Big Bang

No. 1 with a Spike

Junior Kelci Dye served up the volleyball during a match against Muncie Central. Dye and the Trojans reached a No. 1 state ranking in Class 3A for the first time in school history. The Trojans won the sectional before losing to eventual state champion Bishop Chatard in the Yorktown Regional. They were the only New Castle team all year to ascend to a No. 1 state ranking.

Fun in the Field

Junior Ryan Kalk attempted to throw a football through a tire hung from the football goalposts while junior Jason White looked on. The activity was part of the school's annual Field Day that took place in the fall. Field Day was held during ISTEP testing week and those students who didn't have to take ISTEP were treated to a series of outdoor and indoor activities.

Leader of the Pack

Junior Ali Kunkel led the Trojan Marching Band through a morning exercise ritual. The TMB played at all home football games and in weekly contests around the state. The TMB also went on a Thanksgiving weekend trip to Walt Disney World in Florida. More than 150 students participated in TMB!

Field Day is a day where students who have passed the ISTEP get together for a whole hearted day of fun. Meanwhile the students who are taking ISTEP exam sit in a class room slaving away for their chance the following year to perticipate in Field Day.

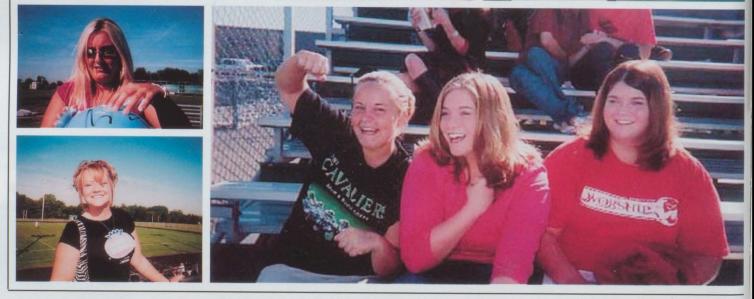

Principal Mr. Bruce Gaylor stated, "I think it's a good day when we can give students an inncentive to pass the ISTEP the first time and let off steam early in the morning while having a good time. I hope we can continue. There is a discussion curently at the state level about adding a junior test starting with the class of 2007."

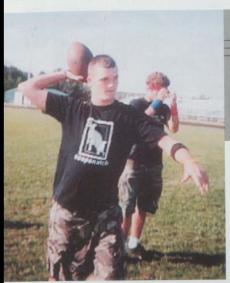

In the pervious two years, Mr.Gaylor took care of the details of Field Day. This years Senior Class President Rishi Megha took on the majority of the responcabilities."Organizing Feild Day was a challenge but with all of the wonderful help I had it made it easier. Once again, the Seniors ruled the Juniors."

Every year the classes compete for the beloved spirit stick. If the senior class wins the spirt stick, it will be retired with their class. If another class wins the class gets to redecorate the spirit stick and defend their title untill they graduate. The day ended with the Seniors of 2005 earning the glory of retiring the spirit stick.

Achievement Day

Eight Seniors realize academic goals

Achievement Day is a day for honoring the outstanding scholars of New Castle Chrysler High School. Since the fall of 1961, 488 green blazers have been awarded to seniors who have maintained a grade point average of 11.0 or higher for six semesters.

New Castle Chrysler High School Principal Bruce Gaylor stated, "Achievement Day is probably one of the two best things that we do in this school. One is Achievement Day in the fall, and the other is the Rennissance Rally in the spring. Achievement Day recognizes students who have done what we've asked them to do."

This year, eight green blazers and 15 crests and certificates were awarded to the senior class. Senior Chris Upchurch mentioned, "The Achievement Day Convocation was great because it truly showed the respect that many students have for each other and that the student's efforts payed off." Also, 36 certificates were awarded to the junior class. "Several outstanding students have been recognized over the years during the Achievement Day Convocation. This year's group has to be one of the most diverse ever," said English Teacher and Achievement Day Coordinator Jim Robbins.

