Delta, SunShine Society, Fi Del, Hi-Y, and Questor's Hi-y for all the socialites!

Enough you say? You bet, and we have loads of fun getting experience at leadership, service, and (ahem!) parliamentary exercise.

First row: M. Niles, N. McGahan, L. Stoons, J. Teetor, M. Payne, M. Webb, B. McClain, L. Maple, D. Luther, R. Harris, M. S. Hunnicutt.

STUDENT COUNCIL

With Mr. E. S. Castor as its sponsor, the Student Council has collected passes at convocations, appointed Hall Patrol Monitors, and worked on a better plan to purchase basketball tickets. Another important activity on the council's calendar is the Class Day Dance, which is given each year. The members have been making plans so that N. H. S. may have a block cheering section next year. The officers were Joan Devening, president; Marjorie Young, vice president; Jeanne Harvey, secretary; Tom Cashdollar, treasurer.

F. H. A.

Future Homemakers of America is open to any girl in high school who has had homemaking in junior or senior high.

The main purpose of the local chapter is to promote an appreciation of the joys and satisfactions of homemaking and to work for a good home and family life for all.

The girls sent gifts to needy families all over the world and knitted squares and shoes for the Red Cross.

The officers were Eldora Ankrom, president; Eileen Walker, vice president; Farel Bono, secretary; Peggy Graham, treasurer; Betty Higgins, historian; Betty Whitton, parliamentarian; Miss Roney and Miss Janney are club sponsors.

MACHINISTS' CLUB

Any boy who is taking machine shop work in high school is automatically a member of Machinists' Club. This club meets once a week at the K. of P. Hall, under the sponsorship of Mr. C. S. Kinder.

During the year this club sponsored a dance after one of the basketball games. An annual picnic and a rabbit supper for fathers and sons were held. The members elected the following officers for this year: Tom Cashdollar, president; Richard Whitton, vice president; John Kinsinger, treasurer; Basil Coleman, social chairman.

LATIN CLUB

Latin Club, under the sponsorship of Miss Mable Hodson, is open to any student in N. H. S. One of the high lights of the club was an imaginary trip to the Delphic Oracle. To his joy or to his sorrow everyone received an answer in rhyme, in words of the priestesses inspired by the god, Apollo. A reception for beginning Latin students was held in order to get acquainted. Climaxing the year, the club held its annual Roman Banquet.

