The Class of 1977 had already seen a year filled with excitement, competition and success. As they approached the last week of school, this gave them a challenge to complete the year as successfully as it began. The week consisted of several different activities, which were: Senior Breakfast, the Recognitions Day Convocation and Baccalaureate.
On Monday, June 6, 1977, Commencement exercises were held in Chrysler High School's Fieldhouse. The speakers were seniors Greg Easter and Karen Chilton who preceded the presentation of the Class given by William E. Lehr. Then the 377 seniors received their diplomas and were graduates of Chryster High School.
It was obvious that the Class of 1977 would miss their days at CHS, but the desire to fulfill their future goals was stronger. Let us hope that their legacy to the Class of 1978 will be their motto, "Free to be what I am with the hope of becoming what I was intended to be."

The expressions are varied as the upcon graduates approach their commencement.

June 13 was one of the most ex-places and things I saw that were really interesting included going to my mother's family's grape vineyard in her hometown. We also went shopping in Hungary.

I was fortunate enough to receive English riding lessons twice a week from the stables in Hungary where Princess Anne of England had ridden. My trip this summer to Hungary was an experience and a visit I will never forget. The people of Hungary do not have everything we possess in the U.S. but they gave me all the love and kindness in the world."

Senior Dave Hermanet ventured to Iceland with the American Field Service last summer. Below is a very brief summary of the trip:
"I got started on Monday June 20 for the C.W. Post College in New York. Tuesday night I left for Iceland and on Wednesday I arrived.
My family lived in Hofn, a small fishing village with about 1,200 people. There I lived with a family of five, headed by Lars, the father, and his wife, Greta.
While I was staying in Hofn, I worked in a fish factory and loaded swordfish. Also, on the weekends my family and I stayed in a summerhouse. It was in the beautiful mountains.
I cannot begin to tell you all the plane ride took him to Brazil.

Eric left on June 20 and after a few days of minor stops finally landed in his town, Braganca Paulista, which has a population of 100,000.
While in his city, he learned to play soccer which became an everyday activity. Eric also went to school during the month of August. This, at first, was difficult because of the language barrier, but slowly he learned their Portuguese.
"It's impossible to think of a time when I wasn't enjoying myself."

Leaving the United States June 2 and returning on July 19, Tony Sloan spent a vacation with his brother and his family who live near Kaiserslautern, West Germany. Tony stayed at his brother's home on the Ramstein Air Force Base, the largest American community with a population of over 55,000 .
"I spent three weeks at the base and loved every minute of it. There were a lot of places which were top secret and I couldn't go there but mostly it was like America because of all the Americans who were there.

place, everything was great."
Tony also toured major cities in Austria, Italy, San Marino, Monaco, France, Luxembourg, Belgium, Switzerland, Yugoslavia and the Netherlands.
On June 30, 1977, a group of 29 students and adults left to travel through Europe. This group was started and organized with the help of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Webber and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Chamberlain through the American Institute of Foreign Study.

While in Europe, the group toured six different countries. These countries included England, France, Belgium, Holland, Switzerland and Italy. In these countries, the group visited such interesting sights as the Eiffel Tower in Paris, the Vatican in Rome, and Buckingham Palace and the Tower of London in England.

National Grand Champion of the Tennessee Walking Horse Association is sophomore, Sherry Dietz, capturing the title for the third year in a row.

Taking a dangerous plunge from his bicycle is junior Keith Gerkin.

The minute the final bell of the year rang, signaling the start of summer vacation, the students wasted no time beginning their plans. For most of the students, books were put aside and suntan lotion and bathing suits appeared. However, some of the more studious and ambitious students preferred to seek jobs to occupy their time or continued their education through summer school.

Others attended various camps over the summer. Some spent time at Girls' and Boys' State or yearbook workshop. Others went to Band Camp, FCA Camp and a workshop for cheerleaders. Whether it was a camp or a workshop, these students all had a great time and brought back many new ideas.

Many were involved in different organizations and took an active part in them. Some students were members of the $4-\mathrm{H}$ club. They entered different contests, exhibits and fairs.

For some students, summer gave them a chance to simply relax and enjoy doing what they pleased. Spending their spare time swimming, vacationing or just being with friends was entertaining.

No matter how one spent his summer, everyone found it to be a welcome time, filled with fun and excitement which passed all too quickly.

Summer gives way to fall as the annual NFL picnic signifies the reopening of school.
"Time out, let's take a break!" This might be what these students are saying after a vigorous game of football in the warm sun.

On July 5, 119 band members gathered at the parking lot for the first practice of their ' 77 marching routine. They worked several weeks to perfect the performance for competition. The first contest took place at Winchester. They received first place for the third year in a row which entitled them to retire the traveling trophy at last!

The band's next two performances took place at Delaware and Jay County, where they received a fourth place at each. After a two week vacation, they attended band camp at Rensselaer, and the vacation was over! Changes were made in routine and music, alignment and execution of moves had to be worked out and it all had to be completed in one week. "Impossible," some may say but not the Trojan band. They did it!

The Trojan band received 16 th place at State Fair out of 44 bands. Reminder: This placing was ACCORDING TO THE JUDGES ONLY!

Other activities the band participated in included the field show competition in Ossian which they received a close second behind a state contender, District and State solo and ensemble contests, Jazz Band Ensemble competitions, Pacer game at Market Square Arena, and the Memorial Day parade and band picnic.

Precision Flag Corps practices a segment of their field show routine after school with the band. The 18 Flag members, under the direction of Liz Shauver, practice several hours before each performance.

Trojan band performs their evening competition for the judges at State Fair with a lot of excitement and a tinge of fear.

The new members of the band are keyed up and ready for anything as the seniors begin the specialty of band camp - Initiation!

The last practice on the music begins before the morning performance at State Fair.

The Pom-Pon Corps starts to march off the field after the ten minute routine had been practiced. Pom-Pon directors were Chris Dorr and Lynette Holiday.

Drum Major Jim Razor directs the band to the beat of the music.

JARGON

The jargon of 1978 varied from the language our parents spoke and most likely will vary from what our children will speak. Although everyone speaks the same language it seems that each generation and sometimes each group or individual has his own way to express himself and sometimes this means using different words. It's a way to identify with "our own kind." We should keep these words that we used throughout high school in mind as we grow older and hear new ones. Don't laugh ours were just as crazy.
boogie - to dance book - to study or to go somewhere chump - someone that is gullible cool dude - a carefree person crack me up - to make someone laugh cruise - to drive around disco - a dance place fag - feminine acting male far out - something amazing foxy lady - good looking female fruit - someone crazy funky - something really wild gross - something hard to stomach heavy - word for something liked hunk-of-a-man - gorgeous bodied male munch down - to eat neat - something that is pleasing out-of-it - not in reality party - milk and cookies and games.

pigout - to eat in enormous amounts.
pits - the worst queer - someone out of the ordinary sharp - intelligent sit on it - to get lost slick - smooth talking person stud - someone really cool tuff - something that is liked wheels - a car
wicked - something far out weirdo - someone strange or weird wrong - not right

Guy: Wow - you sure are a Foxy Lady.
Girl: Well, you are the pits.
Guy: You want to go out with me?
Girl: No way, you weirdo!
Guy: I'll take you to a disco.
Girl: I can sure get down at discos.
Well, will you take me somewhere nice to eat?
Guy: Yea, I guess.
Girl: I guess you're not that gross after all.
I'll go.
Guy: Far out!
Girl: I think I love you.

LLASSROOM JUNKIES

"Classroom Junkies" are students that munch and crunch their way through class. Whether the reason be that they are starving, bored, depressed, happy, nervous or excited, there will always be eating in the classroom.

The number of "Classroom Junkies" seems to hit its high point whenever an organization or club sells candy. The will-power of students cannot seem to overcome the temptation of those peanut M & M's, crunch candy bars, turtles, and nut clusters!

For those who have not engaged in this "Classroom Junkie" phase yet, try it, you'll like it!

Eating and school work just seem to go together - at least Susan Stawick thinks so.

Some teachers aren't thrilled over their "Classroom Junkies" so Mary Beth Rose solves the problem by hiding her candy.

What a way to earn money! Many students obtained jobs during the school year to occupy their spare time. Not only was this a chance for a little independence, but also a way to earn lots of money
Various types of jobs were available for the students, but most students found jobs in various hamburger restaurants. This proved to be long hard work that was very time consuming. Even so, students received great satisfaction from earning their own money. Other jobs open for young people ranged anywhere from a receptionist to a mechanic.
Not only did many students have steady jobs, some did odd jobs, as well. Many mowed lawns, babysat, or raked leaves to earn some extra money.
Most students who used their working time wisely found that having their own spending money came in handy. Those who used it to their advantage found that their earnings went a long way. Buying a new outfit, purchasing tickets for a dance or buying the latest album were necessary items for which their money was eagerly put to use.
Students found that holding a job not only gave them independence and some responsibility, it also gave them a sense of accomplishment.

Working at a grocery is long hard work for Junior, Rick Williams.

A MATTER OF MONEY

Busy at work is Christine Johnson as she concentrates on an order.

Washing dishes and utensils is one of many chores for Tim Misner.

Working at concession stands does not always prove to be exciting.

FRIDAY NIGHT LIVE

From the beginning of the week, everyone was looking forward to T.G.I.F. day. That special day was Thank Goodness It's Friday.

After a long hard week of school, work and just plain dismal living, Friday seemed like a holiday. Suddenly, no longer tired from the week's drudgeries, everyone was psyched up for the Friday night activities.

What makes Friday night so special? Everyone is celebrating because it's the first night of the weekend. There are many methods of rejoicing, some of which include cruising, partying, watching movies or even eating popcorn in front of a good T.V. program.

Whichever way you chose to spend your Friday night, you did it royally. You made your Friday night come alive!!!

Sandy Chamberlain enters her car and ends a tiring Friday night with the good thought of sleeping in on Saturday.

Randy Perdew will agree that ballgames are a good form of enjoyment on a Friday night.

Jeff Kovaleski, Lisa Bunch, Cristi Rains, and Julie Spaulding sit on the hay and keep warm on a Friday night in front of a fire.