Final thoughts

By Devin Shone

As we begin to separate in the world on our paths to college, here are a few suggestions to help along the way: 1. You are never too cool for an umbrella. 2. When walking to class or work, stay as far away from the road as possible. Many people have a bet to see if they can get you wet.

3. Random nights with people on your floor can be some of the best memories.On a weekend, order some buffalo wings at 2:30 in the morning and just sit and watch a movie. It will be great fun!

4. Try anything that interests you...you never know what kind of person you want to be until you fully explore every corner that peaks your interest.

Work hard and have fun and life will bring you happiness.

9. Bethany Michele Morgan

Bethany was ninth in the class of 2005. She graduated with a GPA of 11.08. She is the daughter of Phil and Kim Morgan.

10. Stacie Marie Pasman

Stacie was tenth in the class of 2005. She graduated with a GPA of 11.07. She is the daughter of Kevin and Kelly Pasman.

Enjoy life

By Matthew DeLoughery

The past 12 years of our lives were filled with ups and downs, good times and bad times, fun, boredom, and friends. For most of us, our lives will change dramatically after high school. Some of us are staying close to home and some are going far away. In either case, we will be surrounded by totally new people. We may run into an old friend here and there, but mostly we will be on our own. Be true to yourself and if you find yourself not exactlty where you want to be in life, do all that you can to get there. Our lives are changing.

Make this change a good one by becoming who you want to be and getting where you want to go. Don't waste any opportunity that comes your way.

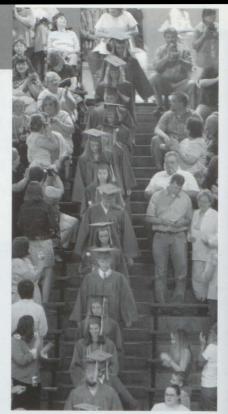

Do what you need to do to be a success, but always take time to stop and enjoy the moment.

junior year when all the senior girls received their senior shirts. The first senior activity was the painting of the senior parking lots. Once the seniors filled their own potholes, they were good to go. Soon after the students learned that for the first year ever parking tags were required. Field Day was an early year event and the seniors won the point battle in a close race over the juniors. As the year went on, SAT retakes and LSP (Learning Style Projects) became a big concern. Everyone always turned in everything last minute with the LSP projects. Then there was ECON! Those dreadful taxes that all seniors hated but in the end realized weren't so bad. At Fall Dance, juniors Tyler Jackson and Amanda Hacker received Queen and King.

Senior year started with the last day of the However, seniors got their revenge at Prom when Chris Upchurch and Brittany Walls were named Queen and King. Prom was held at the middle school in a late change. Skating parties and the March of Dimes walk were also highlights. In May, the girls senior breakfast was held and Ebony Turner was voted Queen. The PTA cooked for the Senior Picnic and the seniors made smores. May 20th was the seniors last day of school, highlighed by the senior walk. Recognition practice and graduation practices and picnics and other senior activities filled up the seniors final days. Then Recognition Awards and graduation was held and the last senior event to take place was Night Club, where all the memories and fun of high school and future plans were discussed.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Where the real world meets high school

President Rishi Megha and Secretary Sarah Lewis, both seniors, prepared to get the Student Government meeting under way.

Student Government Senator Joe Bowman, a senior, explained important matters at a Student Government meeting in early 2005.

"Student Government went really well this year. The blood drive was one of the most important things we have done because of the county-wide shortage. I'm very proud of these kids and all of their great efforts."

- Mrs. Garreth

"Student Government is a great way to make a difference around school. You can learn new things about yourself and others. I would encourage anyone interested in making a difference to join!"

Senior Sarah Lewis

"This year the Student Government made a lot of positive changes. Everything went a lot smoother and we kept the students busy. I hope next year's Student Government keeps the tradition alive."

Senior Rishi Megha

"Being in Student Government was a very positive experience. We were able to raise money and help out our school as well as the children at Riley Hospital. Student Government is a great way to give back to the community."