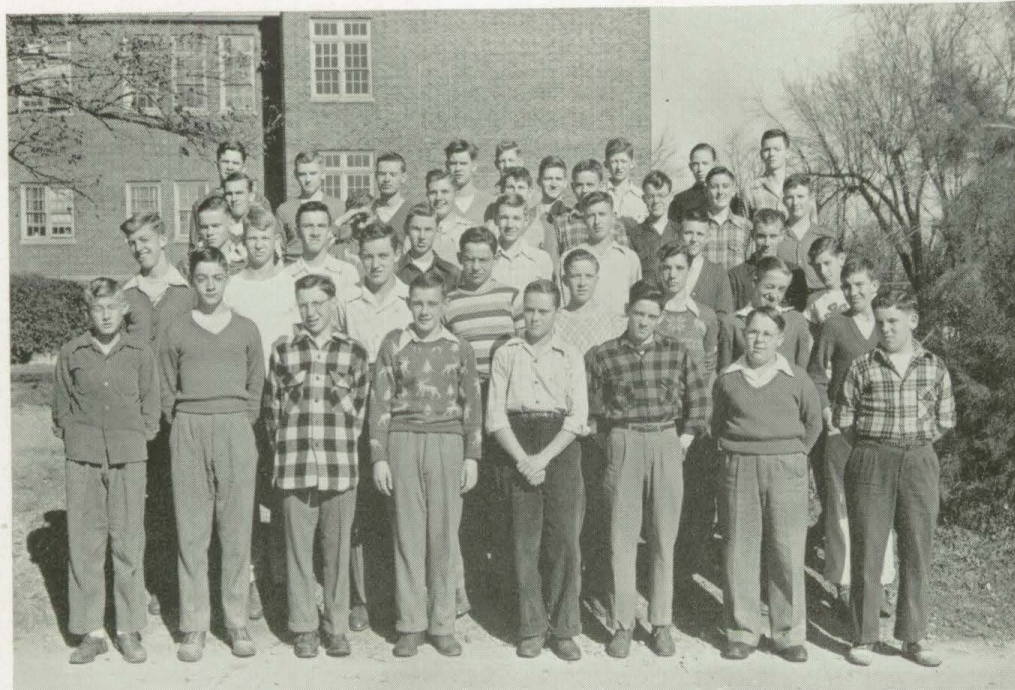

The officers were Marilyn Payne, president; Richard Teager, vice president; Janet Teetor, secretary; Charles Ashton, treasurer.

The young Caesars and Lucretias are having a reception at the Y to entertain the new members of the Latin Club.

Members of the Future Homemakers Club are talking about Old Saint Nick at a party where they exchanged gifts.

HI-Y

Fifth row: Rex Bailey, Jim Garvin, Charles Ashton, Mac Parker, Roger Covert, John Whalen, Jim Burns, Clarence Caldwell, Gene Cartwright.

Fourth row: Robert Bavender, Gene Frazier, Bill Greer, Scott Lindley, Joe Burris, Keith Davis, Howard Joyner.

Second row: Kenneth Carter, Mark Ocker, Marvin Gernstein, Bob Keesling, Ralph Clemons, James Cunningham, Ernest Klotsch, Bob Breckenridge.

QUESTERS' HI-Y

Any freshman or sophomore boy is eligible to become a member of Questers' Hi-Y. This group of boys are the younger Hi-Y's. During the holidays, the boys, accompanied by their sponsors, Mark Clay and Howard McKnight, took Christmas treats to the County Farm and made distributions to all. During March they sponsored their annual school dance, The Shamrock Swing. These were the main activities.

The officers for the year were Charles Grubbs, president; Larry Barry, vice president; Keith Hinshaw, secretary; Keith Hodgins, treasurer.

F. F. A.

Any boy who is taking an agricultural course is automatically a member of The Future Farmers of America. This organization is one of the newest in the school. During the year outside of regular meetings this club sponsored a dance, which is pictured below, and held a party for the members. Mr. Painter, one of New Castle's new teachers, is the sponsor of the club. The officers for the year have been Jim Reno, president; Jim Schetgen, vice president; John Barry, secretary; Bob Archey, treasurer.

The Hi-Y formal initiation services—some of the pledges down on their knees at the command of their superiors—at the annual Hi-Y hayride the pledges rode on the sideless wagons—Bob Small crowns Virginia Wright queen of the Hi-Y Harvest Hop—Dave and Marge at one of the after-game mixers.

HI-Y

The Hi-Y Club is open to any junior or senior boy who is willing to attempt work on a given project. If this project has been accepted, he may become a permanent member.

Along with their annual Harvest Hop, Hi-Y also sponsors other outstanding events such as the Hi-Y hayride, pictured below; Holiday Dance, Father and Son Banquet, and Best Girl Banquet.

The sponsor is Mr. Francis Reed. The officers were Bob Small, president; Jack Van Hoose, vice president; David Smith, secretary; Jim Sherman, treasurer.

DRAFTING CLUB

A new organization in New Castle High School, which is not pictured, is the Drafting Club. This club is under the sponsorship of Mr. James S. Anlietner. Membership to this club is limited. To become a member, one must be a drawing student. The boys work on various problems such as designing and drawing projects. This club meets once every other week and is a non-social organization.

The officers for the year were Keith Davis, president; Carl Shelley, vice president; Charles Riley, chaplain; John Riggs, secretary; Bob Elkins, treasurer.

HONOR SOCIETY

Standing: Martha Mendenhall, Phyllis Sidwell, Doris Pleasant, Miss Ratcliffe, Robert Small, Joan Devening, Richard Miles.

First row: Dolores Davis, Jack Van Hoose, Roger Covert.