Broad Street

Going uptown and cruising Broad did more for a person than just spending gas money. Broad Street was a way of getting to know people from other towns, seeing people you already knew and giving the kids in New Castle something to do.

At the left is a map of Broad Street and the cruising area. Most people turned right off of Main Street, cruised up Broad, turned around at Rodefelds, came back down, and turned left off Broad to South 12th Street. Once on Main, the cycle began over and over again.

ANYTHING

It has been stated, "In the fashion world of today almost anything goes." People could wear everything from three piece dress suits to blue jeans and tennis shoes. It was not odd to see all kinds of outfits.

Women wore a variety of pants, skirts, jumpers, and dresses. Gauchos with leather boots were a new fad. Pants were accepted in restaurants, churches, schools - almost anywhere.

Stores carried a wider variety of clothing than ever before. Scarves and hats were worn to accent and coordinate many outfits.

As for the guys, they wore Adidas T-shirts; Levi Jeans; and Nike, Puma, Adidas, Converse, and even Trax tennis shoes. But, if for some odd reason they wanted to dress up they might have worn a bow tie with a sports coat or maybe an open collar with a three piece suit. Men's fashions could range from heavy ski sweaters in the winter to rugby shirts in the summer.

Gauchos and jeans were the biggies in the fashion world, and Sherri Dietz, Alice Fribley and Christi Rains are up to date on these new styles.

Wearing stylish hats to accent their outfits are Dee Dee Fox and Tammy Kiesewetter.

Tennis shoes, sandals, earth shoes and boots are shown. Almost every kind of shoe imaginable fits into this fashion picture.

GOOD FORM  -  ( $)$ ON AND

 OFFTHE FLOOROne doesn't have to be an athlete to be physically fit in this generation. Every one became involved in physical fitness. Within the past few years, more people willingly became aware of their health and well- being.

At first it was somewhat of a fad, but as more people became seriously involved in it, they realized the importance of staying in shape. It not only made them look good but feel good as well.

Physical fitness spread throughout the country, not only as a business venture, but also in schools. Many schools set up Physical Education classes for all their students, thus, creating a greater variety of sports within the schools.
Within our own school, Physical Education has been a required class for many years. There were numerous types of sports, for girls and boys. Not only did students participate in school related sports for physical activity, but many enjoyed jogging, swimming or other types of activities to keep in shape for their own enjoyment.

Many students like Cindy Sahlburg find that swimming is a great way to keep in shape.

Participating in basketball not only for the team but for his own enjoyment is team member, David Pfenninger.

Not another test! This was a common protest that many students had throughout the year. Although many protested, usually no tests were postponed, so it was off to their favorite study place for another night of work.

Students learned from experience that the only way to really concentrate on studying was to find a good, quiet, undisturbed place to gather one's thoughts together. Students found that their school day did not end at $3: 00$ p.m. every day. More often, their school days, at least study time, continued from hours on end, especially on test days.
After frequent visits to these places, students became well acquainted with the fact that many an evening would be spent there.

Whether their study place was simply their own room at home or in an obscure area, it soon became a second home for them, after spending many hours there.
These secret areas set aside for study, varied for each student's own needs. Many students preferred to study in a more typical area, such as a library, while some found that being in the outdoors helped them to study better. They ranged from libraries to benches in the park.

Concentrating on studying for a test is Junior, Jay Harris.

Students eagerly take advantage of study halls to ease their load of homework.

Once the theme "Could it be Magic?" was decided upon for the 1977 Junior Prom, several students put many hours and work into this project, eventually transforming the Girls' Gym into a magical land of mystery and surprise.

As the couples gathered on May 14 , their anticipation filled the air, as they entered the World of Magic. In the halls, couples encountered a maze, made of huge playing cards. The gym was decorated with a gigantic top hat and magic wand, covered with tiny lights and hung from the ceiling. Also from the ceiling, parachutes, decoratively formed magical clouds of smoke. In the cafeterias, the couples encountered a lovely decorated bridge to cross into a land filled with flowers and rainbows.

As the evening moved much too rapidly, the couples eagerly danced to the music of "Catch." Finally, the moment that everyone had been waiting for arrived, the excited Prom Queen for 1977 was Gail Burton which made a lovely finish to a perfect evening.

Her reign will end with the crowning of the new Prom Queen during next year's Junior Senior Prom.

WINTER DANCE CANCELLED:

ny hours of work were put into decorations, er to be used.

On Thursday, February 15, Mr. Lehr announced to the students of Chrysler High School that Winter Dance was cancelled due to the Coal Strike, which had been going on endlessly for weeks. More conservation steps were required and schools were asked to cut electricity by 50 percent.
The school started by cancelling all extracurricular activities which included Winter Dance.
Needless to say, this was a big disappointment to the student body. Many took it upon themseves to express their views and arguments to the administration, but, no changes were made. This left many students feeling extremely bitter and disappointed.
Once the students realized that it was definitely cancelled, though, some simply made other plans for that evening. Many couples dressed in their already purchased formals and suits and went out for dinner and dancing.
Although some found other activities to do that evening, nothing could take the place of Winter Dance.

From the Market Square Arena in Indianapolis to our own Bundy Auditorium, a wide range of concerts was brought to our attention. Whether our beat was disco, gospel, rock and roll or moody blues, we could hear it from groups like the Ohio Players, Hope of Glory, Aerosmith, or Chicago.

People went to concerts for many different reasons. Some went to "have a good time," "to relax," or to "see their favorite group." Others went to "party," "boogie," or to "enjoy the atmosphere." Whatever our reason was, the concert usually satisfied it.
A concert agenda, for example, would start out with people arriving at the concert at about 6:30 p.m., if it started at 7:30 or 8:00 p.m. The backup groups would start the show with the featured group playing last. After the concert, the last band would go off stage to the sound of wild plause. The lighters would ignit fans would increase the rumble the group appeared for an enco two.

Concerts and the stars that formed them were usually ext dinary and different. Along wit music and costumes were the sp effects such as fog, lights, fire or blood that made those concerts tastic!!

Christine McVie, Stevie Nicks and Lindsey Buckingham of Fleetwood Mac entertain a sell-out audience at Market Square Arena.

IT SNOW

FUN

We, the students, teachers, teachers' aids, secretaries, principal, and vice principals enjoyed an unexpected December vacation because of snow. The vacation consisted of four full days and two half days.

The town looked like a postcard with its ice coated trees and white covered evergreens. Everything from the ground to the roofs of buildings were white.

Vacation time was spent in a variety of ways. Some baked cookies, some went sledding, some innertubed, and some sat around and got fat eating while watching game shows and soap operas.

No matter whether the snow was said to be more of a hindrance than a help, the unexpected vacations it brought were always welcome.

Snow now covered the branches where not long before buds and leaves had been.

Many days of the snow vacation were spent by students flying down hills with inner-tubes.

plows became very familiar to all who traveled oads on those days of deep snow. Those that lucky had the advantage of following the plow ad of leading it.

STUDENTS ACTING UP

Thespians presented the musical IRENE in the spring of ' 77 under the direction of Miss Sandra Martz, Mr. Dick Willis, and Mr. Robert Shauver. Beth Miller played the lively Irene O'Dare and her mother was portrayed by Becky Bronnenberg. Greg Easter was the classy, but hilarious Madame Lucy. Eric John played the part of Donald S. Marshall III, who during the play won the love of Miss O'Dare.

In the play, Elisa Fike was Helen Burke, Cindy Loveless was Jane McFudd, Greg Warner was known as Jimmy, Clyde Smith was the butler named Clarkson, Patty Thrasher was Mrs. Emmiline Marshall, and Mark Albrecht was Ozzie Babson.

1977 Officers were John Neal, president; Greg Easter, vice-president; Tammy Grimm, secretary; and Eric John, treasurer.

In November Thespians presented the wild comedy SCAPINO, under the direction of Mr. Dick Willis. Scapino, played by Mark Albrecht, was the clever servant of Leandro, portrayed by Eric John. Leandor's father was Geronte played by Brett Thurman. Mark Garvinas Argante, was the father of Ottavio portrayed by Mike Page. Ottavio's servant was Sylvestro, known to us as David Franklin. Leandro and Ottavio fell in love with two beautiful ladies who turned out to be each other's sister. Yes, the play was hilariously funny, mainly because it was so mixed up. Mike Page fell in love with Giscinta, played by Frannie Franklin, and Eric John's love was Elisa Fike, in the part of Zerbinette. Others in the play were Marianna Regner, Kris Kollmejer, Bryan Hacker, David Hoover, Chris Baranski, and Donna Conway.

The Scapino cast all joined in singing towards the end of the performance.

Eating an ice cream cone, Elisa Fike enjoyed her acting part.
Scapino, played by Mark Albrecht, tried his clever strategy on Brett Thurman.

FOREIGN FRIENDS

Teaching Mai the American homemaking skills is Mrs. Mildred Garner.

A textbook isn't easy for Sandra especially if it's in English instead of Portuguese.
"At first, life in Brazil and here didn't seem too differ a lot, but after awhile I start to notice it.

Our youth is almost the same as here or any other place. We like dances, vacation, beaches, cars, motorcycle and everything that is good.

Our school system is very different. We go half days and our school week has 6 days.

We don't have snow in Brazil because the temperature doesn't drop this much and I got here just in time to see the greatest blizzard in the Indiana history, so far.
After being here for 7 months and got used to all the differences, I'm sure that I'll miss U.S., New Castle, and all the people that I got to know and are making my stay here a wonderful and unforgetable experience. I would go through it again, million times.
I would like to thank everybody for everything, for the great time I have had and I would like to say, if you have an opportunity to go through an experience like mine, to go to another country, do it, because it's worth it and you'll love it as much as I do."

Sandra Marie Okada

Mai Aggerbeck was a foreign exchange student from Padborg, Denmark. She came to the United States in August of ' 77 and stayed through July.

Mai stayed with the Arthur Peterson family at 1150 Woodlawn Drive.

Mai's country is different in many ways from the United States. They attend school only 10 years. They stay with the same group of students throughout the year even though they do change classrooms and teachers.
In Padborg, they do not have any formal dances such as Winter Dance or Prom. Dating is mostly done in groups and a popular place to go is the Disco. Here's something that should catch the guys' eyes! Dutch Treat is the way they date in Denmark.