Junior Kati Denney

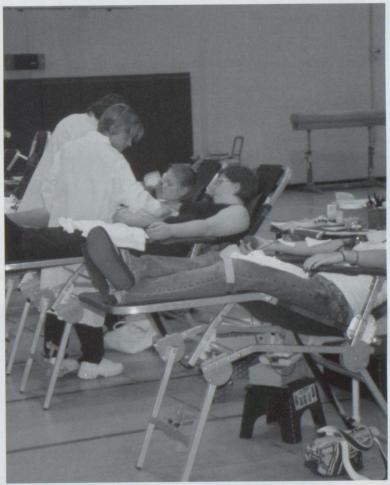

"This year Student Government was a great success. We made a lot of important improvements within our school. The good thing about Student Government is that it is fun while at the same time can teach you important life lessons."

The high school blood drive organized by the Student Government couldn't have come at a better time. On the very day of the blood drive, Henry and surrounding counties announced a severe shortage of blood. Luckily, more than 70 people were able to give a pint of blood. "We had an outstanding turn out this year," commented junior Kristin Dausch, "About twice as many of last year." The blood drive is one of the most important things they do all year. It showed that the school community cared about the community.

Students enjoyed Chicago

Thirty-six students brave riot police for fun time

Senior Andre Noguiera found himself in the middle of what looked like an episode of NYPD Blues. Fortunately for Noguiera and 35 other New Castle National Honor Society students, the Chicago incident was nowhere near as exciting.

"It was pretty exciting," Noguiera said. "Police were everywhere. We didn't know what was going on." The incident occured during a National Honor Society trip to Chicago. A group of Chicago policemen were in formation and marching down the street when the unspecting students happened upon them. "Riot police were on every corner," said Mrs. Shauver, one of three teachers who accompanied the group. After the excitement wore down, the students were treated to a tour of Shedd Aquarium, a walk down Navy Pier, and a trip to Medieval Times Theater. "This year's trip was the most awesome trip ever," senior Beth Morgan said. "We had fun the whole time."

SADD (Students Against Destructive Decisions)

In late 2004, NCCHS implemented a SADD committee. The high school SADD was requestd for obvious reasons; in short we wanted to address the student body in a positive manner in attempt to make them think before making destructive decisions, things that could have a negative impact as a result, things we are able to prevent. - SADD Sponsor Cheryl Bise

Senior Chris Owens was exhausted after a long day of prevention activity.

Juniors Becky Higginbotham, Anita Megha, and Anthony Gulley spotted Amanda Lee while she demonstrated that pervention is the key.

Senior Aaron DeLoughery raced to the next door during the quick click challenge.

The Speech Team (below) practiced diligently in attempts to perfect their performance for an upcoming meet.

"I may not agree with what you say, but I'll defend your right to say it to the death." Mr. Robbins is a firm believer in the First Amendment, hence the class he taught was Speech.

Right: Brett Hayes is upside down over his final year at New Castle.

Right: At Field Day, Richie Lee was first in line to help the seniors beat the underclassmen at tug-o-war.

Remembering Our Friends

Elijah Swails October 1, 1986-March 17, 2003

We used to laugh We were best of friends We thought that's how it would always be You taught me so much Told me exactly what to say I wish it were still the same But someday I know it will Maybe not today But we'll meet up again It won't be long until I see your face In Heaven that marvelous day

Brandon Kennedy September 10, 1985-September 4, 1998

Sophomores, the class of 2007!

If you could attend a concert by any artist (living or dead) who would it be?

"I would want to go to a Thrice concert because they are awesome." -Spencer Morgan

What group do you like to listen to the most on your CD player?

"Bright Eyes, because Conor Oberst writes beautifully poetic lyrics and breaks through all genre classifications combining indi, American-folk, south western, emo, and pop to form an all new musical experience." - Jeff Alexander

-- There were three sets of twins in the sophomore class: Seth and Spencer Fleming, Hope and Ariel Froderman, and Chris and Andrew Dillon. --There were six red heads: Abigail Adams, Andrew Anderson, Lenden Bowsman, Abby Rahn, Kathy Richards, and Melissa Thompson. -- The sophomores were the third largest class with 122 girls and 114 boys.