FRENCH CLUB

Second row: Doris Perdew, Mary Van Boven, Marjorie Brown, Jean Beckett, Lou Ann Klus, Charlene Pate, Phyllis Sidwell.

First row: Doyle Sutton, Elmer New, Larry Sherry, Don Scott, Jim Sanders, Eugene Watters, Richard Miles.

FI DEL

Fifth row: Mrs. Hartzell, Bobbette Carroll, Mary Rinard, Mary Tambucos.

Fourth row: Judy Hudson, Barbara Beall, Joyce Crider, Gwendolyn Fellers, Pat Morris, Patty Ellis, Marjorie Lewis, Jackie Paul, Luella Crauder, Arzella Thompson.

Third row: Marilyn Webb, Juanita Kern, Mary Ann Foyst, Marilyn Payne, Phyllis Bunch.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Probably the most exclusive organization in our school is the National Honor Society, which consists of juniors and seniors who are chosen by the faculty. The choice is based on leadership, scholarship, character, and service. Fifteen per cent of the senior class and five per cent of the junior class are eligible. Among their activities are taking care of the honor roll and ushering at the convocations. This year they have taken on a new duty, ushering at the music department concerts. The officers for the first semester were Jack Van Hoose, president; Dolores Davis, vice president; Joan Devening, secretary; Bob Small, treasurer; Miss Ratcliffe, sponsor. Second semester the following officers were elected: Richard Miles, president; Martha Mendenhall, vice president; Doris Pleasant, secretary; Phyllis Sidwell, treasurer.

FRENCH CLUB

A new club in school this year is the La Societe Francaise, otherwise known to most of us as the French Club. With Mr. Alvin Lake as sponsor, the members have tried to spread the French language in our school and city.

The Honor Society in a formal mood, ushering at one of the concerts—the same gang working on the scrap book they keep of school activities—Fi Dels selling T. B. seals at the post office—French club members at their banquet.

The formal banquet, pictured below, and a dance after one of the basketball games were the main activities of this organization.

The officers were Richard Miles, president; Jim Dailey, vice president; Phyllis Sidwell, secretary; Mary Van Boven, treasurer.

FI DEL

The Fi Del Club was formerly a closed club under the name of Tri-Hi. During the school year it was changed to an open club with the new name of Fi Del. The girls met every two weeks to discuss and carry out their program, which included Holiday Dance, Tri-Hi Reunion, pitch-in supper, and the annual Hearts Hop. These are only part of the things that Fi Del was responsible for having. Among their other important activities were selling refreshments at each basketball game, selling Tuberculosis seals at Christmas, and passing blankets during the half of the basketball games in order to help with the March of Dimes collection.

This year's officers were Joan Devening, president; Imogene Sparks, vice president; Beverly Cox, secretary; Martha Mendenhall, treasurer; and Mrs. Wilma Hartzell, sponsor.

First row: I. Atkinson, R. Harris, E. Hamlin, P. Pahmier, B. Fields, B. Wiley, M. Fine.

SUNSHINE SOCIETY

The SunShine Society, having nearly one hundred members, is the largest organization in our school. This club is open to all girls in high school. In order to become a member you must earn a number of points made by giving service in certain suggested ways. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Fylious Fisher this group of girls has done many things for the good of their school and community.

At Thanksgiving the girls fixed fruit plates for the sick and shut-ins. At Christmas time they gave baskets to the needy. As a social activity they sponsored one of the outstanding events of the year—that all-important dance, The Snow Ball. Pictured below is a scene from the dance showing Peggy Ramsey, who was elected Snow Queen. Each year in the spring this club collects money for the Riley Fund, which is used at James Whitcomb Riley Hospital in Indianapolis, Indiana. At Easter, the girls conduct a sunrise service for the faculty and students, and serve breakfast to the guests following the ceremony.

The officers were Martha Mendenhall, president;

Linda Harrison, vice-president; Marilyn Payne, recording secretary; Joan Devening, corresponding secretary; Mary Ann Foyst, treasurer.