Also the guys don't open the doors for the girls. As Mai put it, "They're not as polite as that." So, for all you guys that are broke and can't afford to date - Do your dating in Denmark and maybe you'll be lucky enough to find a girl like Mai.

THRILL

Every Chrysler High student had at one time or another felt the thrill of victory or the agony of defeat. It could have been anything we attempted whether we accomplished or failed the task.

There were many things this could have applied to. A most obvious one was sports. Grades in school or an honor award received for our good doings was another. Even out of school, thrill and agony were felt. A totaled sports car or a new job would apply. Whatever the case was, we always overcame the hurt, and will forever remember the achievement we gained.

From the expression on Junior Allen McGrew's face, the hurt still shows even in a first place finish.

A familiar sight for almost every Chrysler High student . . . at least once.

PREPARING

After high school, students knew that soon they would have to find a job or make a career for themselves. For some this was a difficult task, but for many students it did not prove to be any hardship.

Possibly those students that had little trouble deciding what their occupation was to be had taken advantage of their opportunities in high school. Challenging classes were available in almost any area of study to help them develop and improve skills in a certain job.

While many students took these classes to explore their interest, others dutifully took several in special areas to further their job training.

Many students took Typing, Accounting, Business Law and Management courses to become familiar with the business field. Other students were interested in Drafting, Machinery, Building Trades or Electrical study, which were all offered in some type of class. Some girls, and also some boys, enjoyed taking Home Economics courses to prepare them for their homelife. There also were Art classes for those who were creative.

Whatever type of area students were interested in, there was definitely something for everyone.

Explaining a difficult Accounting problem to Marty Hurst is Miss Castelluccio.

HAVE

An additional change was made in the English Department when the manner of class selection was again altered. Those students planning to attend college were automatically enrolled in College Prep classes, where classes proving most useful in college and later careers were assigned to them. These included Classic Literature, Argumentative Writing, Logic, and Modern Poetry for Seniors; Juniors took Research, Verbal skills, and Discussion; Sophomores had Speech, Journalism, American Literature, and Fundamentals of Writing. However, not all classes were assigned, as the students were allowed to choose two classes from a group of electives that appealed to them personally.

A large variety of Phase-Elective classes were offered to other students including Death and Dying; Research I and II; Expanded Reading; Adventure, Suspense, and Mystery; Sports; and Cars.
The change did not affect the Applied English classes.
There were many class activities such as field trips, guest speakers and movies. The Death and Dying classes took field trips to local funeral homes, while Research classes took a field trip to the Ball State Library. The English Department also conducted an experiment with a movie "Fahrenheit 451 ." It was a science fiction movie written by Ray Bradbury that dealt with the possibility of a society where books were banned and burned. The movie was shown in three consecutive parts and at the conclusion, the students broke into small groups and discussed it.

A new addition to the English Department Staff was Ms. Maureen McAnany.

Mrs. Sorrell speaks to English students Ellen Roe, Earl Stigall, and Chris Dance.

Missy Maddox and Tammy Johnson find that working in the library helps when writing a research paper.

WORLDS

Activities were numerous in the Foreign Language Department. French, Spanish, and Latin students learned more about their respective languages and had fun in doing so.

One activity that Spanish classes participated in was a field trip to Indianapolis. They went to see Jose Greco and Nana Lorca (Spanish dancers) perform. Spanish students also participated in such contests as National Examinatons Contest, Taylor University Spanish Contest, and Ball State University Contest. Other activities included a Spanish breakfast for third year classes, the traditional dinner and a debate on bullfighting for fourth year classes, and skits for all. Some Spanish students went to Spain during the Spring Vacation with Mrs. Judy Webber and Mrs. Erma Whitehead.

French classes also had many activities to make the year more enjoyable. Second year classes studied the French high school, French cars, Christmas, the Louvre Museum, and the French Revolution. Third year students studied French art styles and paintings. While doing this, they brought in their favorite pieces of art that they had made themselves. Fourth year students studied a detailed unit on friendship, and examined the history of French authors and literary periods.

Latin students studied numerous things about the history of the Latin language. They made notebooks of English words derived from Latin; read about Rome, and studied how Caesar conquered Gaul. Fourth year students translated Books I, II, and IV of Vergil's AENEID. Latin students also participated in the Roman Banquet, which took place on April 27. Five students used their spring vacation to go to Italy.

Three Juniors and three Seniors in each language were selected to appear in Who's Who in Indiana in Foreign Languages

GIVE

A variety of classes were offered at C.H.S. for those students interested in mathematics.

As the foundation of high school math courses, algebra incorporated several different advanced types of mathematics such as functions, quadratic equations and logarithems.

Consumer mathematics was designed to help students become wiser consumers. The fundamental skills of addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division, along with a few new skills, were applied to practical problems.

Geometry combined the study of different types of thinking and reasoning, formulas, and construction.

For the college-bound student Analysis offered a better understanding of previous math courses and refined mathematical skills.

This was the first year Calculus was offered. Calculus was designed for those students who planned a career in some type of mathematic or scientific field.

HOME

 ON THE RANGEThe Home Economics Department gave all the students skills and experience they could use in later home life and careers. Both girls and boys were included and boys learned the importance of cooking and home management.

In Commercial foods classes, students prepared and sold bread, cakes, and cookies. At Christmas time, they also made and served a Christmas Breakfast to the faculty and invited guests. Advanced Foods classes emphasized diet and the use of proper nutrition.

The Clothing classes mended, restyled, and made clothes of all types, for personal use. Students also made doll outfits to give to the Salvation Army at Christmas time.

The Clothing classes also put on their annual fashion show, modeling clothes the students had fashioned themselves. Classes included: Singles Living, Foods, Clothing, Advanced Foods, Advanced Clothing, Family Living, Commercial Foods, Home Care of the Sick, and Child Care and Development

Mrs. Colleen Drumm was a new addition to the Home Economics Department.

MRS. COLLEEN DRUMM: B.S., M.A., Home Economics.

Do the terms monopeptide or polyatomic ion ring a bell? They should to the science students.

Integrated Science covered material such as the metric system, matter, agriculture, and industry. This course stressed the science used in everyday life.

In Biology, different types of life and ecology were emphasized. Through lab work, students became more familiar with scientific instruments. Highlights of the year included the dissection of fetal pigs.
Chemistry R illustrated the practical use of science in every day life. Basic structures, formulas and equations, and relationships were studied. Those enrolled in Chemistry C went into more detail in experiments, reports, and other activities.

Physics was a course designed for students planning for college. Much scientific, as well as mathematical material was covered. Structures, forces, and electricity were particular areas of study.

Working on a sophomore biology assignment in Mr. Furbee's class are Linda Tully and Chris Richey.

ON AND ON

Variety seemed to sum up all the different activities that took place in the Social Studies Department. Activities ranged from Project Alpha to a field trip to the Indiana State Women's Prison, with class work to round out the year.
U.S. History students studied the American Revolution, the Civil War, the Roaring Twenties, and World War II.

All Senior students chose between Government-Economics or Govern-ment-Criminology. The Constitution, local politics, and state and federal governments were topics for all Government classes. While Economics classes studied prices, the economy, inflation, and the economic structure, Criminology classes learned about crime in the street, the state constitution and criminology, in general.

Geography-Anthropology was open to all students, and one semester was devoted to each of the two areas.

Sociology-Psychology, which was a Senior elective, placed emphasis on child abuse, family, the educational system, social status, and other problems plaguing our society. Also studied were individual behavior and the theories of personality, philosophy, and mental health.

But all was not work, as students participated in Project Alpha and Dream Date 1977. Project Alpha was a U.S. History project where students, working in small groups, planned their own form of government and how they would live on their "Imaginary" island. The students learned that planning a government, as our forefathers did, is not as easy as it seems. Dream Date 1977 was a Sociology-Psychology project, where volunteers played the Dating Game and chose their "perfect" mate. The students then went on a date, during school time, to a local restaurant.

Field trips were taken to the Indiana State Women's Prison, New Castle State Hospital, the Richmond State Hospital and Drug Rehabilitation Center, Merrill Lynch Stock Market in Indianapolis, and some of the local elementary schools. Socio-logy-Psychology students also participated in the annual Christmas Party and Spring Party on behalf of the patients at New Castle State Hospital. Also at Christmas time, they donated a Christmas tree and some presents to a local family.

New additions to the Social Studies Department were Ms. Maureen McAnany, Mr. Harold Huffman, and Mr. Michael Morton.

Scott McWhorter works diligently on his U.S. History assignment while Tracey Choate tries to enjoy himself.

Mr. Koger takes off his jacket and relaxes while speaking to one of his Sociology-Psychology classes.

MR. HAROLD HUFFMAN: B.S., GeographyAnthropology, Assistant Football Coach, U.S. History.

MR. JERRY L. KOGER: B.S., M.A., Socio-logy-Psychology, Social Studies Department Chairman, Golf Coach.

MS. MAUREEN McANANY: B.S., U.S. History, English.

MR. LARRY R. MEYER: B.S., B.A., U.S. History, Jr. High Football Coordinator, "B" Team Basketball Coach, Student Elections.

MR. ROGER A. MILLER: A.S., B.S., M.S., Government-Economics, Senior Class Sponsor, 9th Grade Football Coach, 8th Grade Basketball Coach.

MR. MICHAEL A. MORTON: B.S., M.A., U.S. History, Varsity Wrestling Coach.

MR. CECIL C. TAGUE: B.S., M.A., U.S. History, Dr. Education.

MR. WILLIAM WESSELER: B.A., M.S., Go-vernment-Economics, Student Elections.

THE MUSIC

A wide variety of courses were offered this year by the C.H.S. Music Department. Band, Chorale and Music Appreciation were all made available to interested students. Band included Marching Band, Concert Band, Wind Ensemble, Jazz Ensemble, and Pep Band. Many hours of practice and preparation were spent by all members of these bands.

Band which met only sixth period, required students to play basic rhythms and scales. Various types of music, from classical to modern, were played in class and during performances.

The C.H.S. Marching Trojans also made appearances in local parades, school convocations, and several concerts throughout the year.