--There were six girls named Amanda and five boys named Andrew.

What is your idea of the perfect job?

"I think the perfect job would be one that you enjoy doing and that you can have fun with." -Ross Kilgore

What TV show will you miss watching?

" I will miss watching the Simple Life because Paris and Nicole are so goofy." -Abby Adams

Trojan Marching Band

Feet Together! Stomach in! Chest out! Shoulders up, back down! Chin up! Eyes to the Dome! With steak!

Trojan Marching Band had several exciting highlights. Their season began "officially" on September 11 at the band's first contest. New Castle's season was off to a good start, taking home first place at Franklin Central. The band kept these similar stats before a major shock occured at the end of the season.

At Winchester, where Regionals were held, the wind was blowing cold and hard along with several injuries that occured that day, snow was also falling. "Although it was dissappointing they didn't go on, they gave their best performance and came out with their heads held high because they knew that giving it their all and being a class act was all that mattered," said Director Steven Fletcher.

TMB also performed at Walt Disney World. They went on a six day trip to Florida. While there, they visited many parks and met many characters. "The Disney trip was indeed the performance or a lifetime for the band. The entire experience left everyone with memories that will last a long time," exclaimed Director Mark Middleton.

Peer Facilitating is more than a class of mediations and orange "Ask Me" t-shirts. It's more than an excuse to go out to eat with your friends at lunchtime (though that is a perk!) Peer is a place that teaches its students about themselves and their relationships with those around them.

Seniors Chris Owens, Chris Upchurch, Megan Malloy, and Brock Coffey ponder what it

Not only do peers offer help to the kids in elementry schools, they also offer a mediation program for NCCHS. Maybe senior Matt DeLoughery should look into that program...

Facilitating

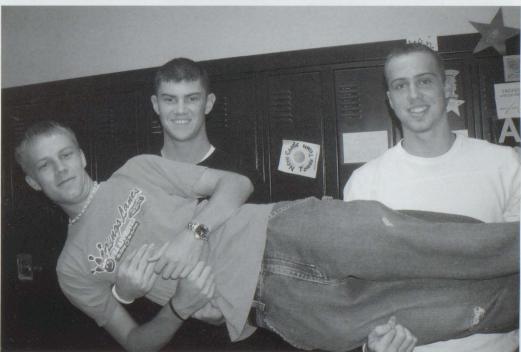

Seniors Emma Strong, Brittni Spera, and Joe Bowman wait axiously for 6th period to begin.

Buddy Chandler and senior Megan Clements are just hangin' out.

Watch out! Senior Abby Whisman and buddy Shelby are the most ferocious of dinosaurs!

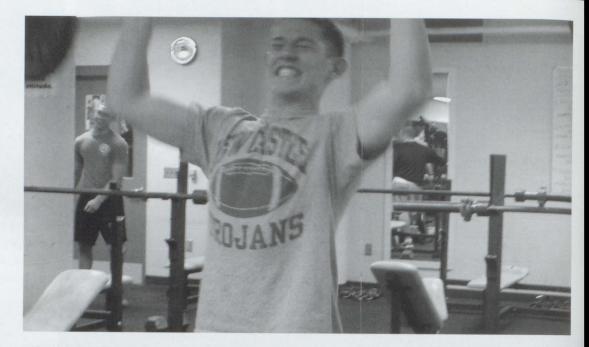

Seniors Patrick Chappell, Kyle Olsen, and Jeremy Richardson...well, the picture speaks for itself.

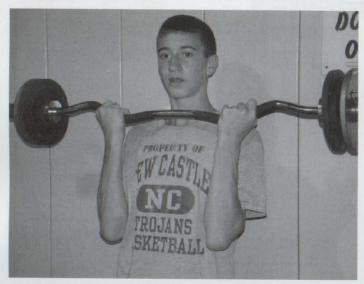

^{Peer} is also about giving an elementary student a day to look forward to each week. It is about being there for a child that ^{may} have no other stable relationships besides the one they have with you. It is about loving and understanding that child ^{unc}onditionally when no one else will.