G. A. A.

At the Armory every Thursday afternoon at 3:30 p. m. you'll find a group of girls playing soccer, volley ball, basketball, baseball, and nearly every athletic game you could think of.

The purpose of the league is to stimulate interests in girls' athletics and to standardize and promote ideals of health and sportsmanship. By playing each Thursday the girls gain skill in all sports.

Under the sponsorship of Miss Ruth Andrews and Miss Suzanne Rapp the members of the Girls' Athletic Association sold pennants, sponsored a dance after one of the basketball games, sold green and white Trojan hats, and played soccer at the half of the Burris-New Castle basketball game. Pictured below is a scene from the soccer game.

The officers for the year were Cecilia Rifner, president; Phyllis Sidwell, vice-president; Ruby Dobbs, secretary; and Judith Shepherd, treasurer.

The SunShine Society performs one of its deeds at a basketball game when the members take a collection for the Infantile Paralysis Fund.

Peg Ramsey reigns over "The Snow Ball," sponsored by the SunShine group.

The G. A. A. girls entertain between halves at one of the basketball games.

First Row: R. Covert, R. Clemmons, G. Worthington, J. Sherman, A. Yergin, T. Wilt, M. Hunnicutt, L. Burnette, P. Beeman, D. Raines, M. Armacost.

ALPHA TRI-RATIO

Any junior or senior girl in N. H. S. is eligible to become a member of Alpha Tri-Ratio. Like Tri Beta Delta, this club is also a branch of the state Tri-Hi-Y organization. In addition to regular meetings, one of which is pictured below, the girls gave a Mother and Daughter banquet, and in the spring gave a tea for their mothers. They also sponsored a dance during the year. This club contributed to the March of Dimes.

The officers for the year were Virginia Wright, president; Helen Martin, vice-president; Thelma Wilson, secretary; Ruby Dobbs, treasurer. The sponsor is Miss Martha Shelley.

TRI BETA DELTA

A comparatively new club in this high school is the Tri Beta Delta, which was organized in 1945. So many girls asked to join the Tri-Ratio chapter that it soon became necessary to form two groups. Since this was against the club's constitution, it was decided to make two separate clubs. The second became Tri Beta Delta. Both clubs are branches of the State Tri-Hi-Y organization.

The girls of Tri Beta Delta are dressed in formals to initiate their new members at a dinner at the Y.

During the year the girls held a formal initiation which is pictured below and also sponsored a dance after one of the basketball games.

The officers for the year were Thelma Upchurch, president; Margaret Sutton, vice-president; Virginia Thompson, secretary; Phyllis Popejoy, treasurer, and Miss Helen Rupley, sponsor.

SCIENCE SOCIETY

Science Society is the oldest organization in New Castle High School. Its purpose is to "delve further into the phenomena of science." An organization such as this tends to introduce science to more and more students. Any student in high school may become a member of Science Society if he is interested in science. As in previous years this club has managed to have some very interesting programs during the year. This year some programs which proved to be outstanding were one in which a magician was present and a liquid air demonstration.

The officers for the year were Alan Yergin, president; Bob Thomas, vice-president; Sally Sauter, secretary; Jim Bancroft, treasurer. The sponsor is Mr. George Bronson.

The Alpha Tri-Ratio members are holding one of their regular meetings in the canteen.

SPORTS

Who are those guys that are wearing those green sweaters with the big white "N" across the front? You guessed it! They are the guys who have played in one of the many fields of sports offered at New Castle High School. They are the ones we sit through rain and shine to see carry a football across the goal, the ones whom we cheer on to make another basket, to run a little harder, to pitch or bat that baseball a little better than the other team.