Several times in the year, the band participated in state wide contests. In January, the band competed in the State Solo and Ensemble Contest. The summer program started in July and came to a close at the end of August. During this time preparations were made for State Fair competition and the marching season.

MR. ROBERT W. SHAUVER: B.S., M.A., Marching Band, Director of Music NCCSC.

The expression on Mr. Shauver's face shows that planning the schedule is complicated.

Students perform to perfection under rection of Mr. Shauver.

MAKERS

The other side of the C.H.S. Music Department consisted of Chorale, Swing Choir, Music Theory.

Chorale was made up of a group of selected juniors, seniors and outstanding sophomores. All members auditioned in the spring and were chosen to form a balanced ensemble. The goal of Chorale was to develop good performers, as well as listeners. Chorale made many appearances this year including concerts, contests and convocations. In March, C.H.S. was host to the Eastern Indiana District Chorale Festival. Among the contests in which Chorale participated were State Solo and Ensemble Contest and State Organization Contest. Chorale also performed at the Baccalaureate.

Swing Choir offered students another type of musical expression than Chorale. Current popular music, as well as songs from earlier years, were all covered. Several concerts were given by Swing Choir which included numerous appearances for community organizations. In the spring, Swing Choir participated in the State Swing Choir Contest. A highlight of the year for Swing Choir and Chorale members, was going on a statewide tour.

Another class offered by the Music Department was Music Theory. Students learned the structures of music and it was designed for students that desired a better understanding of music. All class members had to be involved with some area of music.

MISS SANDRA K. MARTZ: B.S., M.S., Swing Choir.
Directing the choir is a big job as shown by Miss Martz.

Body and facial motions are used a great deal by directors like Miss Martz.

Vocational Education was made up of areas that would appeal to students interested in Business, Health, Home Economics, Trade and Industrial work. Not only Chrysler High School, but Hagerstown, Knightstown, Shenandoah, Tri High, Union, and Morton Memorial high schools participated in the Area Vocational School. Some of the courses were Cooperative Office Education, Intensive Office Lab, Distributive Education, Health Occupations, Building Trades, Graphic Arts, Industrial Cooperative Training, Machine Shop, and Welding.

All of the programs offered were in three parts - specific classwork, on-the-job training, and a co-curricular Uclub. By participating in the area Vocational School, students gained valuable experience to be used later in life.

MR. LEONARD SMITH: B.S., DECA, Bookstore Sponsor.
MRS. JULIA WALDEN: B.S., M.A., PVE.

Power Under Control

A broad variety of Industrial Education classes gave students the chance to excel in what they liked best. Classes included Building Trades, where model houses were built; Woods; Home Maintenance; Sketching and Design; Electricity/ Electronics; Photography, which went in to the making of color slides, besides the usual black and white pictures; Metals, which went into mass production; Machine Shop; Drafting; Blue Print Reading; Graphic Arts, which did multicolor work; and Auto mechanics.
These classes give students first hand knowledge as well as practice. Many of these classes were used as prerequisites for vocational training. Some students took Industrial classes to get experience for later careers, while others took these classes to prepare for hobbies.

MR. CHARLES MAURICE BYRKET: B.S., Junior Class Sponsor, 9th grade Basketball. MR. RICHARD E. COLLINS: B.S., Woods.

MR. JIM DEVOS: B.S., Industrial Education. MR. GARY DORSEY: B.S., Industrial Education.

TAKING AN ACCOUN

For those students interested in business, C.H.S. offered a number of courses. Stress was placed upon learning basic skills and further developing old ones.
Whether it was first year typing or office machines, accuracy and speed were set as goals for business students. The technical side of the business world was covered by Business Law, first and second year Accounting and Business Math. These courses involved the legalities, procedures, and correct methods for conducting a business. Shorthand included basic outlines, forms and dictation for first year students. Those who wished to improve their skill and speed continued with a second year of shorthand.

The COE, IOL, and DE programs for seniors have been very successful in securing jobs for students who participated in them.

On The Move

Physical Education provided a way for students to relax and to get in better shape through the numerous activities available.
Sophomores were able to choose from a wide variety of activities. Some favorite activities were tennis, golf, gymnastics, weight training, volley ball, track and field hockey.

Phase elective scheduling was used so students could choose certain days and classes. Students met either Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, or Tuesday and Thursday. Classes were chosen at the beginning of each six weeks.

Mr. Cecil Tague, Mrs. Rae Kitchel, Mr. Sam Alford, and Mr. Mark Surface were teachers. Juniors and Seniors were eligible to become helpers in P.E. and earn a half credit per semester in so doing. The teachers were also aided by a student.

Students who wished to take Drivers Training during the school year took Physical Education every day for a semester and then Drivers Training for a semester.

BEHIND THE SCENES

LIBRARY

The library was frequently used by many students to write research papers, reports, or just relax and read some of their favorite magazines. The library was also a resource center. Microfilm, maps, filmstrips, records, and transparencies were available for student use.

Mrs. Ruth Creech was aided by student service workers who helped prepare and distribute materials.

AUXILIARY STAFF

The secretaries, teachers' aides, custodians, and cafeteria staff were all useful in maintaining the appearance and the smooth running of the school. The secretaries, who were led by Mrs. Helen Porter, handled the switchboard, school accounts and records, and other paper work.

The teachers' aides were useful in helping the teachers bear the heavy load. They supervised study halls, the cafeteria, gym class, and other areas where needed.
The custodians helped to maintain the cleanliness of the school.
The cafeteria staff had the job of feeding C.H.S. students and pleasing them at the same time.

ROSEY REMEMBERS

"The Halb Hour Variety Show" was the setting for the annual Rosey Convo. Entertainment ranged from a rock band, featuring "Smooch," all the way to country and western style, featuring Porter Wagner and Dolly Parton. The convocation was a boost for the subscription drive.

A yearbook takes a lot of work and a team effort. Co-editors, Candy McConnell and Debbie Wilkinson, and Copy Editor Teresa McCaffrey attended a summer workshop at Ball State. Here they learned how to make a yearbook more exciting. Due to inflation, yearbooks became more expensive to produce every year. However, Rosey members fought inflation. They did this through a Bake Sale and selling candy.

The Rosennial staff had a job for everyone. The staff members had to organize their sections, write copy, complete layouts and most important of all meet the deadlines. Each section related to another, everyone did his job. All this work went toward producing a great Rosennial!

PHOENIX PHRENZY

The Phoenix staff experienced a successful year in completing 16 issues of the school newspaper, and by finally ending a long hard search for the name of the Phoenix Bird.

The staff held a special drive to find a name for their symbol of "Everlasting Life" (the bird). It was sponsored by the Coca Cola Company and provided $$ 25.00$ to the winner with the best name. The contest was judged by Mr. Ed Insley, Dr. Phillip Borders, and Mr. William E. Lehr. They finally decided upon the name of "Theobald," entered by Sheila Denney, and she received the $$ 25.00$ prize.

GETTIN’ TOGETHER

The time when young student athletes and non-athletes alike can get together and discuss their spiritual selves is a true experience. FCA (Fellowship of Christian Athletes) was a group that had this affect on each student individually. The members met once a week under the direction of Mr. Vance Meier, Mr. Sam Alford, and Mr. Mark Cronk.

Huddle groups were led by Alan Whiteman, Beth Caffoe, Jana Crisp, Chris Johnson, Mike Schwinn, Les Hill, and the president of the organization, Steve Coleman.

This year, all the members participated in group projects. The members during Thanksgiving donated food and canned goods to a less fortunate family. A lot of the members traveled to Knightstown for an art exhibition given by Bill Leach, dealing with chalk paintings and special lighting affects.

The FCA group was very active and were all growing in fellowship.

The band, although young, maintained the profound reputation which was obtained throughout the years of Chrysler High School bands.

They performed at football and basketball games and did a fine job in keeping the fans entertained. The band included 89 regular members and 30 members in auxiliary.
In competition, the youthful group held their ground. They placed fourth out of 18 bands in the Delaware County Fair, fourth in the Jay County Fair, and sixteenth in the Indiana State Fair.
The group had quite a busy schedule. They performed at the Indiana Pacers game November 30. On January 28 , they participated in the
I.S.M.A. District Solo and Ensemble contest. On February 18, they took part in the I.S.M.A. State Solo and Ensemble contest, and on April 22, they participated in the I.S.M.A. Large Ensemble contest. Several other activities were sponsored by the Band Boosters.

Jazz band completed its second year in existence at Chrysler and progressed very rapidly under the direction of Mr. Bill Pritchett.
Jazz band consisted of 23 members who obtained their positions through auditions only. The group was very active this year, and Mr. Pritchett was quoted as saying, "The Jazz band is much better this year than last year."

The Pom-Pon and Flag Corps continued to entertain audiences, performing to the music of the band. They opened at every football and basketball game with a pre-game performance and provided more entertainment during half time. The biggest event of the year was their half time show for the Milwaukee Bucks vs. Indiana Pacers game at Market Square Arena. The game was designated as "New Castle Night" in honor of Kent Benson's home town.
The Pom-Pon and flag Corps consisted of 29 members. Beth Caffoe was Pom-Pon Captain and Gerri Jackson was Flag Captain.

GET DOWN!

The members of Pep Club made the school year much more interesting and much easier with their morale promoting antics.

These members spent much time after school, thinking up ways to "drum" up spirit. Pep Club was responsible for all of the big booster posters, and for the decorated lockers which brightened up everyone's day.

The members met Tuesdays after school and Thursdays from 7-9:00 p.m. The officers were Jayne Short, president; Amy Vaughan, vice-president; Marijeanne Holiday, secretary; Dawn Haas, treasurer; and Mr. Paul Crousore, sponsor.

Pep Club members were "dedicated hard working young people," said Mr. Crousore. They had to have been the most loyal people in the school to devote their spare time in order to make the year seem more pleasant.

Pep Club Sponsor Mr. Paul Crousore discusses plans to be made for future athletic event.

SPEAKIN' OF DEBATE

NFL began the year with its annual picnic at Baker Park. They had a lot of fun and discussed plans for the future.
To celebrate the holidays, NFL held a Christmas Party where they enjoyed the refreshments and festivities of the Christmas season.