Hard work and dedication lead boys tennis

When watching a Trojan tennis match, fans and supporters began to appreciate the hard work and dedication it took to accomplish a successful season.

Practices at the beginning of the season were long, hard, and dedicated sessions. Even though practices became easier as the season went on, it didn't change the effort the team put into them. What helped the team through a successful season was the comradery the teammates had for each other. You can tell they were really close and had a lot of fun at the same time.

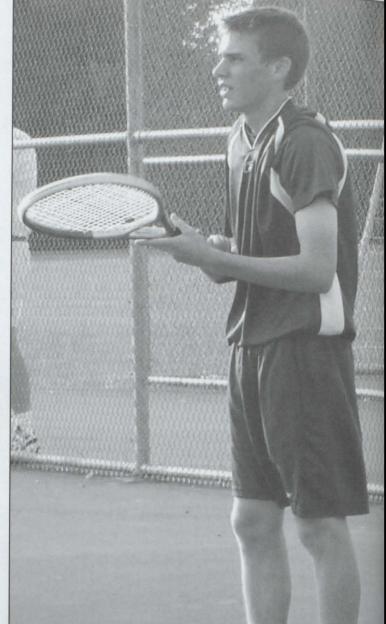

According to some members of the team, Coach John Burdsall was nicknamed "El Conquistador," which stood for "the Head Guy."

Although Mr. Burdsall was concerned about the move of two of his players this year, Matt and Ben Hamm, the team didn't let him down. The boys ended their season with a 10-8 record and placed 5th in Conference. "We had a successful season; we won more games than we lost and placed in Conference," stated Mr. Burdsall.

The boys tennis team proved that with hard work, practice, and dedication, nothing is more satisfying than a successful season.

Girl Golfers have succesful season

Sophomore Catherine Brunoehler saved her best for last for the New Castle Girls Golf Team during the fall of 2004.

Brunoehler was the only girl to qualify for the state finals and was the only individual from New Castle who advanced past sectional play. Brunoehler shot a 95 at state, which was played at The Legends Golf Course in Franklin.

As a team, the Lady Trojans finished with a 2-5 record in dual meets and also completed in five invitationals. The team defeated Tri High and Blue River Valley.

Team unity led girls harriers

The group of runners in the 2004-2005 girls cross country season were great runners, as evidenced by one of their top runners advancing to reginals.

The highlight of the girls season was "The outstanding positive attitude, determination, and mental toughness at the North Central Conference meet," said Coach Ron Grimes.

Even though the girls were without their number three runner, the girls were determined to be successful in all of their meets. This meant that the girls had to equally fill the spot of the missing runner with their efforts.

"Seeing all of the girls together in a group prior to the start of a race," was one of Coach Grimes' best memories of the season.

BOYS CROSS

Youth didn't stop Trojan runners from improving Although young and inexperienced, the boys cross country team progressed steadily during the 2004 season.

"This year was a very difficult year for me because of the 12 runners that I had, seven of them had never ran high school cross country before," said Coach Jon Tabor. "However, I do feel that the season went very well and that improvement took place. The group was full of hard-working individuals who really clicked and gave me their best."

Coach Tabor indicated that the progress during the season was exceptional.

"I could always count on them to give their best 100% of the time. Nearly all of my runners cared about the sport in puting all of themselves into it in order to get the most out of it," Coach Tabor stated.

Even with a disappointing seventh place out of eight teams at the North Central Conference meet, Tabor was pleased with all of his runners. Senior Brett Hayes had a season best time of 16:46 and his time dropped more than a minute during the season.

"The most interesting thing about the season was the drastic improvement of every single runner from day one to the end of the season. Not only did their physical ability change but their toughness also improved," Tabor said.

"We didn't win any championships and we didn't break any records, but as a whole we were able to overcome a lot of obstacles throughout the season and work together to achieve unity and brotherhood," said Tabor.