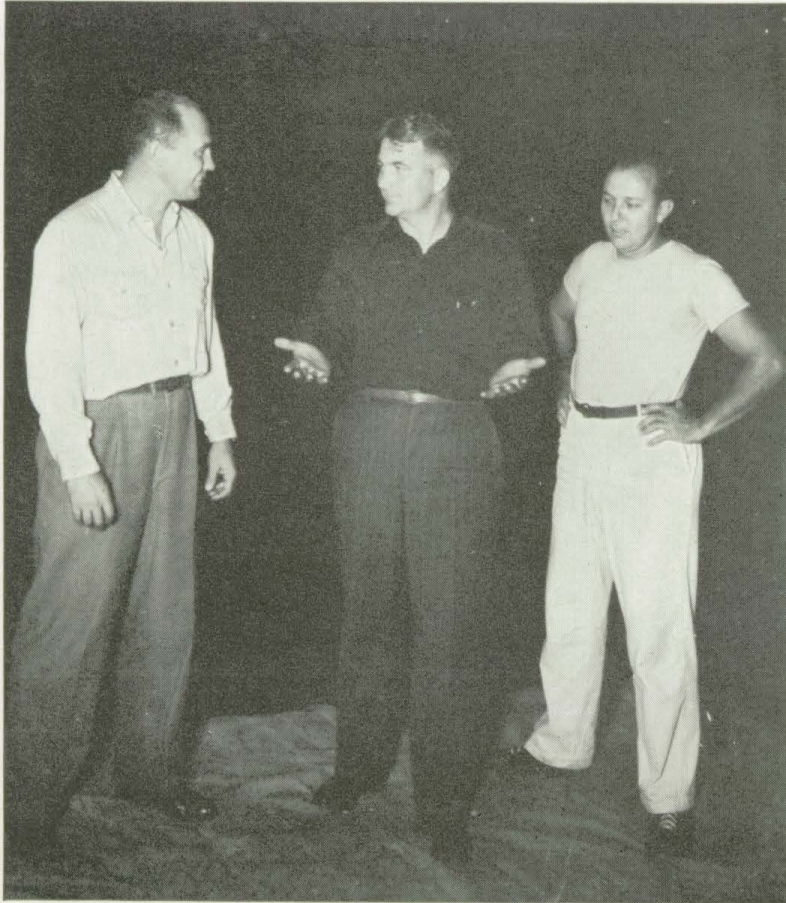

But, Mr. Haydn, when you visited our school, you didn't witness one of our sporting events. You didn't see the Trojans work after school in order to play a conference foe. You didn't see our athletes stay home from dances and refuse chocolate candy bars in order to be in better physical condition when they played Muncie Central or any other team that challenged them.

So, Mr. Haydn, as you leaf through the sports section of our book, you can see for yourself the Trudgers in action and in play. And you can see why our school is rated among the best when it comes to sports. We know that as you read these pages, you will admit that N. H. S. has many fine athletes, and whether our win and loss record is good or bad, that you will agree with us that the following quotation is true:

"When the one great score is marked against your name,
He cares not if you won or lost, but how you played the game."

A CLOSE-UP OF THE COACHES

Behind each team is the coaching staff and here are Langan Hay, John Janzaruk, and Bill Makowsky, who are the football mentors for the Green. Langan was the assistant coach and instructed the junior varsity who were credited with several victories. He gave considerable time to the varsity squad, was the main backfield instructor, and developed his boys into hard runners and blockers. "Jan" is the head football coach and hails from Indiana University. Through his past records, he has proved to be one of the best in his field. A valuable asset to the curly-haired gentleman is his personality which, in turn, enables him to have closer relations with his players. Since his arrival at our high school, he has made a record of 18 wins and 11 losses. And there is Bill Makowsky, who is better known as "Doc." He principally dealt with the freshman squads and his job included training the beginners in the fundamentals of the game. New Castle's Trojans should benefit from this well-balanced staff and improve their records in the future.

FACTS ABOUT FOOTBALL

Although the Trojans gained a total of 1195 yards by rushing and 525 yards passing in nine games, they came out of the 1946 football season winning three games and losing six.

Last August 20, Coach John Janzaruk greeted 40 eager players, and out of this group there were only four players with any previous experience.

After three weeks of practice, the Trojans were first tested by the Crispus Attucks team from Indianapolis, which was rated at the end of the season eighteenth in the state. The Trudgers at times displayed the form of a winning team, but at other times they showed lack of experience and the need for improvement. The final outcome was 18-6 in favor of New Castle.