NFL initiation was held in the spring with a ceremony to initiate new members and recognize seniors.
To raise money, team members sold buttons with the slogans "Debate Is Great," and "Speech Team is Eventful." Concession stands were also set up with funds going to NFL.

The team was led by three returning State finalists: Brett Thurman, Eric John, and Mark Albrecht, who all had a good year.

Debate and Student Congiess also had a good year and placed in several tournaments.

Officers were president, Mike Page; vice-president, Mark Albrecht; treasurer, Kelly McKee, secretary, Julie Mayfield.

STARS ON STAGE

Chrysler High School was made complete with the talented students who participated in the theatrical performances directed by Mr. Dick Willis.

Although the play "Scapino" was the only play presented first semester, it was a tremendous success. Each member of Thespians did a great job in acting out their roles. All members of the cast deserved recognition as well as the members back stage who spent many hours working on costumes, sets and make-up.

Mark Albrecht earned his first lead in any play, and did a "fantastic" job. He portrayed the part of Scapino, a sly and conniving young man. Mike Page, David Franklin, Elisa Fike, Brett Thurman, Mark Garvin, Eric John, Chris Baranski, and Frances Franklin also played major roles.

Thespian members Frances Franklin and Chris Baranski get a chance to show-off their acting abilities in the very delightful play "Scapino".

THE CONUERSATION

Sociedad Honoraria Hispanica participated in many activities dealing with Spanish culture. The purpose of the club was to honor students outstanding in Spanish.

For the first year, S.H.H. had its own booth at the Foreign Food Sale. The members made and sold hot empenadas along with hot chocolate.
In March, S.H.H. had its annual candy sale. All members sold candy and the funds went to the treasury of the club.
Officers for the year were Pam Hyden, president; Carlyle Kinkade, vice-president, Debbie Wilkinson, secretary; Beth Bowman, vice-Secretary; Kim Johnson, treasurer; and Les Hill, historian.

La Tertulia, or Spanish Club, was a new organization formed this year. The club enabled its members to learn more about the culture of the Spanish world while having fun at the same time. Some of the activities included a Foreign Food Sale, a Spanish Christmas party, celebration of Jose Marti's birthday, and a pitch-in dinner in honor of Foreign Language Week. The club made it possible for each member to display his Spanish speaking ability.

Officers were Deanne Dubinger, president; Stacie Ratcliff, first vicepresident; David Wadman, second vice-president; Sabrina Cooper, third vice-president; Nora Rust, secretary; and Doug Perdue, treasurer. Mr. Dwight Fraze was the sponsor.

JCL  TO ROME

Junior Classical League enjoyed many activities dealing with the "Roman Life Style." The purpose of the organization was to promote classics and make students aware of the Roman influence on western civilization.
During meetings, the members viewed a variety of films. In December they went Christmas caroling, singing Roman songs. The annual Roman banquet was held in March. Members dressed in togas and enjoyed a Roman feast. In April, several JCL members and their sponsor took an exciting and educational trip to Italy.
Officers were Lisa Garvin, president; Keith Burkman, vice-president; Jane Kern, secretary; Barbara Acosta, treasurer; and Miss Theresa Gorenz, club sponsor.

EADERS IN ACTION

S.A.C. was a very enthusiastic group throughout the year and did a fantastic job in making changes in the school at the students' request.
S.A.C. (Student Action Committee) was formed through class elections with six members being chosen from each grade to represent the entire student body. These representatives did a good job in keeping students involved by arranging dances after football and basketball games and by decorating for the Winter Dance. The Christmas buffet to which approximately 200 senior citizens were invited was another big event. The group was very active and kept up the Trojan spirit all year. The biggest successs was sponsoring the first annual Christmas Dance.

PRACTICE MAKES PERFEC

CHS experienced a more pleasant year with the musical talents displayed by the members of Chorale under the direction of Miss Sandra Martz. Chorale participated in such activities as the Achievement Day Convo, the Chorale Concert "Yesterday" which featured several soloists, and a three day concert tour to Indiana high schools.

Officers were Janice Hurd, president; Beth Bowman, vice-president; Julie Mayfield, secretary; Mary Beth Rose and Becky Nichols, co-treasurers.

Swing Choir was organized to give students a chance to sing some of the more popular music. It was composed of 21 Chorale members who had auditioned for the group.

National Honor Society (N.H.S.) members possessed four very important characteristics - Leadership, Service, Character, and Scholarship. Initiates were voted into the club by the faculty and were responsible for tabulating the school's honor roll.

Members were responsible for purchasing and decorating the Christmas tree in the main lobby and sponsored a Christmas toy drive along with several other activities.

First semester officers were Brett Thurman, president; Beth Caffoe, vice- president; Beth Bowman, secretary; and Julie Eade, treasurer.

PIRIT BOOSTERS

Cheerblock members were short in numbers, but they were big in enthusiasm. They were a dependable group who attended the games regularly and cheered the team to victory.
Members of the Cheerblock wore green Trojan sweaters to the games and have recaptured the spirit of CHS with the aid of their sponsor Mr. Paul Crousore.

Officers were Karla Hauser, president; Jayne Short, vice-president; Amy Vaughan, treasurer; and Dawn Haas, secretary.

The Office Education Association was a group which was organized to prepare students for their future in the business world. Students were able to learn typing, dictation, shorthand, and other skills pertaining to the business field. OEA was broken up into two basic groups, IOL (Intensive Office Lab) and COE (Cooperative Office Education). These courses were available to the senior OEA members.

IOL was formed of vocational students who gained experience through working either at school or for local businesses. Officers were Denise McKee, president; Amy Jackson, vice-president; Barb Thompson, secretary; Dottie Eschenbrenner, treasurer; Teresa Kendall, historian; and Mrs. Carolyn Todd, sponsor.

COE members participated in such activities as rock-a-thon and a special Olympics at which they earned over $$ 200$. They also operated a concession stand at all of the home basketball games. COE and IOL both entered the regional, state, and national OEA competition.

TALENTED WITH TY

Channel 11 staff, along with the task of operating the school station, gave students from grades 8-12 the opportunity to develop skills in the broadcasting field. They also learned how to operate the TV cameras. The members helped the junior and senior high teachers produce educational programs and operate the video equipment. The staff helped the French class put together a successful video tape second semester which later was shown on Channel 11.

Officers were Jay Cory, president; Jerry Fadely, vice-president; Judi Popplewell, secretary; and Al Oliver, sponsor.

ATTS AND WIRES

Electronics was a group of students who made many of the school activities possible. The members set up projectors, screens, microphones, and lighting effects for all of the special programs scheduled. They also set up the technical equipment for all of the plays which were performed in the Bundy Auditorium and made money doing so. Other ways for the group to make money were operating concession stands at all of the home basketball games and by selling candy.

With the money earned, expensive tool kits were purchased and presented to the graduating seniors. Underclassmen received token gifts and gained a great deal of experience.

The Electronics club ran smoothly under the direction of the leaders Clifford Smith, Jim Burger, and sponsor Mr. Robert Johnson.

BUILDING EXPERIENCE

VICA "D" was a group organized to give students experience in the industrial field. Activities for members ranged from working with complicated machinery to building a new $$ 35,000$ home. The group was divided into four separate sections each pertaining to a different field or trade.

Building the home gave the students experience in electrical work, plumbing, painting, carpentry, and laying concrete blocks. VICA "D" groups built such items as barbecue stands and truck trailer hitches in order to make money. Students came from Tri High, Union, and Knightstown as well as CHS to help build the new house which is located on Earlham Avenue.
The group participated in regional, state, and national skills contests which involved competing with other groups in particular fields.

Home Economics Related Occupations was a club which had something to offer for all. The club taught skills which enabled the members to get a job in the area of food service, housekeeping, child care and clothing. Students first spent time in the classroom learning basic skills, then traveled to designated areas for on-the-job training.
Fund raising projects for the year included selling Burger Chef calendars, a candy sale, and working in concession booths at home basketball games. The members were also active in several projects. They took a field trip to Mac's Steakhouse, which was a training station for some members. As a state and national project, the group helped with the March of Dimes by distributing posters and making collections toward the prevention of birth defects. Officers elected for the year were Tony White, president; Julie Lowe, secretary; Brenda Troxell, treasurer; Anna West, historian; and Miss Muzetta Guymon, sponsor.

Food management lab consisted of juniors who plan to be members of HERO next year. They cooked foods like cookies, cakes, and salads and prepared beverages for dinners given by clubs. They catered dinners for the Salvation Army and a parent tea.

INDUSTRIAL TRAINEES

VICA "C" was composed of a group of members each of whom possessed a certain technical skill. These skills were put to use when the group participated in the regional, state, and national skills contests where members participated against others in their particular field.

The groups took part in many activities such as holding an EmployerEmployee Banquet at the end of the year. They had little get-togethers every now and then to play all sorts of games. The most interesting activitity of the group was that every member donated one pint of blood to the blood bank. Service to others and trade related events provided many worthwhile learning experiences.

One might say Bryant Whitted learned to draw before he could walk. For as long as Bryant can remember he has been drawing in hopes of someday becoming a recognized artist. Now he is truly on his way to fame and fortune. Bryant entered some of his work in the National Scholastic Art Awards contest, and he received four gold keys in the Central Indiana Regional. His work then went on to New York City for a bid in the Nationals. When the book was printed, he had not received any word as to the judges' decision.
If Bryant's portfolio does well in the Nationals, it will be considered for the SATURDAY EVENING POST. That would not be the first time that he had seen his work on a cover. Last summer, Bryant designed the original cover for this year's Rosennial.

The 1977-78 Junior class proved to be one of outstanding scholastic and athletic ability. They found that their classes were tougher and required a lot of extra time. They realized that they would have to get involved in other activities, too, so the school spirit of Chrysler High would be kept alive. The selling of towels that said "Spirit" on them was one way the Junior Class gave the school support.