While compiling an impressive 30-6 record, the Trojans knocked off two No. 1 ranked teams and earned the school's first-ever Class 3A No. 1 state ranking.

"Our biggest win of the year came on the road against Chatard, this year's 3A state champion," coach Phil Leswig said. "They were ranked number one at the time and we went to their gym and beat them in a thrilling five game match."

The girls beat No. 1 rated Brebeuf Jesuit at home and then went on the road and beat Bishop Chatard 10 days later when Chatard was rated No. 1. The Trojans carried that No. 1 state ranking most of the season and steamrolled through sectionals before losing a rematch with Bishop Chatard in the Yorktown regional.

"Being number one was a great honor," Leswig said. "We work hard in the gym every day, and our goals focus on playing our best. It is nice to be recognized for our hard work."

Some key preformers were turned in by senior Rachael Alcorn, the team leader on the court with 304 kills. Junior Hannah Fenker also had a break out season and was a great leader on and off the court.

Bright Future Ahead

Trojan Happenings on the Sidelines

NCCHS Football

The New Castle Trojan Football Team had a rough season with a record of 0-10. New Castle coach Warren Cook advised, "The future looks very bright for Trojan football. Our seniors have spent the past four years pointing this program in the right direction. We have the attitude and the work ethic in our younger players to take it another step. I look forward to the next few years of football at New Castle, and I am very confident in the ability of our younger players."

Although their record wasn't the best, the team stayed motivated throughout the season. "We take things one day at a time, and one week at a time. Hard work always pays off. I can't tell you when, but it will pay off," said Cook. The Trojan football team had some very tough competition this season. Some of this season's top players were quarterback Seth Lee, linebacker Devin Shone, wide reciever Justin Walker, and offensive lineman Brandon Purvis. "Being on this team for the past four years has taught me a lot. I have greatly enjoyed my New Castle Football career," stated Purvis.

The junior varsity and freshmem teams both had a good season also. The junior varsity team played one game and came out 1-0 for their season. The freshman team played eight games and ended their season with a record of 7-1.

"The team was filled with extraordinary players. Alone we may be broken, but as a team united, it's possible, the team comes first," said freshman Andre Turner.

A lot of work and dedication went into the making of the Trojan girls soccer team.

With the 2004 season, the team had five wins and one tie. The most impressive memories were the three games the girls came from behind to win.

The team learned a lot about the teamwork and technique during practices and applied those same techniques during their game performance. The desire to learn more in practice helped to improve the abilities of the team during the soccer season.

It takes a lot of hard work to play well on the field. Senior Megan Malloy controlled the tempo of the game, distributed, and was the coach on the field. Junior Rachel Siekman had an outstanding ability to take players one-on-one and her leadership on the field made all the other individuals around her better.

Freshman Marie Baker led the team in scoring with ten goals. She was good at pressuring the ball in the offensive third of the field and putting the ball in the net.

Freshman Heidi Lanzer improved every game as the goalie. Sophomore Erica Ponsler and senior Leah Hannum anchored the defense all season long. Although Erica played injured the last half of the season and Leah came back from being sick a whole week, the girls managed to pull together and had an incredible come-from-behind victory at Marion.

On the topic of the highlight of the season, Coach Chris Dehart said, "Avenging last year's loss to Centerville on their home field, holding Kokomo to three goals while Jama Casey scored her first career varsity goal (it was the first time ever that a New Castle girls soccer team had scored on Kokomo), the second half come behind win at Marion as well as Connersville on Senior Night."

Youth didn't deter the New Castle boys soccer team from achieving its main goal, which was to achieve a winning record. For the seventh consecutive season the team finished above .500 and finished 2-5 in the North Central Conference. One of the major accomplishments of the season was junior Logan Brewer being named All-District. Some of the top players of the season were Brewer with 17 goals and 14 assists, junior Jeremy Beach with eights goals and eight assists, and Andre' Noqueira who was 8-6-1 in goal.