The next game was with the Seymour Owls, who definitely thumped the Trojans by a score of 20-6. There just wasn't too much to tell about this game as the Trojans displayed both a poor offense and a poor defense.

The next game was with the Richmond Red Devils; but, although the Trojans were beaten by score 20-0, they played one of their best game of the season. The Trojans played heads-up ball the entire game, and gained a total of 186 yards rushing and 128 yards passing.

The Trojans met the Rushville Lions and defeated them 14-13 in their next game. The Trojans displayed a bad first half offense and a very poor defense, but came out in the last half to put over two touchdowns and two extra points to win the game.

The Trojans then went to Marion where they played the best game of the season. Led by Bob Keesling, who scored two touchdowns, they won their third game of the season by a score of 19-6.

After winning two games in a row, the Trojans then prepared for the Gerstmeyer team from Terre Haute, who were rated as one of the toughest teams in the state. Although the Terre Haute team won the game by a 39-7 margin, the Trojans outplayed them in every phase of the game, and ran up 12 first downs to Gerstmeyer's five. Gerstmeyer scored three touchdowns on three intercepted passes and one on a return kick-off to give them the breaks of the game.

The Trojans now became desperate for another win and tried to take it out on the Shortridge Blue Devils. Although the Trojans played a good game for three quarters and were on top 13-12 at that time, they just didn't have the reserves to help them and came out on the short end of a 31-13 score.

Then came the final game of the season with the Trojans' oldest rival, the Muncie Bearcats. The Bearcats were favored to win by at least six to seven touchdowns. The Trojans put on the power, aided by a muddy field, to stop the Muncie Bearcats and their all-state back, Dooley; but the Bearcats won by a 20-0 margin.

FACTS ABOUT THE TEAM

CLEMONS: 5'8" 152 lbs. Senior. Playing his third year as a regular, "Ciolli" was noted for his ability to block and tackle. He caught 12 passes for a total gain of 89 yards. He played two years at guard and in his senior year at quarterback. WHALEN: 6'11½" 178 lbs. Senior. "Fish" was the best punter on the team. He caught 39 passes which is proof enough of his ability. You can also list him as one of the best when it came to blocking from the end position. GERNSTEIN: 6'11½" 190 lbs. Senior. "Cookie" made it hard on the opposition by his ability to fill up holes. Because of his experience he could play either guard or tackle. He completed his second year on the varsity. KEESLING: 5'11" 170 lbs. Senior. "Ears" was the leading ground gainer on the team, gaining 497 yards. He also completed 69 passes for 525 yards. Bob finished his third year as a regular and received all-state mention at halfback. BAKER: 5'11" 185 lbs. Senior. Don developed fast as his first year progressed. Because of his speed and ruggedness Don played fullback, gaining 378 yards. CHANCE: 6'1" 160 lbs. Senior. Coming back from the Navy, "Chick" fully earned his position because of his defensive ability. He caught 12 passes from his end position for a total of 96 yards. RENO: 5'9" 145 lbs. Senior. Jim played center and made up for his lack of size with fight and determination. Although having no previous experience, he started every game and played halfback on defense. LAWLESS: 5'10" 200 lbs. Senior. Fred, back from the service, played in every game. "Burrhead" was big and a hard boy to move out. He was the running guard of the team. WALLEN: 5'11" 170 lbs. Sophomore. Edgar played guard and moved to the first team because of his all-round play. With his ability he ought to be a great guard in the future. ARCHEY: 5'10" 175 lbs. Senior. Bob moved to the first team because of his defensive ability and played as a regular tackle every game. He played his best game against Seymour. ELLIS: 5'10" 155 lbs. Freshman. Jerry played his best game against Rushville and played in every game afterward. With his experience he should be a valuable halfback in the future. He gained 203 yards and caught six passes. TAYLOR: 5'8" 145 lbs. Sophomore. "Jersey" played his first year of football as a sophomore. He lacked experience but earned his position by his speed. He should be a regular at guard in the next two years. GRULER: 5'8" 145 lbs. Junior. George played center and should be a mainstay next year. He was best at defensive halfback because of his ability to intercept passes. ATKINSON: 5'11" 160 lbs. Junior. Playing his first year on the varsity, James took part in every game. He was known especially for down field blocking and defense from his tackle position. GARVIN: 6'11½" 170 lbs. Junior. Although handicapped by a knee injury which bothered him continually through the season, Jim put his weight behind the team at every opportunity. He will be back at tackle next year.