To represent the Class of ' 79 , after a very close election, Patty Thrasher was elected president; Tom Thalls, vice-president; Susan Stawick, secretary; and Mary Beth Rose, treasurer. These officers with the help of six elected S.A.C. members started to make plans for the prom in the fall. Many other juniors helped out to create a dance, which they hoped would stay in the minds of the seniors for a long time. The Juniors also were instrumental in organizing a new semi-formal dance which was held in early December.
The Class of 1979 found their junior year quite a challenge but also an experience that helped them grow mature and start making plans for their future. They were full of anticipation as they realized they would soon be the long-awaited seniors.

The English teachers tried something new at the end of the second six weeks as they had all the English classes get together to watch a movie in Bundy Auditorium. The movie, "Fahrenheit 451 ," was a science fiction story of a future society in which thought was controlled through the burning of books. Cindy Sahlberg is having a hard time trying to get a seat to watch the movie.

Oh very young, what will you leave us this time? You are only dancing on this earth for a short while, and though your dreams may toss and turn you now! They will vanish away like your dad's best jeans, denim blue faded up to the sky. And though you want them to last forever you know they never will. And the patches make the goodbye harder still.

Under the leadership of sophomore class president Randy Ayers, the Class of 1980 quickly adjusted to the high school life.

Soon after the school year got under way the students were participating in school, and out of school activites, of various types. Many sophomores excelled in academics, sports, music, and other school-related activities.

Other officers for the sophomores were Kristi Rains, vice president; Sherri Dietz, secretary; and Tona Thalls, treasurer.

Jean Stellingwerf took the role of being the sophomore class sponsor for this school year.
Observing Biology specimens are Dorothy VanHoose, Angela Staley, and Marijeanne Holaday.

Our athletes worked hard this year. Many times teamwork and coordination proved successful and the Trojans PUT IT ALL TOGETHER for win after win.

ese cheerleaders really let themselves go wild

Playing to win, working hard, and having a good time doing it, seemed to be the key to the volleyball team's success. Spirit within the girls also played a big part, as they ended their regular season with a winning record of $10-2$, and second in the NCC. In the sectional, the Trojan girls once again showed their ability as they were victorious over Blue River in the final game. Moving on to the regional, disappointment awaited them as they were defeated by No. 1 ranked Muncie North, who later went on to become the state champs.

Coach Glenda Gibson had a group of very talented girls to work with and will miss the six senior members who have been with her since their freshman year. But she is looking forward to next year and another fine season with many returning players. Two senior members, Les Hill and Wendy Wilson, had the honor of being named all-conference for their ability and hard work all season.
The reserve team, coached by Colleen Cotrell, certainly showed their improvement and promising ability with a record of 9-3. All the members will be returning next year, some moving up to varsity where they will join an already strong group.

With two Blue River girls facing her, Senior starter Lori Freeburg attempts to drive a spike between them.

When a spike can not be used to return the volleyball, the bump is used. Here, Wendy Wilson uses this method in hopes to score a point.

The 1977 Cross Country team posted a highly successful season with an 11 win, 4 loss record. The team was 6 th in the North Central meet, 2nd in the sectional and 10th in the regional. The team's best performance of the year came in the I.H.S.A.A. Regional when the Trojans placed 10 th and avenged two of its losses during the regular season to Muncie Central, 11th, and Madison Heights, 12th.
Senior Bill Retz, a transfer from Shenandoah, was the number 1 runner for the Trojans all season. He earned ALL NORTH CENTRAL CONFERENCE recognition by placing 8 th in the Conference meet and placed 4 th in the sectional.

out the season and finished the year as the Trojans' number 2 runner.

Senior Mike Schwinn, sophomore Roger Wallen, and freshman Andy Borders were the other Trojan runners in the top five on the varsity squad.

Seniors Steve Mitchell and Brent Sewell along with juniors Allen McGrew and Vincent Kinkade were also varsity runners who contributed strongly throughout the year.
The reserve runners also posted a winning record of 11 wins and 4 losses. Tom Koons, Richie Carnes, David Joyner, Jay Hall, and Jim Maze were members of the reserve squad. Coach Pryor anticipates another winning season next year with the return of many underclassmen.

To have a successful athletic program, a school must have at least three basic things. First, coaches are necessary who can give their time; secondly, athletes are needed who give 100 percent; and finally, someone must make sure every sport has the equipment they need, schedule all the meets, games or matches, and arrange for food and transportation for the out-oftown games. All of these tasks fell on the shoulders of two men - Athletic Director Frank Kovaleski, and his assistant, Horace Cook.

Among all of his expected duties, Mr. Kovaleski had several special events to take care of. One was New Castle Night at Market Square Arena in Indianapolis and another was the exhibition game at the Fieldhouse between the Milwaukee Bucks and the Indiana Pacers. Both events went over with little conflict, thanks to two very dedicated men.

Assistant Athletic Director Mr. Cook has made Mr. Kovaleski's job much easier as he serves as ticket manager.

The life of an athletic director is not an easy one as Mr. Kovaleski must assume many money problems involving several sports.

The Trojan football team seemed to be faced with problem after problem. It began with the loss of twelve seniors, seven of whom were all NCC picks. Then with only two weeks before opening day of practice, Coach Patterson left for Jeffersonville leaving the Trojans coachless. The School Board picked Coach Mark Surface from Logansport to take the position.

Coach Surface now had less than two weeks to prepare a team to defend its NCC crown. On August 8, there were seventy-seven Trojan hopefuls out for the team. As the two and three day practices began, many players dropped out. Coach Surface, realizing what he had to work with, began preparing for his first game with Rushville.

As is traditional, the football team had an intersquad game instead of a jamboree. In their game, the white totally dominated the green. Although both teams gained a little playing time and experience, the Trojans had lost starting slot back Gilbert Webb for the season in a freak accident. Webb injured his knee.

It was now time for the Trojans to go play a tough Rushville team. As it turned out the Trojans gave a dismal performance and were defeated $2-0$. Connersville was now the next match for the Trojans. Behind the running of Scott Pfenninger and Herbie Brown and the defense of Louie Hall, the Trojans bounced back and defeated the Spartans 1210. It now seemed that the Trojans were rolling along, moving into their first conference game with the Muncie Central Bearcats. In a rain soaked match, the Trojans soundly defeated the Bearcats 28-0. The Trojans now had a streak going, coming into the Richmond game. The Red Devils quickly jumped out in front and the Trojans were not able to bounce back and were beaten, 55-26. Although the Trojans were beaten, there were bright spots in sophomore quarterback Kevin Stephens and junior John Boyd. The next two matches the Trojans were beaten by Anderson, 43-6, and by Muncie South, 410.

With their record now 2-4 on the season, the coaches decided to change their offensive attack. They went to a split backfield and moved a man to the pro- position. This offensive move paid off as the Trojans defeated the eventual NCC champs Logansport.

The Trojans now were at home with Kokomo and lost a heartbreaker $34-28$, and next week traveled to Marion and were defeated 27-6. With the hopes of a NCC championship gone, the Trojans played their last game at home against the Lafayette Broncos. The Trojans came through remarkably on a second overtime pass to Jim Meyers to win 22-20.

The season ended with a 4-6 record and Jim Meyers and John Boyd were selected All-NCC.

The J.V. team ended 2-5 behind the new coaching staff of Harold Huffman and Ron Klenoski.

Hand signals are always important in football as Coach Randy Martin demonstrates some of his own.

Split end John Boyd, the Trojans' leading scorer, takes a pass for a long gainer against the Marion Giants.

In the spring of 1977, five varsity and four J.V. cheerleaders were elected for the upcoming 1977-78 year. To these girls, it was an honor, a responsibility, and a rewarding time. They started off by attending cheerleading camp at I.U., then practiced during the last half of the summer. Although sometimes leading yells in the pouring rain, or weather cold enough for long underwear instead of short skirts, the girls really enjoyed cheering, and it was worth it to them. They felt that it was important to support all the Trojan teams, and tried to do so. Promoting school spirit and enthusiasm was one of their main goals.

Varsity squad members were seniors Jana Crisp and Gaynelle Strauch; and juniors Tammy Mason, Susan Stawick, and Angie Fox. Junior Varsity cheerleaders were junior Tawnya Miller and sophomores Sherri Burton, Kim Frost, and Tracey Gerth. Both squads were sponsored by Gloria Castellucio.

For the second year in a row, Linda Stairs led her girls' basketball team to a sectional championship. As champions, the team had four selected to the all sectional team. In the regional, the Trojans didn't fare quite as well. They were beaten by a very tough third ranked Wes Del team.

In the regular season the girls fared a little better against ranked teams, beating a very tough Anderson team.

They also did very well against the Yorktown team, being beaten by three points instead of a 20 point spread as in games of the past.

For many, the high spot in the season was the victory over Blue River in the sectional. The girls put on a fine showing, winning with a score of 46 to 31 .
The end of the season brought disappointments with the loss of the two outstanding seniors, Les Hill and Lisa Thrall.

Being 6th person on the team never stopped Tracie Eversole. Here she slips by two defenders on her way to two more points.

Junior guard Kathy Bland drives down the floor on a fast break, trying to score before her opponents catch up to her.

This year intramurals were a true success with lots of enthusiasm and spirit at all the games. Mr. Jon Willis and Mr. Dennis Eller who were put in charge of the games were pleased with the turnout of interested students.

The league was split into eight individual teams this year. Captains were Cale Brumley, Herbie Brown, Gilbert Webb, David Coatie, Duane Alsip, Scott Pfenninger, Brian Ditton and Larry Reamer.

As the time neared when the tournament was to begin, it looked as if Webb's team would dominate the field. Some of the highlights of the year were Stacy Bugle's 58 points in one game to set a new intramural record for single game scoring for one person and Bill Retz's season average of 30 points a game.
As were many extra-curricular activities, the intra-mural basketball season was brought to a premature halt. The coal strike made it impossible for the teams to continue the regular season and have a tournament. So, the season came to an abrupt end without a champion.

In order for a person to shine in intramurals, he had to hustle. Stacy Buggle was a perfect example of this hustle.

The games got more difficult as the season went on, and the faces of Todd Witham and Tim Misner made this evident.

Being the last man to wrestle in every meet, John Carnes very often has the fate of the meet resting on his shoulders.

Conference champion Joe Stawick puts the final touches on another victim, in his quest for the state championship.

Position is the key factor in winning wrestlins matches. Kent Raines demonstrates this to his opponent.