Senior Amanda Breen set four school records during the 2004-2005 season. Coach Jennifer Kelsik stated, "I was overall pleased with the season but was somewhat disappointed that the 400 free relay didn't make it to state. We should have been able to break the 200 free relay record." The girls had quite a busy practice schedule which would consist of broken swims, negative split swims, kicking, pulling and long and short sets. These are only a few of the many exercises these girls would do to become prepared for a competition.

Coach Kelsik also stated that Breen, Michelle Ray, Jessica Hadsell and Cari Janssen were her top four swimmers. These four girls were her top four swimmers because Kelsik said that they were experienced because they were the older girls and have been on the swim team before this year.

Before a meet the team's warm up would be swimming 1200-1800 yards, that's 28-36 laps. Even after all the hard work the girls still wanted to do more; the girls showed this by going out every competition and doing the best of their ability. The girls truely loved what they did and it definitely showed.

Boys swimming had strong finish

The boys swim team finished a good season with a fourth place finish at sectionals. Some of the season's key swimmers were seniors Brett Hayes and Matt DeLoughery and sophomore Spencer Fleming.

After being in sixth place after the first day of the sectional, the New Castle boys pulled off an outstanding fourth place finish. Senior Matt DeLoughery came close to winning the 200 free at the sectional. "Swimming was a lot of fun, but it was hard too. I am glad it is over but I will miss the people," stated DeLoughery. A season highlight was defeating Pendleton Heights by winning the 400 free relay in their dual meet. "These young men pulled together to have exceptional swims at sectionals. It makes coaching enjoyable to watch swimming like these boys had," stated coach Jennifer Kelsik.

The only seniors were Hayes and DeLoughery. Both Brett and Matt were major assets to the swim team. "We had as much fun on this team as any team I've been on," Hayes said. "We worked hard and that was the key, but those early practices are killer."

The wrestling team had a rough season. They lost several wrestlers, making it difficult to win tournaments due to forfeits. Sophomore Kris Pence was one wrestler out after he suffered a leg injury in practice. He wasn't able to return until sectionals. The team suffered a hard loss at sectionals,which hadn't happened in many years, but they stayed strong and came back and won regionals. The team lost at semi-state, but two wrestlers, juniors Gary Black and Matt Carter, advanced to the individual state meet. Gary placed 16th and Matt placed eighth. The team also had quite a few young wrestlers, but were bright about the next season and hoped to have a stronger team.

The New Castle Lady Trojans finished out So their season with a record of 9-12. The Lady so Trojan basketball team had a rough season, Le but there were many highlights and even blo new records set during this season. In her last year as a Lady Trojan, senior Jessica Carr had a great season. She averaged 15 points per game, 11 rebounds per game, and she was also named the first team all N.C.C. " I think our season went okay, though it could have been alot better. I definitely will miss my team and coach a lot," Carr stated.

Some season highlights for the Lady Trojan team were defeating both Rushville and Jay County. The Lady Trojans had a lot of tough, competitave teams to compete against this season, but they kept their heads up and in the game. Some records that were set this year were set by sophomore Allison Reece and junior Amanda Lee. Reece set the record for amount of shots blocked, which was 53. "It was really exciting to break the record. It felt awesome," said Reece. Lee tied the school record for amount of free throws made in a game, which was 10-10. Also, the Lady Trojan team set a record of 69.5 percent of free throws made in a season. Some player stats from this season were

Trojans Finish as Regional Runner-up

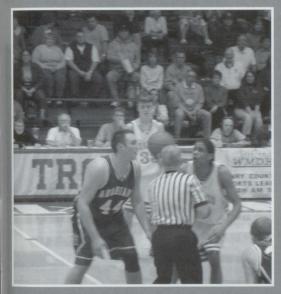

The varsity basketball team had a successful season, ending with a 19-6 record and a sectional title. The Trojans made it to the regional championship before losing to Roncalli. Some key performers were leading scorer senior Daniel Cox (17.7 points per game), senior Jeremy Richardson, freshman Chase Stigall, sophomore Zack Hahn, and senior Seth Lee. The Trojans were rated as high as No. 5 in Class 3A and also made it to the elite eight. When asked about the season, coach Steve Bennett said, "It was a great season. We played some great basketball and we got on a roll once the tournament started. We had a bunch of unselfish players who just wanted to win and keep the New Castle tradition going. We were successful on both accounts."