THE TROJANS' TRAIL

At the beginning of the basketball season, Mac Parker had an injury so Bob Keesling was the only returning regular. After losing the first five games—Connersville, Greensburg, Anderson, Tech, and Burris—the men of Troy won from a highly favored Richmond team. After a loss to Muncie, they showed a great offense to win from Rushville 53-24. With a revamped line-up, the Trojans showed they were to be feared. They lost to Columbus and Anderson before winning from Logansport in the Big 4 tournament on New Year's Day. Lafayette, 3rd in state, beat the Trojans by a margin of only 5 points, 37-32, before they won from Kokomo and Frankfort. After a revenge defeat by Richmond, they won from Marion and Logansport. In a hard-fought game Muncie beat the Trudgers 37-35. They were then rated as the most improved ball club in the state. The Trojans were out for revenge against Anderson, who had won two previous encounters, and beat them 43-26. The Trojans reached their peak by giving Lebanon their worst defeat of the season 46-29. The Greenmen won 6 games and lost 6 in the North Central conference. This put the Trudgers in 5th place in the conference. When the tip-off for the first game of the sectional came, the Trudgers had three regulars out and lost a very hard-fought game to Mooreland 33-32. They scored a total of 602 points for an average of 34 points. The Trudgers' foes score 580 for an average of 32 points. The three seniors—Yeager, Parker, and Keesling—will be missed but the Trojan squad has 7 returning lettermen next year including 5 sophomores.

Second row: Van Bebber, Haynes, Stegner, Ellis, Grose.

First row: Dailey, Parker, Yeager, Keesling, Hedrick.

FACTS ABOUT THE FIRST TEAM

KEESLING: 6' 175 lbs. Sr. Guard. Bob held the team together all year by his experience and quick thinking. He was the main cog in rebounding. He was 3rd in the conference in scoring with 125 points. HEDRICK, 6' 160 lbs. Soph. Forward. Bob moved to the first team in mid-season because of his drive and ability to hit. He scored 26 points and started 8 games. He will be back for two more years of play. YEAGER: 6'5" 195 lbs. Sr. Center. Curt, by the end of the season, was one of the best centers in conference because of his improvement. He was the "handy man" under the basket and scored 118 points to be second high scorer for the Trojans. PARKER: 6' 160 lbs. Sr. Guard. Although hindered by an ankle injury for the first 8 games, Mac returned to help the Trojans win 6 out of 10 games. He scored 80 points. VAN BEBBER: 6' 160 lbs. Jr. Forward. Bill began hitting during the last part of the season and made 82 points. His drive sparked the Trojans in the pinches. With his experience he will go places in the future. HAYNES: 5'8" 125 lbs. Jr. Forward. What "Microbe" lacked in height he made up for in cleverness and determination. Because of his ability to fake he started 7 games. He scored 36 points. ELLIS: 5'10" 150 lbs. Fr. Guard. Jerry came to the first team in mid-season and started 6 games. With his ability to jump and lacking only experience, he shows promise of being a real Trojan. STEGNER: 6'2" 175 lbs. Soph. Center. "Red" made the team because of his height and rebounding ability. With more speed he should be a regular for the next two seasons. DAILEY: 5'11" 160 lbs. Soph. Guard. Jim started 5 games and scored 19 points. With his ball handling and speed he made the varsity and will be back for two more seasons. GROSE: 5'9" 160 lbs. Soph. Guard. "Gums" made the tourney team by his steady improvement. His one-handed shots were deadly and couldn't be stopped. Reserve Jack a place on the team for the next two years.