When the New Castle wrestling team lost eight varsity members from its squad the hopes for a successful 77-78 season looked dim. This was only the beginning of the problems. Two months later Coach Lance Rhodes left to take over as head wrestling coach and assistant football coach at Hanover College.
The wolfpack was now lacking not only wrestlers, but also had no head coach. After several applications, Mike Morton, a former two time NCC champ and State place winner from Logansport, was chosen head coach with Ted Fitzgerald as his assistant.

As the season drew nearer, it seemed evident that underclassmen would play an important role in the season's success. Although the Trojans were weak in several spots, they did return with the likes of Joe Stawick at 98, Jay Taylor at 105, Frank Goertz at 126, Brent Sewell at 132, Kent Raines at 155 and Heavyweight John Carnes.

When the practices started, Coach Morton seemed to stress technique wrestling along with jogging and carrying wrestlers up and down the bleachers to keep in condition.

The season started with four straight victories over Rushville, Muncie North, Shenandoah and Madison Heights. It was now time for the Columbus Tourney, and the grapplers took second with first place finishes by Joe Stawick, Bryan Wilhelm, Frank Goertz, and John Carnes. The team now faced a strong Delta group and suffered its first and only set back of the year. They went on to defeat Anderson before the NCC meet.

This year's conference meet was held at Richmond. With team captains Goertz and Stawick taking first, the Trojans took the NCC title for the second consecutive year. Placing second in the meet were Taylor, Wilhelm, Raines, West, and Carnes. The wrestlers now finished out their regular season with an impressive 7-1 record by defeating Knightstown in their last dual meet of the season.
It was now time for the tournaments to start. The sectional came first as 12 out of 13 wrestlers took first. Winners were Stawick 98, Taylor 105, Wilhelm 112, Simmons 118, Goertz 126, Sewell 132, Harris 138, Weintraut 145, Raines 155, Dellinger 165, West 185, and Carnes HWT. Mike Key was runner-up.
The regional would be the toughest test that the wrestlers had seen thus far. As it turned out, the Trojans totally dominated the field of sixteen teams and took first by more than 60 points. This is the first Regional title ever won by a Trojan wrestling team. Consistency seemed to be the key as six Trojan wrestlers advanced to semi-state. Included in this group were Stawick, Sewell, West, Harris, Raines and Carnes.

As wrestlers advance, the competition becomes stiffer. Joe Stawick was the lone wrestler to come out with a first and advance to the state finals, John Carnes and Kelly West placed third as they both faced tough competition.
It was now Joe Stawick who was left to represent New Castle at the 98 pound division in the talent-filled state finals held at Southport High School in Indianapolis. Joe pinned his first opponent and advanced to the semi-finals where he faced Ackerman from Bloomington. From the beginning to the end of the match, it was close. The final outcome had Ackerman defeating Stawick by a 3-2 decision. Although this was his first defeat of the year, Stawick came back to win the match for third place with a first period pin.
This year's Junior Varsity team also had a very impressive season with only one defeat. Matt Malloy, Mike Key and Pete Stawick led the attack with a very balanced team.

If this year's group is any example of what New Castle can expect from a wrestling team, we should have successful seasons for quite a while with a strong group of underclassmen coming up.

Swimming is no easy sport, as any member of the girls' swim team well knows. The girls went through much pre-season training and weight lifting in order to be ready for their season opener against Richmond. Although it wasn't until the fourth meet into the season that a victory was recorded, it was an impressive and overwhelming one over Madison Hts., 103-67.

The next victory, and the most exciting one for Coach Cynthia Haggard and her team was defeating Connersville, 90-82, after finishing third behind them at the Richmond Invitational not long before.
The mermaids had two disappointing losses after the Connersville victory to Shelbyville and Muncie North, but came back t conquer Hagerstown, 116-54.

The regular season ended with tie, 84-84, with Greenfield, and record of 3-7-1 for the mermaids

Four girls had the honor, afte much hard work, to qualify fo State. Beth Conkin, Cindy Sahl berg, Alison Modaff, and Dee De Fox put forth a combined effort is the medley relay team, and De Dee Fox also competed in the 5 freestyle.

Coach Haggard and Asst. Coac Mrs. Lori Trobaugh were please with the team's great improve ment and for the many recor times that were lowered durin the season. With only two senior leaving, Alison Modaff and Elis Fike, the " 78 " season looks prom ising.

What New Castle has waited for since 1973, and Sam Alford since 1976, finally became a reality on the night of March 4. The Trojans couldn't have put forth a better effort through out the sectional to become the " 78 " champs on Saturday night. They played perhaps their best basketball of the season in routing Mount Vernon, 89-47, beating Tri High, $58-52$, and becoming the final victors over Union, 77-56. Support from the fans was overwhelming. Unlike past sectionals, the students formed a huge cheerblock using spirit towels, and probably the largest number of adult fans to see a New Castle tourney game in years was on hand.

The general feeling after the New Castle-Tri High game on Friday was that the Trojans would have to go up against Knightstown. But, a big surprise was ahead, as Union defeated them, 44-38. With two down and one to go, the Trojan fans could feel a victory ahead.
With Friday came excitement, "Farmers Day," impromtu pep sessions, yelling contests throughout the halls, and finally the much desired win over Tri High that night. The afternoon before the final game, a caravan of students and some adults went honking through the town with decorated cars to add the final touch to an already "psyched up" atmosphere. It was all worth it, as the almost six full sections of the N.C. fans saw the Trojan boys accept the trophy and cut down the nets. It was an especially happy time for seniors Randy Perdew, Tony Guffey, Brett Pheffer, and Chris Lacy. It could be said that Perdew, who had a rather inconsistent season, played the "games of his life" on both Friday and Saturday nights. "Thank God for Randy Perdew," Coach Alford said gleefully afterwards. Guffey definitely had a tremendous season, and with the help of Lacy and Pheffer, it will be a sectional championship that will stand out in the memory of all four players.

When last year's basketball season ended, Coach Alford and his two assistants Larry Meyer and Vance Meier anticipated a strong 77-78 season. They would return with four starters from last year's team, losing only Todd Thalls, Chuck Kern, and Jim Wilson.
This year's team returned with four seniors, Randy Perdew, Tony Guffey, Brett Pheffer, and Chris

Lacy. Perdew and Guffey were expected to be leaders not only physically, but mentally as well. The other two seniors, Lacy and Pheffer, made the Trojan bench a strong point to fall back on. Juniors Claude Davis, John Boyd, and Curt Bell rounded out the starting five along with Perdew and Guffey. Due to a leg injury, Davis saw limited action at the beginning of the season. Pheffer and sophomore Kevin Stephens were called upon to take up the slack.

The Trojans started out on a shaky note as they were defeated by Brookville in the opening game. They quickly regrouped as they defeated highly ranked Indianapolis Tech and NC rival Richmond in two superlative displays of basketball. As the Holiday Tourney approached, the Trojans' record was $3-3$ and $1-0$ in conference play. In the talent filled tourney, New Castle was defeated by Jeffersonville but came back to win its consolation match against Connersville. It was now time for the Trojans to play their NCC games. New Castle fell to Marion, lost a one point heartbreaker to Logansport, and defeated Lafayette by two. The Trojans lost the remainder of the conference games.

Senior forward Tony Guffey was not only a leader in points but also a leader on the floor.

With many new coaches, their first year is a year of trying out new ideas and building for the future. Mr. Kevin McNamee was no exception. In many of the other sports this year, team pride and goals were emphasized. Mr. McNamee was different in that respect. In his first year as coach of the "Green Tide" swim team, he deemphasized the team and put the emphasis on individual records and goals.

The team record somewhat reflected the coach's philosophy with three wins and six losses; but many of the swimmers broke personal records; and two, Chris Olsen and David Franklin, went to the state swim finals at the Culver Military Academy. David finished 13th in the 50 meter back stroke, and Chris had a disappointing 40 th in the diving competition.

Coach McNamee's first year with the Trojans was a learning experience for both himself and the athletes. It was "a very young team," which gained valuable experience. With the loss of only three seniors Olsen, Gilbert Webb, and Brad Burgner - McNamee expects a very strong team for next year and for a few years after that, too, with some promising underclassmen moving up.

Senior Chris Olsen dives his way into the state with near perfect dives like this one.

State competitor David Franklin has a "poolside chat" with first year coach Kevin McNamee.

Coming out of the turn, Brad Burgner thinks that maybe this is the last lap.

Becoming almost airborne, diver-swimmer Chris Olsen and team mate Brian Bunner hope to reverse the odds of the race in their behalf.

The Girls' Gymnastics Team was just one more of the many activities that the famous "Coal Strike of '78" affected. After only five meets, Coach Rae Kitchel was informed that the rest of the home meets and possibly the away meets would be cancelled. Despite these complications, the girls continued with their practices. But, the coal strike struck again as no lights were allowed to be turned on in the school. Trying to work out on the unevens and balance beam in the dark was a difficult task as the girls soon discovered. Team member Holly Poer stated that they did have the use of one flashlight though. (Tremendous help!)

It was a disappointing time for senior members Barb Thompson, Becky Carter, Holly Poer, Terri Ber-fanger, and Caryle Kinkade as they were not able to complete for a full season in their last year at CHS. But, all had three successful years behind them to be proud of.

Early in the season, Coach Kitchel became seriously ill and was hospitalized. A very concerned team was then coached by Anne Judd, her assistant. During her recovery at home, Mrs. Kitchel was making plans for the upcoming sectional and preparing her girls through letters and phone calls.

Even with the unfortunate circumstances of the season, the girls competed well in the meets that were held. Next year looks promising for the team as another coal crisis is certainly not expected and many members are returning.

The expressions on these girls' faces show the many emotions felt during a meet.

For the first year since 1961, the New Castle Trojan baseball team, the "Hooligans," shared a NCC baseball crown. This year, Bob Cronk's team shared the title with Logansport, Lafayette and Muncie Central.
The Trojans returned with eight senior lettermen, Keith Shadrick, Duke Hamm, Mike Gross, Dale Combs, Chris Sell, Ron Upchurch, Jack Riggs, Jim Atkinson and Kevin Hart.