Words From The Team

"We had a great season. It was one of the most fun seasons I have ever been a part of." -Senior Seth Lee

"This year was great. Everyone pulled together and we had a great Season." -Freshman Chase Stigall

"The team did a very good job this year in preparing for each and every game." -Coach Bennett

"This year was great because the whole team had a lot of fun not only at meets but also at practices. Thompson was a great coach because he let us have fun and didn't pressure us to have good scores."

> Senior John Millikan

Young team survives tough season!

Team captain, senior Patrick Chappel, highlighted the season by scoring an even par 35 at a meet early in the season at Westwood. The team was very young, and as the season progressed they began showing a lot of consistency on their shots.

"We progressed throughout the season and began to see some consistency from some of the younger players," said Mr. John Thompson, who was in his third season as golf coach. The Trojans were led by Chappel.

Junior Jason Armstrong took a minute to enjoy the hot sand before the shot.

GIRLS TENNIS

Nothing but Love!

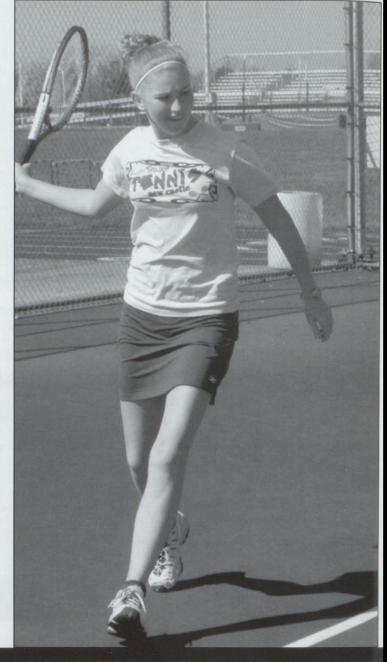

The girls tennis team finished the season with a 7-8 record. The team turned the tables on Tri High in the sectional winning 3-2 after being beat during the season by Tri 4-1. The girls were later beaten by regional champs Franklin County. The team placed seventh in the North Central Conference with a 1-6 record. Erin Batt played #1 singles, Cindy Li played #2 singles, and Catherine Brunoehler played #3 singles. Kelci Dye and Kate Metroka played #1 doubles for the second straight year and seniors Sasha Mihankhah and Megan Furbee played #2 doubles.

The team had several players playing in different positions then they played in last year, so going into the season Coach Burdsall didn't expect too much from the team. However, the team did rise to the occasion and played well the entire year. Coach Burdsall said, "I could not have asked for a better bunch of girls. They are great kids!"

GIRLS TRACK

Young team got better

Coach Ron Grimes was excited about his 2005 girls track team. "We kept getting better and better as the season progressed and that's what you look for in track," Grimes said. "We posted most of our best times at conference and sectional and that's always fun to see." The Trojans fielded a young team that featured only four seniors among the 27 members on the team. All three relay teams posted their best times during either the sectional or regional with the 4 by 100 relay team leading the way in :53.77 seconds.

Winning the North Central Conference for the first time since 1998 meant everything to New Castle coach Brad King.

"This season everything just clicked," coach Brad King said. "We just went out and played ball at a very high level day-in and day-out."

The Trojans finished the season 21-6 and were 6-1 in the NCC. The 21 wins ties a school record set in 1998, when King was an assistant coach.

In addition to winning the NCC championship, other highlights included bouncing back from a 21-4 loss in the first game of a doubleheader to defeat

Chesher also was the team's top pitcher with a 6-1 record and a 3.44 ERA. Junior Kyle Olson led the picthing staff with 35 strikeouts.

"The fact the kids worked so hard in practice was the key to our success," said King, who played at New Castle from 1987-89. "Every year our expectations are high but it takes hard work in practice and games to reach your goals. This team was willing to pay the price."