Eleven wins and seven defeats was the record rung up by "Doc" Makowsky and his Trojan Colts in their 1946-47 season. And in the North Central conference play, the Trudgers struck the "happy medium" by ending with a six and six count.

The all-sophomore squad displayed their strength by ending the half-way mark with seven victories out of nine starts. Then with the beginning of the second half, Coach Stuckey rearranged his "A" team and elevated Bob Hedrick, Bob Stegner, and Jim Dailey to the varsity team. With the absence of these starters, Coach Makowsky drilled his remaining eight boys and discovered some real competitors. In the remaining nine encounters, the Green quintet was credited with four.

Second row: Crane, Hodgins, Cassidy, Young.

First row: Grose, Stegner, Meek, Cline, Hawkins.

BASEBALL

Despite the difficulties of rainy weather, the 1946 Trojan baseball team enjoyed a very successful season, winning ten games and losing four.

The Trojans, under the able guidance of Doc Makowsky, opened the 1946 winning streak by defeating Spiceland 21-0, and then continued as follows: New Castle 6, Knightstown 2; New Castle 15, Spiceland 6; New Castle 20, Knightstown 2; New Castle 10, Connersville 6. New Castle then played a return game with Connersville and were beaten 7-5, to end their five-game winning streak. Next they played Richmond and lost by a score of 18-3, and then to Muncie 13-2, and Anderson 4-0, before they returned their full glory by beating Richmond 3-2, Muncie 8-3, Kokomo 10-8, Marion 6-5, and Frankfort 5-2.

The Trojans played their games during a very rainy season, in which games with Anderson, Shelbyville, Tech, and Lafayette were cancelled. Although this couldn't be proved they still were rated as one of the toughest sluggers in the business.

Returning to the 1947 squad will be Mac Parker, Bob Keesling, Jack Van Hoose, Ralph Clemons, John Kinsinger, Jack Keith, and Tom Cashdollar.

TRACK AND CROSS-COUNTRY

During the fall of 1946 cross-country, another new sport, was added to the long list of Trojan activities. The team had a fair season with 2 wins and 2 losses. The five runners who were chosen for the team were Clarence Schofield, David Smith, John Kinsinger, Eugene Haynes, and Jack Wright.

Although this is a new sport, it still tends to build the boys' form and endurance for other sports and by the time the season rolls around again, the Trojans will take to their usual winning form.

During the spring the regular track season starts. Although last season's track team wasn't too good, this year they will have a lot to look forward to. Returning to the Trojans Thinlies will be Bob Keesling, who ran the 220 and 440-yard dashes; Mac Parker in the pole vault and 220; John Whalen in the mile and half mile; and Jim Dailey in the half mile and 220-yard dash. Returning for the mile relays, which was a strong point of last year's team, will be Jim Dailey, Bob Keesling, Bob Small, and David Day. This relay team last year placed second in the sectional. Mac Parker placed second in the pole vaulting, and Jim Dailey placed second in the 880-yard dash. Coach Walter "Dutch" Hassfurther will have a group of experienced men this season and we can look forward to new Trojan glory.

GOLF

The golfers of Troy opened their 1946 golf season on April 3rd with a win over Richmond by a score 4-3. Then on May 17th we played a return match with Richmond and lost by a score of 11-4. The Trojans then entered a conference meet at Kokomo and placed fourth with a total of 369 points. In the mid-afternoon of May 14th, the Trojan golfers beat the Anderson Indians by a score 11-6½. Playing a return match on May 20th, we beat Anderson again 16-8. The Trojans were next to be entertained for the afternoon at the exclusive Meridian Hills Golf Course at Indianapolis in competition with Tech and Anderson. We placed third.

To wind up the season the Trojans took part in an invitational meet at Tech where they placed third. This was a fairly successful season for the green and white golfers since it was the first time they had taken part in inter-scholastic competition in three years. Returning for the 1947 campaign will be Jerry Charles, Marvin Gernstein, Elbert Chastain, Larry Barry, and Mac Parker.

The schedule for the '47 season consists of dual meets with Muncie, Richmond, and Anderson, and conference meets with Kokomo and Tech of Indianapolis.