The powerful Hooligans started their season out on a super note with two wins over Rushville and Connersville, behind the bat of Kevin Hart, Jim Atkinson, and Tony Guffey and the fine pitching of Keith -Shadrick. The Trojans then found themselves in a drought and lost to Knightstown and a tough seventh ranked Blackford squad.

The Hooligans entered their first NCC game with a record of $3-3$ against the Lafayette Broncos. They lost in a heartbreaker $2-1$. Bouncing back from their loss, the Trojans came on strong. They blanked the Richmond Red Devils 5-0 and defeated the Anderson Indians 7-4 behind a super team effort. The Trojans then travelled to Logansport where they were defeated $3-0$. The Trojans' next match was with the seventh ranked Muncie South team. The non-conference game was a doubleheader which the Trojans lost by close scores, 2-0, 3-2.

The Trojans now had three NCC games left. They defeated Marion by a score of $15-6$. They then won over seventh ranked Muncie Central, 4-3 behind Upchurch's triple, Lacy's homerun and Shadrick's pitching. The Hooligans were now left with one NCC game against a tough Kokomo team.

The game was by far the most important and turned out to be the most exciting. The game lasted for 12 innings, over three hours of hard baseball. The outcome was a $3-1$ win to give the Trojans a part of the NCC Crown. Duke Hamm had the game winning hit which drove Hart in.
The Hooligans then played in the Sectional where they were defeated by Tri High. When the season ended, the Hooligans had a share of the NCC crown and three players that were named all NCC - Keith Shadrick for pitching; Chris Lacy, catcher; and Kevin Gross, designated hitter.

Coach Tom Cory's reserves ended with a fine record of $8-2$. The team's batting category was filled by Louie Hall, Scott McWhorter and Claude Davis. The pitchers were Tony Roach, Claude Davis and Mike Kingsley.

The follow through is the key as Tony Gu gets another hit.

Early this spring, Coach Jerry Koger began to practice his golf team in preparation for the first meeting of the season, Connersville. The team lost a very close match with a score of 358 to 352 . The team then came back to win two straight home meets, beating Hagerstown and Madison Heights. The team then traveled to Muncie and in three days had two meets, playing Central and South on the same course. The Trojans then returned home and won two home meets in a row, downing Shenandoah and Connersville.

The linksmen had a very impressive home record of five and three. The over-all record of the team was five and nine.

Leading the Trojans this year were seniors Todd Thalls and Bill Hamilton, and junior Jeff Koger. They were the top finishers in many of the meets. The three other varsity members who played very well all season were senior Brian Hoke and juniors Steve Coleman and Mike Page. Page was given the honor of being most improved golfer on last year's squad. The honor of being number one player went to junior Jeff Koger.

Coach Koger was a little discouraged with his team's sectional play. He felt that the squad could have played much better and won it. One thing Koger was pleased with was the play of the freshmen on the team. Three who should help the team considerably are Doug Page, Tom Wright and Kris Kollmeyer.

To start out the track season last spring, Coach Wilbur Veach had 14 veterans. Among those returning were seniors Doug Morris and Craig McGrew, and junior Scott Pfenninger, who were the only Trojans to compete in the Hoosier Relays at I.U. Morris did the best of the three, bringing home a blue ribbon in the half mile.

Coach Veach then took his squad to Rushville to open up the regular season. Any doubts he had about his squad's depth soon diminished as they easily won 73 to 53 .

The team then went to Carmel for the Carmel Invitational. Although the team took sixth of eight teams, Veach still was pleased with the team's performance. The highlight of the meet for the Trojans was when Senior Doug Morris broke the school record in the halfmile with a time of $1: 57.1$, beating the old mark of 1:57.3 held by Darrell York in 1969. Capturing the only other first was Scott Raines. He won the shot put with a toss of $54^{\prime} 4^{1 / 4} 4^{\prime \prime}$, a personal best.

The next big test for the squad was the Muncie Relays. There, the Trojans made a very impressive showing, finishing third of eight teams. The only two teams to better them were host Muncie Central, and Kokomo. Finishing fourth was Richmond whom the Trojans had not beaten since 1973 .

With a smashing serve, Les Hill delivers the ball to her opponent.

A powerful backhand executed by Cari Fike causes problems for her opponent.

The Girls' Tennis Team, coached by Janet Manning, had a tremendous season with a record of nine wins and only two losses. The highlight of the season was bringing home the North Central Conference Championship. This was the first time in New Castle's history, that a girls' team has won the title. Leslie Hill took the number one singles NCC title, and Carol Davis won in number three singles. Cari Fike, playing number two singles, and the doubles team of Lisa Gehlert and Missy Maddox, also contributed greatly by adding points for the victory.

In sectionals, the Trojan Renegades placed second among 12 teams. Doing a great job for the team was Leslie Hill who, after winning the sectional, went on to place fourth in the tough regional tournament. Cari, Lisa, and Missy, with the same positions as in Conference, also showed good performances but lost in their final rounds to tough competition. The other doubles team of Jane Kern and Beth Conkin finished in fourth place.

Other member playing for the Trojans throughout the season were Chris Johnson, Alison Modaff, and Mary Atkinson, all first year players.

Several individual performances highlighted the 1977 Girls' Track season, as six new school records were set. In hurdles, it was Shelly Arnold with a time of 11.9; Pam Rhodes in shot put with a distance of $35^{\prime} 10^{1 / 2}{ }^{\prime}$; Penny Bowman, $15^{\prime}$ in long jump; Angel Phelps in the 100 yard dash, time of 11.8; Gay Strauch with the time of $2: 42.6$ in the 880 ; and Cindy Rummel in the mile, time of $6: 17.5$.

Five individuals and two relay teams qualified for the Sectional meet. The Trojan girls finished 13th of 21 teams competing. This is the best finish in the three years they have participated. Scoring for the Trojans were Angel Phelps, second in the 100 yard dash and Pam Rhodes who finished sixth in shot put. Phelps was the only member to qualify for the Regional.

The team also finished sixth in the North Central Conference meet. Despite a record of only two wins and five losses, Coach Gloria Castelluccio was pleased with the girls' fine efforts and enthusiasm.

As Cliff Ziebold stretches to return a volley, partner Phil Jones charges the net.

This year's tennis team which compiled a 6-10 record, was a very young one as the Trojan netters returned with only five lettermen and no seniors. Coach Bill Walker had his team out during the long hot days of August preparing for their first match by running three miles a day.
The team's single spots were filled by Cliff Ziebold, Phil Jones, and John Lines. Also seeing quite a bit of singles action were Chad Keesling and Matt Maloney. The doubles were played by Tim McMullen and David Mogle at the number one spot and Jim Hamm and John Garner at the number two spot.
Lines had the best record for singles while McMullen and Mogle had the best doubles record.
The netters gained not only in experience but also in maturity and they will return next year with the same team. The returning members feel that they will be strong contenders next year. Several of the members will be taking lessons at the Muncie Racquet Club to keep in shape during the off season.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The members of the 1977-1978 Rosennial Staff would like to thank Ed Espey and Robert Holt of the American Yearbook Company. We would also like to extend our sincere thanks to Miss Frances Halberstadt for all the time, help and guidance she gave us. Headline type for the 1978 Ro-sennial was Prestype. Additional pictures were taken by Ernest Klotsch of The Courier Times, Bill Walden, Kenneth Catron, Reid's Studio, and John Cassidy. Ideas were based on information received at Ball State Yearbook Workshop.

Rosennial advisor Miss Frances Halberstadt was surprised with the roses she received at the annual Rosey-Phoenix banquet.

THE BLIZZARD OF ${ }^{\circ} 78 . .$.

Parking was free uptown if you could fir space. Parking meters were up to their slots in snow as shown by this meter near Methodist Church.

Someone forgot to tell Alan Broyles th was the middle of winter. He was caught ning himself on a wintry day by one of Rosennial's sneaky photographer.

DNE TO BE REMEMBERED

One lone pedestrian finds the streets deserted as she makes her way down the narrow path of a once busy sidewalk.

S didn't escape the blizzard's fury. Snow n city streets was dumped in the parking

New Castle was used to snow and ice, but the blizzard that hit the city on Wednesday, January 25 , was a little more than people could handle.
Snow began falling at about 7:00 P.M. just after a moderate rain. Snow fell at a rate of about an inch per hour and by Thursday evening about 20 inches lay on the ground. Winds up to 70 mph blew the snow into drifts as high as 15 feet.
CHS and all the surrounding schools closed as well as local businesses and city offices. Cars were buried in drifts and snow blocked doors of residences. The wind chill factor was 49 below zero, and frostbite was certain for any who dared to go out. Those who did attempt to leave their homes found streets impassable or they got stuck and had to be rescued by National Guardsmen.

The blizzard of 1978 caused some deep sadness and even some history in New Castle. One tragic story was of one-year-old Timothy Kimble. When Mrs. Kimble took little Timothy out and attempted to go to a neighbor's house she found that she could not make it and tried to return home. When she tried to open the door of the mobile home, she discovered it was frozen shut. When she finally got it open Timothy was dead. Another phennomenal occurance was the closing down of the COURIER TIMES. The paper did not publish for the first time.
The blizzard of ' 78 was an experience that all will remember. The snow, cold and feeling of helplessness showed many how lucky they really were. Many even sported "I survived the blizzard of ' 78 ' $t$-shirts.

I've paid my dues time after time

Practice, hard work, and sweat all go into making champions. The song, "We Are the Champions," by Queen seems to put those thoughts all together.

It's been no bed of roses no pleasure cruise

WE ARE THE CHAMDIONS

nbers of the 1977-78 girls' basketball team pictured with the sectional trophy. This es the second year in a row.

With trophies won as State Debate Champs are Mark Garvin, Eric John and Coach Jim Robbins.

mwork paid off as the girls' volleyball 1 won their third sectional championship row.

The New Castle wrestling team won its sectional and then went on to win their first regional ever.

Senior Randy Perdew celebrates winning the basketball sectional by cutting down the net.

Showing spirit is John Cassidy, as he wears a weird hat for "Crazy Hat Day". The day was held to show school support for the winter athletics teams.

Crazy people
Helping out
Students just being themselves put it all together and we have CHS.
